Brother's Animal Sold For $423 In 4-H Cattle Show

LISBON — A Homeworth sister-and-brother team won grand champion and reserve champion awards for their steers Wednesday and received a total of $983 when the animals were sold at the 114th annual Columbiana County Fair.

Mary Lou Wallace, 11, whose steer took grand champion honors, received $560 for her 875-pound beef which was bought by the Superior Packing Co. of Canton for Theron's Food Co. on Route 164 south of Columbiana.

Fairgrounds Spigots Get Automatic Shutoff

The Lisbon Board of Public Affairs has installed automatic shutoff spigots at the County Fairgrounds in a move to avoid water waste caused by thirsty crowds at the fair.

In another conservation move, the race track is being watered by a Civil Defense tank truck which gets its supply from creeks near the village. Public Affairs officers said the village water situation "can get serious" because of the unusual drain on the deep wells imposed by fair activity.

Line Cleaning To Dry 'Lake' For Klondyke

A wet weather "lake" that has formed at Harvey Ave. and Putnam St., Klondyke, during every heavy rain for years will be eliminated soon when street department crews move in with the city's new sewer cleaning machine to eliminate the source of the trouble — tons of dirt and debris clogging a 24-inch line.

Winding up work on a sanitary sewer in the heart of the downtown area, Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin said today he expects the cleaning machine will begin work on the perennial Klondyke headache early next week.

The big pond that formed at Harvey and Putnam, Klondyke's main intersection, has been the source of constantly repeated complaints to Council and the administration for at least 10 years.

Attempts to clear up the trouble without specialized equipment proved futile. The blocked storm sewer was one of the main factors that prompted Council to approve purchase of the cleaning machine. Several investigations showed that the city could purchase its own machine for the price it would be forced to lay out

95 High Reached As Heat Stays On

The weatherman hit a homerun Wednesday but only groans came from his sweltering audience.

He had predicted a high of 95 degrees yesterday and that's exactly what Dam 8 registered from 1 to 2 p. m. as the prolonged heat wave reached a possible peak.

It was the second such torrid reading of summer — July 1 had a 95—but this spell is already the longest of the season and no break is likely before Sunday at the earliest.

The high mark was indicated when the mercury soared to 88 at noon; the 7-degree jump followed. It fell to 94 at 3 p. m. then dropped a degree or two hourly as storm clouds gathered with some wind.

East Liverpool got only a few drops of rain during the afternoon but there were showers in other communities. Widely scattered thundershowers are forecast for tonight and Friday but it will continue hot and humid.

The weatherman said today's high will range between 90 and 94 and tonight's low will be an uncomfortable 70 to 75. Last night's low was a warm 77. It had been 80 at midnight and 78 from 3 to 5 a. m.

Estimates Run As High As 40

Mexico Counts 10 Dead In Worst Quake Of Year

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Southern Mexico today counted at least 10 dead following the nation's worst earthquake of the year. Communications were still out to many points, and some estimates of the toll went as high as 40 dead.

The quake hit about 2:20 a.m., Wednesday, spreading destruction and panic across the six tropical states of Veracruz, Oaxaca, Campeche, Yucatan, Puebla and Tabasco. The heaviest shocks apparently were felt on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, narrowest Mexican point between the Gulf of Mexico and the Pacific.

Subterranean rumbles accompanying the earth shocks added to the panic.

Officials said the number of injured may reach 130, or more.

Jaltipan, a small town 25 miles from the Gulf Coast in southern Veracruz state, apparently was hardest hit. An official report said seven were killed there. But Pemex, the government oil monopoly, said its Jaltipan office reported 20 dead, 130 injured and between 60 and 80 per cent of the town's buildings damaged.

Acayucan reported two deaths and 40 injuries. An official report said there was another death at Chinameca and an undetermined number of Sayula.

Highways were cracked. Four wharfs at Coatazacoalcos were shaken into the Gulf of Mexico. Radio towers buckled. Railroad tracks were twisted over a wide area, halting traffic. Power, telegraph and telephone lines were down.

Heavy rain was falling in Loma Bonita, and scantily clad citizens were soaked as they fled into the streets and fell to their knees to pray.

18 Ohio Explorer Scouts In Quake Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Eighteen youths from suburban Upper Arlington were in the area of an earthquake in Mexico Wednesday, but all are now believed safe.

The boys are members of Explorer Scout Post 12 on a Mexican tour. A quake rocked parts of Mexico Wednesday causing widespread damage and casualties in the Gulf Coast area of the tropical Isthmus of Tehauntepec.

Furloughed Patrolmen To Return On Saturday

Patrolmen Howard W. Bosworth and Lloyd K. Garvey, who were furloughed in December when the police force was cut back as an economy measure, will return to work Saturday to fill vacancies, Safety - Service Director Joseph F. Ross said today.

The vacancies were created by the promotion of Patrolman Thomas Walker to lieutenant's rank and the recent death of Patrolman W. W. Dunn. Walker was elevated to succeed Lt. George B. Kidd, who resigned.

As furloughed officers, the two were entitled to the first job openings that occurred in their former rank.

After Talk With Adenauer

No Weakening Of Unity, Ike Says Of West Allies

Khrushchev Sends Note To Adenauer

Says Talks With Ike May Bring Solution To 'Differences'

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev says his talks with President Eisenhower may mean the start of gradual adjustment of outstanding differences between the Communists and the West. But he says Soviet opposition to Western ideas on German reunification haven't relaxed a bit.

The Soviet Premier in a new note to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said once more that the great powers should leave the reunification of Germany to negotiations between the East and West German governments.

Khrushchev sent his letter to Adenauer nine days ago but it was published only Wednesday night—apparently timed with Eisenhower's arrival in Bonn for talks with the West German chancellor.

The West contends that reunification must be worked out by the Big Four who led the fight against Hitler Germany and who divided Germany after the war. The Western Allies also refused to recognize the East German regime on an equal basis with the West German government.

But the Soviet Premier warned Adenauer against using West Germany's growing economic strength toward the building of military strength.

"If the Western Germans use all the economic potential and manpower resources of their country for creating the most powerful army in Western Europe", he wrote, "even then the strength of that army would not be equal to the power of our army and that of the armies of our allies.

"Even together with its allies the Federal Republic of Germany would not be able to equal our strength."

Path For Road Gets Approval

Mayor Given Notice From Highway Head

State Highway Director Everett Preston has given official approval to the proposed route of the first stage of a freeway which will be built from the city limits in California Hollow to W. 3rd and Monroe Sts., Mayor Fred P. Lawrence was advised today.

The proposed route, explained at a public hearing at City Hall about a month ago, was made official when it was entered on the Highway Department's journal, the mayor was advised in a notice from R. A. Booth, administrator of contract sales for the department's division of design and construction.

The journal entry also provides officially for abandonment of the sections of present Route 30 that will not be used after the four-lane highway is built, Booth's notice said. When abandoned, the old sections of Route 30 will revert to East Liverpool's street system.

The notice from Booth listed the same legal description of the freeway route that was read at the public hearing here.

Police Making Certain Of Red Chief's Safety

For one thing, Police Chief William Parker says he will have a 70 or 80-page pamphlet of instructions printed and distributed to officers guarding the Soviet leader.

The pamphlet, Parker said, will include maps and a minute-by-minute timetable of Khrushchev's itinerary.

'Give Us Capitalism'

Rep. Hays Slipped Note By Russian

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio congressman reported Wednesday that a Russian slipped him a note at the U. S. fair in Moscow urging that communism be replaced in the Soviet Union by capitalism.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio), just returned from Moscow, said he probably answered questions of more than 10,000 Russians at the fair and that generally the people appeared contented.

But he said that at one point, while he was seated in an automobile on the fair grounds, a man emerged from the crowd and dropped a note in his lap.

Hays passed the note around to reporters at a news conference.

"Once more America is revealed! What do we want with communism? We want to live like America! Give us capitalism!"

Hays and a fellow member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R-Ohio), went to Moscow last week and spent three days at the fair.

The way he managed to talk to so many Russians, Hays said, was by having his interpreter approach a fair guide and introduce him. Then Hays would take over the guide's job of answering questions.

Invariably, he said, the crowds were friendly but curious, but sometimes there would be one man boring in on him with what Hays called party-line questions.

This usually got others in the crowd yelling at the man, "Shut up!", Hays said. If the man persisted, Hays said, four or five others would throw him out bodily.

Hays said he was tremendously impressed with what he termed the vast changes that have taken place in Russia since he visited Moscow four years ago.

The people were better dressed, he said, and, instead of avoiding him, were eager to talk.

As a measure of Russian prosperity, Hays said, he had to wait in a long line at a restaurant he described as Moscow's swankiest.

The food, he said, was excellent, and cost him $7 in American money.

But the place didn't look like a plush New York spot by any means, he said. The customers were tieless and in shirtsleeves.

"It looked like a beer joint in my district on Saturday night," Hays said.

War Or Peace In Asia?

Red China Admits She's In Deep Economic Trouble

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China has publicly admitted she is in deep economic trouble at home. Does this mean war or peace for Asia?

After a secret meeting of the Communist Central Committee earlier this month, Peiping announced Wednesday that production last year was far less than previously announced. As a result, earlier production goals set for this year were cut drastically.

With his agricultural and industrial program for 1959 in admitted jeopardy, logic would seem to indicate that Mao Tze-tung will avoid an expensive shooting war in Asia.

This could mean a period of calm in the Formosa Strait. For 10 days Communist guns, which for a year have bombarded the Nationalist offshore Quemoy Islands, have been silent.

But Mao also believes fear and hatred supply more adrenalin to overworked peasants and laborers than do peace and good will. While seeking to avoid a hot war off his coast, the Chinese leader might try to instill a sense of urgency in this hard-pressed people by continuing to wave the danger flag over little Laos.

He might even encourage some limited shooting. Using his Communist Vietnamese allies, this would cost him little in men or money. And he could continue his propaganda picture of the United States as an imperialist enemy, threatening Chinese security with machinations in Laos.

U.S. Boosts Aid To Laos After Appeal

Light Equipment Due With Hope It Can Cope With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — American aid in increased amount was earmarked for Laos today amid hopes that the tiny kingdom's own troops can cope with Communist attacks.

The State Department announced Wednesday the U.S. step-up in aid—following an urgent appeal from the Laotian capital of Vientiane—in order to boost the size of Laos' 25,000-man army and supply it with light equipment ranging from small arms to tents.

The United States already has been pouring in aid at the rate of about 30 million dollars this year, two-thirds of it to take care of the Laotian army payroll.

How much more money will be added, and how big a Laotian army and local police force will be subsidized, was not disclosed. The Southeast Asian county had about 30,000 men in its army when the 1954 Geneva armistice ended the Indochina war. Its local village militia total 16,000.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton (D-NY), a member of the House Armed Services Committee, urged that America send Marines to Laos and station an aircraft carrier in the area.

State Department press officer Lincoln White, however, said he knows of no plan for intervention by American troops or by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

The SEATO defense organization which includes the United States and seven other nations with Southeast Asia interests was scheduled to meet here in unusual session late in September. But officials hoped the heavier U.S. aid, plus some U.N. support sought by Laos, would take care of the Red menace.

Begins His Man-To-Man Diplomacy

To End Bonn Talks Today, Then Depart For London Parleys

BONN, Germany (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he sees no weakening of Western unity. He had a long talk with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, then met newsmen on this first working day of his new venture in man-to-man diplomacy.

Eisenhower said he believes Adenauer shares his view that the President's coming talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may "melt a little of the ice" in the cold war.

"I think so," the President said in response to a reporter's question. "At least that was the impression I got."

As to whether the, 83-year-old German leader indicated any misgivings about the Soviet-American talks, Eisenhower replied: "I will certainly say I saw no indication of that."

Eisenhower talked with Adenauer 2¼ hours. Only an interpreter was present during more than half the meeting.

The President leaves for London late today for five days of talks with British leaders. He will wind up with two days in Paris.

In response to a question, Eisenhower said he and Adenauer discussed no new proposal for settling the dispute over Berlin.

He was asked whether he and Adenauer discussed problems dealing with France.

"We have to talk about France because we are talking about NATO. And France is a very important part of NATO. So I can assure you that we talked about France very considerably," he replied.

Again Eisenhower provided no detail. France is expected to demand a larger role in NATO when Eisenhower opens his talks in Paris.

Eisenhower came to Europe against a background of reports of disunity among the Western Allies on how to deal with the Soviet Union.

Asked whether he had seen any evidence of a weakening of unity, Eisenhower replied forcefully that he has not.

He added that on the contrary he has not "heard one single dissident word" that would indicate any deterioration of Allied firmness.

Steel Walkout In 44th Day; 'No Progress'

NEW YORK (AP)—No hope was seen for an early settlement of the nationwide steel strike as it went into its 44th day today.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union of America, warned against "false optimism when none is warranted."

McDonald said: "I feel compelled to deny once again that there is agreement near between the union and industry on any issue, economic or otherwise. It is cruel and inhuman to buoy hopes on the basis of rumor and conjecture."

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was equally pessimistic.

Asked whether an early settlement was in prospect, Finnegan said "by no means."

Finnegan and McDonald made their statements to newsmen after McDonald returned to the negotiations here Wednesday.

Finnegan described Wednesday's session thus:

"The parties promptly got down to businesslike review of the material which the subcommittees had been going over for the past 2½ weeks. By the end of the day a substantial portion of the material had been covered."

Police Making Certain Of Red Chief's Safety

For one thing, Police Chief William Parker says he will have a 70 or 80-page pamphlet of instructions printed and distributed to officers guarding the Soviet leader.

The pamphlet, Parker said, will include maps and a minute-by-minute timetable of Khrushchev's itinerary.

War Or Peace In Asia?

Red China Admits She's In Deep Economic Trouble

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China has publicly admitted she is in deep economic trouble at home. Does this mean war or peace for Asia?

After a secret meeting of the Communist Central Committee earlier this month, Peiping announced Wednesday that production last year was far less than previously announced. As a result, earlier production goals set for this year were cut drastically.

With his agricultural and industrial program for 1959 in admitted jeopardy, logic would seem to indicate that Mao Tze-tung will avoid an expensive shooting war in Asia.

This could mean a period of calm in the Formosa Strait. For 10 days Communist guns, which for a year have bombarded the Nationalist offshore Quemoy Islands, have been silent.

But Mao also believes fear and hatred supply more adrenalin to overworked peasants and laborers than do peace and good will. While seeking to avoid a hot war off his coast, the Chinese leader might try to instill a sense of urgency in this hard-pressed people by continuing to wave the danger flag over little Laos.

He might even encourage some limited shooting. Using his Communist Vietnamese allies, this would cost him little in men or money. And he could continue his propaganda picture of the United States as an imperialist enemy, threatening Chinese security with machinations in Laos.

U.S. Boosts Aid To Laos After Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — American aid in increased amount was earmarked for Laos today amid hopes that the tiny kingdom's own troops can cope with Communist attacks.

The State Department announced Wednesday the U.S. step-up in aid—following an urgent appeal from the Laotian capital of Vientiane—in order to boost the size of Laos' 25,000-man army and supply it with light equipment ranging from small arms to tents.

The United States already has been pouring in aid at the rate of about 30 million dollars this year, two-thirds of it to take care of the Laotian army payroll.

How much more money will be added, and how big a Laotian army and local police force will be subsidized, was not disclosed. The Southeast Asian county had about 30,000 men in its army when the 1954 Geneva armistice ended the Indochina war. Its local village militia total 16,000.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton (D-NY), a member of the House Armed Services Committee, urged that America send Marines to Laos and station an aircraft carrier in the area.

State Department press officer Lincoln White, however, said he knows of no plan for intervention by American troops or by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

The SEATO defense organization which includes the United States and seven other nations with Southeast Asia interests was scheduled to meet here in unusual session late in September. But officials hoped the heavier U.S. aid, plus some U.N. support sought by Laos, would take care of the Red menace.

7 Killed As Copter Crashes In Greenland

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—The 8th Air Force announced today that five passengers and two crew members were killed Wednesday when a helicopter crashed about 11 miles north of the Thule base in Greenland.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Steel Walkout In 44th Day; 'No Progress'

NEW YORK (AP)—No hope was seen for an early settlement of the nationwide steel strike as it went into its 44th day today.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union of America, warned against "false optimism when none is warranted."

McDonald said: "I feel compelled to deny once again that there is agreement near between the union and industry on any issue, economic or otherwise. It is cruel and inhuman to buoy hopes on the basis of rumor and conjecture."

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was equally pessimistic.

Asked whether an early settlement was in prospect, Finnegan said "by no means."

Finnegan and McDonald made their statements to newsmen after McDonald returned to the negotiations here Wednesday.

Finnegan described Wednesday's session thus:

"The parties promptly got down to businesslike review of the material which the subcommittees had been going over for the past 2½ weeks. By the end of the day a substantial portion of the material had been covered."

Former Ware Employe Dies

William Stone, 514 Market St., a retired potter, died this morning at 8:15 at City Hospital, after an illness of several weeks. He was 67.

He was born here, son of the late Henry and Lillian Bennett Stone. He was employed last as a jiggerman at the Homer Laughlin China Co. and retired in 1957. He was a member of the IBOP.

He leaves two sisters, Mrs. George Glaze of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Gail Nicholson of East Liverpool, and two brothers, James Stone and Paul Stone, both of East Liverpool.

Mrs. Mary Stoffel

Services for Mrs. Mary Agnes Stoffel, 656 Walnut St., will be held Friday morning at 9 at the Dawson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

She died Wednesday afternoon.

Kithrow Kittle

Kithrow (Kit) Kittle of Wheeling, brother of Harry L. Kittle and Milton Kittle, both of East Liverpool, died Tuesday at his home. He was 37.

He was born Feb. 10, 1922, in Martins Ferry, son of late John M. and Matilda Brubaugh Kittle, and was a veteran of World War II. He was a former employe of the Ackermann plant of the Wheeling Steel Corp.

He also leaves his widow, Mrs. Adelaide Heller Kittle at home; another brother, a daughter and a sister.

Climbs Highest Peak

COURMAYEUR, Italy (AP) — The youngest cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church has climbed Europe's highest mountain.

Julius Cardinal Doepfner, 46-year-old bishop of Berlin, climbed 15,781-foot Mont Blanc 11 days ago incognito with three other priests.

Radium Poisoning Claims Another Of The 'Living Dead'

CHICAGO (AP)—Another member of the so-called "Society of the Living Dead"—that doomed group of women who in the 1920s painted radium on watch dials—is dead.

Beatrice Workman, 54, of suburban Park Ridge died Tuesday. An autopsy Wednesday showed death was from radium poisoning.

Before her marriage in 1923, Mrs. Workman was one of a group of girls working at the Radium Dial Co. in Ottawa, Ill. It was their job to paint the numbers on watch faces with radium, so the dial would glow in the dark.

To keep the bristles pointed, the girls often licked the brush with their tongues before dipping it in a radium salt solution.

The Ottawa group totaled about 25 girls. How many still survive is not known. Hundreds of other women in similar jobs throughout the country also fell victim to the poisoning.

More than a dozen of the Ottawa group later sued for damages. The only one to win—Catherine Donohue—was dead before she could collect the $7,500 awarded her.

A year and a half ago, Workman said, his wife entered a hospital where a bone marrow sample indicated the presence of radium salts. She remained in the hospital until her death.

Ike

a question that he was unable to say whether his visit to Europe might result in new East-West talks on disarmament. He added that his advisers are constantly reviewing that situation — going over, as he put it, "any sins of omission or commission."

After the session the President returned to Adenauer's headquarters for lunch and a resumption of their talks in advance of Eisenhower's departure for London.

Adenauer has been pictured as less than enthusiastic about the Eisenhower - Khrushchev exchange. Some Germans feared a deal might be made behind their backs.

Before sitting down with Adenuauer in the gleaming white chancellery on the Rhine, Eisenhower drove through the U.S. Embassy's big housing development at Plittersdorf and paid a formal call on West German President Theodor Heuss.

As they had for his arrival in Bonn Wednesday, thousands of West Germans lined the streets to cheer the President. Beaming, he lifted both arms high time and again in greeting. The crowd cheered, beamed back, and waved little paper American and German flags and placards.

The President's 23-hour visit to Adenauer is the start of a whirl of conferences with Western leaders, set up to assure them they have nothing to fear from his meetings with Khrushchev.

From Bonn, Eisenhower flies late this afternoon to London for five days with British leaders. He will wind up with two days in Paris.

The advance word was that the conversations with Adenauer would concentrate on three questions: (1) Western unity, (2) Soviet aims and (3) global disarmament.

There are no major issues dividing the United States and West Germany. But there were plenty of inter-Allied differences for Adenauer and Eisenhower to talk about.

The French want to play a greater role in the direction of the Western Alliance. The United States so far has not been prepared to meet the French demands. Adenauer reportedly hoped to do some spadework on behalf of French President Charles de Gaulle.

On the other hand, the German chancellor is suspicious of the British, normally America's No. 1 partner in Western Europe. Adenauer is known to fear that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government is prepared to make concessions to the Soviets which the chancellor considers dangerous for the West.

Adenauer, like Eisenhower, is reported convinced the major hope for East-West accord lies in the field of disarmament. But he reportedly planned to warn Eisenhower against Soviet trickery in this area also.

Legion At Hookstown To Paint Post Home

Steve Belich will be in charge of th painting committee and Virgil Scepter, the lights. The meeting was moved up a day due to the opening of the Hookstown Fair.

The post organized a bowling team with Ralph Wells, Homer Matchett and Dick Trimble in charge. Purchase of mimeograph and addressograph machines was authorized.

Refreshments were served. Trimble, commander, presided. Next meeting will be Sept. 9.

Audience Waits 2½ Hours In Vain To Hear Castro

HAVANA (AP) — An audience waited patiently for 2½ hours Wednesday night to hear Fidel Castro speak. The Cuban Prime Minister sent word that he couldn't make it because of an "important reunion."

It was the second successive night Castro had canceled an appearance before the National Farm Homes Conference.

No reason was given.

Palace sources said Castro met late Tuesday night with high military leaders, including his brother Raul, commander in chief of Cuba's armed forces.

Mario Kuchilan, a columnist and television commentator close to Castro, said Wednesday night that "khaki uniformed groups" of 30 men each are known to be leaving Miami, Fla., at intervals for the Dominican Republic, which Castro has accused of plotting the recent abortive attempt to overthrow him.

Will Not Dodge Responsibilities, Gov. Faubus Says

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Although admittedly weary of school desegregation difficulties, Gov. Orval E. Faubus says he will not shrink from his responsibilities in any new school crisis.

Faubus said Wednesday he did not want to use his police powers again in dealing with integration strife.

"I have no desire to test my powers," he said. "But don't misunderstand me, I won't shrink responsibility that is mine to put down any disturbance."

Tension has risen over impending integration at the Dollarway School District, 42 miles southeast of here near Pine Bluff. Residents there have asked the governor to use all his powers to keep three Negroes from entering the 1,150-pupil all-white Dollarway School.

A federal judge has ordered the Negroes admitted when school opens Sept. 8. The school district appealed the ruling to the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis. A hearing is set for Monday.

Stand Against Photos In Court Due At Parley

A special committee was to report on its first year of work aimed at a possible modification of the stand.

The ABA, in Canon 35 of its code of ethics, advises judges not to permit picture-making in the courtroom on grounds it would detract from the dignity of the proceedings.

Television newsmen and press photographers have tried repeatedly to persuade the lawyers to modify the canon. The cameramen contend that modern photography techniques would in no way harm the dignity of the court.

Midget Car Raceway Authorized For Park

Permission was also granted the Melody Lane Skating Club of Hookstown for use of the park Tuesday for a corn roast.

Playground equipment will be taken down and stored in the basement of City Hall for the winter. It was reported that construction of the Community Building at the park is progressing. Block work has been completed and now workers are preparing to erect the roof.

Harold Dickey, chairman, presided. Next meeting will be Sept. 16.

Publisher Claimed

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Margaret Cobb Ailshie, 76, publisher of the Idaho Statesman newspapers, died Wednesday in a Boise hospital after a prolonged illness.

When her father Calvin Cobb died, she became publisher of the Statesman in 1929.

ATTENTION!

Ambulance calls will be handled by the Scanlon Ambulance Service, Inc., at Leetonia, telephone HAzel 7-2002.

We feel the new system will result in prompt, efficient service to the public since the agency will be concentrating solely on ambulance calls.

Increased costs of ambulances, maintenance and service makes a central ambulance service desirable and necessary, we believe.

Scanlon Ambulance Service agrees to provide complete ambulance and invalid car service and a home oxygen therapy service.

It is to begin operations with five ambulances equipped with two-way radios, and will operate 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Eventual plans are to station ambulances at strategic points throughout the area to cut time in answering calls.

We wish to thank the public for its support in the past, and hope for its understanding and cooperation in this new system.

It was the second successive night Castro had canceled an appearance before the National Farm Homes Conference.

No reason was given.

Palace sources said Castro met late Tuesday night with high military leaders, including his brother Raul, commander in chief of Cuba's armed forces.

Mario Kuchilan, a columnist and television commentator close to Castro, said Wednesday night that "khaki uniformed groups" of 30 men each are known to be leaving Miami, Fla., at intervals for the Dominican Republic, which Castro has accused of plotting the recent abortive attempt to overthrow him.

Will Not Dodge Responsibilities, Gov. Faubus Says

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Although admittedly weary of school desegregation difficulties, Gov. Orval E. Faubus says he will not shrink from his responsibilities in any new school crisis.

Faubus said Wednesday he did not want to use his police powers again in dealing with integration strife.

"I have no desire to test my powers," he said. "But don't misunderstand me, I won't shrink responsibility that is mine to put down any disturbance."

Tension has risen over impending integration at the Dollarway School District, 42 miles southeast of here near Pine Bluff. Residents there have asked the governor to use all his powers to keep three Negroes from entering the 1,150-pupil all-white Dollarway School.

A federal judge has ordered the Negroes admitted when school opens Sept. 8. The school district appealed the ruling to the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis. A hearing is set for Monday.

Stand Against Photos In Court Due At Parley

A special committee was to report on its first year of work aimed at a possible modification of the stand.

The ABA, in Canon 35 of its code of ethics, advises judges not to permit picture-making in the courtroom on grounds it would detract from the dignity of the proceedings.

Television newsmen and press photographers have tried repeatedly to persuade the lawyers to modify the canon. The cameramen contend that modern photography techniques would in no way harm the dignity of the court.

Midget Car Raceway Authorized For Park

Permission was also granted the Melody Lane Skating Club of Hookstown for use of the park Tuesday for a corn roast.

Playground equipment will be taken down and stored in the basement of City Hall for the winter. It was reported that construction of the Community Building at the park is progressing. Block work has been completed and now workers are preparing to erect the roof.

Harold Dickey, chairman, presided. Next meeting will be Sept. 16.

Publisher Claimed

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Margaret Cobb Ailshie, 76, publisher of the Idaho Statesman newspapers, died Wednesday in a Boise hospital after a prolonged illness.

When her father Calvin Cobb died, she became publisher of the Statesman in 1929.

ATTENTION!

Ambulance calls will be handled by the Scanlon Ambulance Service, Inc., at Leetonia, telephone HAzel 7-2002.

We feel the new system will result in prompt, efficient service to the public since the agency will be concentrating solely on ambulance calls.

Increased costs of ambulances, maintenance and service makes a central ambulance service desirable and necessary, we believe.

Scanlon Ambulance Service agrees to provide complete ambulance and invalid car service and a home oxygen therapy service.

It is to begin operations with five ambulances equipped with two-way radios, and will operate 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Eventual plans are to station ambulances at strategic points throughout the area to cut time in answering calls.

We wish to thank the public for its support in the past, and hope for its understanding and cooperation in this new system.

Quiet: Man Working For Peace

It is strange when you think about it that so many people who talk about peace are complaining because President Eisenhower is willing to work for it.

They almost seem to be afraid he might succeed.

If he did succeed, some of them would be deprived of their only visible excuse for being alive — their gnawing fear and hatred of everything they do not understand.

There are people who spend their lives mistrusting everything, being cynical about everybody's motives and preaching the Golden Misrule: Do unto others what you're pretty darned sure the others are going to do unto you — but do it first.

Dwight Eisehower isn't one of them. He never was, and as he has grown older, he has mellowed. Though a professional soldier, he is not ashamed to say he has dedicated his life to peace. Though a man of the world, he is not afraid to take a chance on working for peace, despite the unfavorable odds.

HE KNOWS how unfavorable the odds are. The late John Foster Dulles told him. Everybody he ever listened to has told him. History has told him.

Newspaper editorialists and electronic commentators are telling him.

An outfit signing itself "Committee Against Summit Entanglements" is telling him over the signatures of some of his hostile fellow Americans who would like to dice him up and eat him for breakfast.

His one - time commander-in-chief, Harry Truman, has been telling him, saying it will hurt the prestige of the presidency to exchange visits with the premier of Russia. This from a man who handled the presidency like a patronage dispensary was especially hard to take.

"I get a little weary about people who just say, 'Well, this would be a terrible blow to presidential prestige," the President snapped at his press conference the day before flying to Europe to soothe some of the anxieties that have broken out abroad. "We are talking about the human race and what's going to happen to it."

We do not plan to demand the beginning of presidential impeachment if Dwight Eisenhower cannot charm Nikita Khrushchev into giving up his ambitions and his tactics. That is not the issue anyway.

No one is going to change Khrushchev's mind about anything. But until someone with enough wit to quit holding the man at arm's length tries to learn what is making him tick, there isn't even an outside chance of reaching the kind of an understanding that would come closer to peace than anything men have dreamed of for centuries.

IT WOULD BE an understanding that international competition and ideological competition, which is pust as real, would be confined in the future to nonmilitary activities for the reason that nuclear destruction has made militarism a barren instrument of policy.

The Soviet Union has been hinting broadly that it is interested in this possibility. The United States is interested. Its allies are interested, and Russia's allies are interested.

Competition is a fixed condition of existence on the earth — a natural law. In many fields of endeavor, competitors are able to agree on the terms of their competitive efforts. Perhaps the United States and Russia can agree to compete without recourse to war.

President Eisenhower is looking for a way to make such an agreement. If Premier Khrushchev is looking for the same thing, peace is possible. The game is worth the candle. The search is worth the possibility of failure.

Ignorance Of Finance Is No Excuse

Robert B. Anderson, secretary of the treasury, is one of the ablest financiers in the United States. Though he has specialized in public finance and government, private financiers have the utmost respect for his opinion. He is a realist with a thorough understanding of the problems of politicians.

Nevertheless, at this moment he is at such serious cross-purposes with Congressional politicians that he would be forced to resign if the United States had a parliamentary government. The politicians will not let him do what he knows to be essential in his job of handling the public debt. He has made every reasonable approach he knows how; the politicians are adamant. President Eisenhower, who appointed him, has asked for cooperation from the politicians.

The question is whether Congress will get rid of a 1918 law forbidding the U.S. Treasury to pay more than 4¼ per cent on securities issued for terms of longer than five years. Without ability to finance the topheavy national debt with more long-term securities, the Treasury will be in trouble. It will have to pay higher interest rates on short-term securities.

President Eisenhower and Secretary Anderson say this is the most important business before Congress. But the Democratic leaders of Congress, fearing a party-splitting battle if they make an issue of it, seem inclined to pigeonhole the matter until some future date. What does Secretary Anderson believe is the reason for their attitude?

His summation, as given to U. S. News World Report, is Congressional ignorance of the working of the money market: "I think there is some misunderstanding that when you take off what is a statutory ceiling of the coupon rate of interest that the government can place on certain securities—there is a feeling that this is legislating interest rates up. This is simply not so. It is simply allowing the government to compete in the market for long-term securities, like every other borrower, because today our long-range securities, in several instances, are yielding more than 4¼ per cent."

Thus, one of the best qualified men in the country is set at nought by some of the least qualified, which is one of the quirks of representative democracy that puzzles even those of us who are confident it has no equal.

When government has access to the best intelligence there is, why should it be at the mercy of some of the worst on how to finance the public debt, which in itself is no monument to political sagacity?

When It Used To Be Hotter

There is a growing minority of Americans, bless their open pores, capable of charging inhumane practice if they are not air-conditioned while they work.

Detroit even has added this boon to automobiles. Everybody who is anybody either is keeping cool or getting hot because his cooler is temporarily out of order.

The time is in sight when no one will need to know that summer has come and gone, except for the leaves on the trees and the sight of bare legs in the stores.

In that respect, no one can deny that it used to be hotter than it is now when it got hot. There were no electric fans, no ventilating systems, no universal refrigeration and, of course, no air-conditioning.

It's hard to believe, but people used to perspire without being classified as social pariahs. They did it without benefit of antiperspirants, dry cleaning and drip-dry clothing.

They fanned themselves with crude fans made of palm leaves. They cooled off by drinking water that had been kept from reaching room temperature. There were no ice cubes, except the ones made by nature and stored for use in the warm season in 150-pound sizes. Ocean-going ships used to haul cargoes of ice halfway around the world; ice was a semi-precious commodity.

It's something to think about in case the air-conditioner goes on the fritz for a few minutes. Suffering is relative. No one today can know how hot it was when keeping cool was only a wishful thought.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

To supplement regular anesthetics, a Long Island dentist uses TV programs. (This can kill pain!!!(

It struck us that screen violence could make dental office suffering seem trivial, so we tried it out. Our dentist put on a "western." (We are always jumpy in a dentist's chair.) As he reached for his instruments, we became a little noisy. "Quiet. Indian country!" he warned.

He started his drilling machine but we were still highly nervous despite the TV. "Don't be frightened" said the doctor. "The U.S. Cavalry is on the way to the rescue."

"You're drilling too deep," we protested.

"If you think you're in a tough spot look at the screen and see those helpless people in the ambushed stagecoach," he said.

"They have scouts and sharpshooters to protect 'em," we replied.

"The last time you were here you didn't complain so much. What did I give you then?" he asked.

"You gave me a 1949 movie and it certainly put me to sleep," we said.

The dentist said he had one patient he put into such a deep slumber by an old movie that he was able to remove uppers and lowers before he knew it. We suggested that he try a jackpot program on us.

"They give me trouble. I had a housewife yesterday who seemed calm enough while contestants lost nothing but percolators but got violent when one lost a mink coat on an easy question," he said.

The dentist added that he once gave a patient a West Point film but that it was a big mistake as the fellow had just had a half hour's drilling job. We were extra jittery by now and found he was working on the wrong tooth anyhow.

"Sorry. Suppose we try a Sherlock Holmes telecast?" he suggested.

SECRETARY MITCHELL'S report in the steel strike boils down to a decision that both the employer and the workers are eating high off the pigiron. It can all be solved by eliminating the human instinct for second helpings.

"Love & Money" is the title of a new book. Why doesn't the author pick a subject in which people are interested?

The woman who swam around Manhattan Island the other day has announced her engagement to marry. (Anything can happen after a girl gets through those Hell Gate waters.)

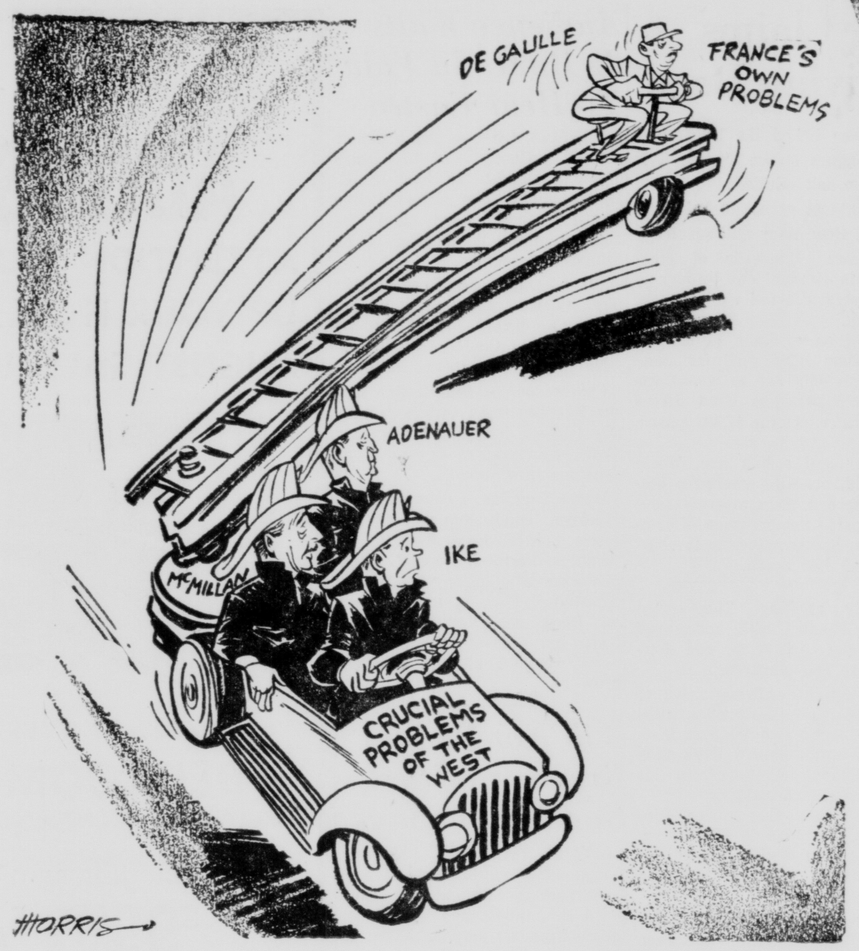
Irrepressible Backseat Driver



The Real Issue Behind Steel Talks

By Victor Riesel

Back is the wanderer, back to the asphalt jungle and two warring tribes of steel who are angry with a witch doctor named Jim Mitchell. It seems that the opposing steel strike believe the medicine man guessed wrong deliberately when he put a plague on both houses for allegedly not working hard enough to settle the billion dollar walkout.

Victor Riesel

Hard work is not the issue, an investigation reveals. The showdown between American industry and American labor all along the industrial front is the issue.

A steel strike when Khrushchev arrives is not the issue. There may be deadlocked grappling in five or six major basic industries slowing down the entire nation as Mr. K junkets through it.

Few leaders of labor or industry have worked harder and negotiated harder than the men of steel. There have been at least 85 major negotiating sessions at this writing.

THEY'VE NEGOTIATED to soporific fatigue. They've negotiated themselves out. There have been sessions when they just sat and looked at each other silently for as long as a half hour. Just sat.

Other times they talked about their families or the ball season or even the weather to refrain from breaking up the meeting in the hope something would develop.

If Jim Mitchell or the White House believes those sessions will produce more than they have, despite the great and genial efforts of Federal Mediation Chief Joe Finnegan, they're mistaken. This is one-dimensional thinking — like Africans in the jungle who have no dimensional depth because they can't see ahead and have to count on their ears for survival.

Let's tear away some of the asphalt jungle foliage which has sprung up around the steel war headquarters in the Hotel Roosevelt in New York.

Here is the basic issue: For 25 years now, since the Roosevelt days, industry has been signing more and more complex contracts.

In the past, the steel companies and the steel unions would first discuss how much money there could be in increased wages.

Sometimes there's be a strike. But first there would be agreement on money. Then they'd write the contracts from September to December.

THE STEEL INDUSTRY has decided that it wants to revise the complex contracts before it offers any money.

In the past it was economics first and contract language last. Now this is being changed. The companies want it spelled out before they lay it on the line.

Otherwise, the industry charges, the union gets what it wants both ways. The union chiefs say that if they yield on the contract changes, they'll not only lose thousands of jobs as work rules are changed but they'll have to fight for more money, too.

So deep inside the Hotel Roosevelt the teams of industry experts sit with a two-or three-foot sheet. On it, running across the top, is the list of companies. Under each company is each firm's contract clause on some subject — say seniority or welfare insurance.

The industry team tells the union team of specialists this is how the corporations want the clause changed. The union experts listen and tell them they'll see. Each side then goes back to their top leaders for policy talks. Each change is vital. Each change means millions. Each penny increase now means 17 million dollars a year more, the industry claims.

And that's only to discover where they disagree. They may not agree for months. Not only inside steel but inside the copper, aluminum, meat packing and rubber industries and on the railroads and the Eastern waterfront and in the shipbuilding yards and textile plants.

Industry has decided to bend an era. It must be shifted in another direction, businessmen say. They have decided to take unions on all along the line. This has long been the talk at the Department of Commerce's Business Advisory Committee made up of top corporation presidents and board chairmen. It has been labor's era. Industrialists are saying the time has come for a change.

Red Dawn At Aswan

By Charles P. Arnot

CAIRO

The Soviet Union starts construction late this year on a permanent monument to Russian "friendship and cooperation" at the gateway to coveted Africa.

Eighty - three Russian experts and 14 million dollars worth of Soviet equipment will soon begin arriving in Egypt to launch the massive billion dollar Aswan High Dam — 17 times bigger than the famous Pyramids of Giza.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser is scheduled to lay the foundation stone on Dec. 28 for this "dream project" of the seven-year-old Egyptian revolution.

The first four-year phase of the giant irrigation and hydro-electric project 545 miles up the Nile from Cairo will clearly bear the imprint: "Made by the U.S.S.R."

The Kremlin has earmarked 100 million dollars for the biggest economic-aid project at has ever undertaken in this part of the world. The Soviets seem to be counting on getting every penny's worth in propaganda designed for the ears of millions of restive Africans.

EVER SINCE Nasser's recent verbal clash with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev over Communist infiltration of the Arab world, Egyptian enthusiasm for everything Russian has visibly cooled.

Egyptian engineers have emphasized at news conferences that "the door is still open" for other nations — presumably meaning Western — to participate in the project's second or important hydroelectrical phase.

The West Germans have confirmed an offer of 48 million dollars and the Egyptians have reported tentative aid offers from Italy, Japan and East Germany.

Neither Washington nor London has even mentioned the Aswan Dam since they suddenly withdrew their aid offers in 1956 in a squabble with Nasser who then nationalized the Suez Canal. It was this lightning chain of events that set off the whole Suez row and neaarly brought on global war.

Last year Moscow triumphantly announced itself as the West's successor and since then the Russians have given Nasser no chance to back out of any agreement — Communist infiltration or not.

Russia's heavy - handed propaganda directed at the African masses cites the Aswan High Dam as "proof" that Moscow provides economic aid to underdeveloped nations "with no strings attached." That's the kind of monument the Soviets want the Aswan Dam to be — a permanent Colussus demonstrating the glories and engineering magic of Communist Russia.

IT IS ESTIMATED that Nasser needs about 400 million dollars in hard foreign exchange out of the total cost of $1,120,00,000. Egypt provides the rest.

The first stage, scheduled for completion by late 1864, will cost 588 million dollars, including Moscow's promised 100 million. This phase will include blocking off the Nile and reclaiming two million acres of desert through irrigation. Nasser will thus be able to increase his food - producing area by about one-third.

In the second phase — scheduled to begin in 1962 and continue over six years — the irrigation projects will be completed and the dam will begin producing hydroelectric power for Nasser's new industrialization program. It is estimated that the cost of this phase will be 532 million dollars.

As many as 8,000 Egyptians will be employed and Nasser's experts figure that the completed project will increase the national income by nearly one billion dollars a year. The annual Egyptian national income is now estimated at about $2,800,000,000.

The head of Russia's High Dam Mission, Prof. Ivan V. Komzin, claims that Soviet modifications of the original Egyptian design will save 30 million dollars. The original plans were drawn by a British engineering firm in cooperation with the Egyptians and other non-Russian international experts.

The major change suggested by the Russians was the substitution of open canals for seven tunnels each 200 meters long. It was also agreed to proceed with the Russian proposal for reducing the size of the body of the dam itself.

Regardless of the reduction, the Aswan Dam will be one of the biggest single construction projects ever devised by man and will create the largest artificial lake in the world—some 30 miles long, backing about 150 miles into the neighboring Sudan.

On completion, the Aswan Dam will be 250 feet high at its center, stretching for more than three miles across the solid granite walls of the Nile Valley.

Ike Clears The Air

By David Lawrence

President Makes U.S. Purpose Quite Clear

President Eisenhower has put int perspective the purpose of his conferences with the heads of the Allied governments in Europe and also his reasons for the exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

David Lawrence

The President has no illusions about the difficulties that lie ahead but he feels it his duty to try hard to accomplish something for world peace. He recognizes the right of everyone who disagrees to voice his protest.

He insists that there can be no assurance of world peace until the "captive nations" have their freedom and the right to choose their own rulers.

Though well aware of the discouraging record of the past, Mr. Eisenhower is dedicated to the principle of trying by every means at his command to influence the Soviet government toward peace and general disarmament.

The President disclosed his ideas at the press conference he held just before getting ready to fly to Europe. It was a memorable occasion. For in the space of a few minutes Mr. Eisenhower epitomized American purposes and reiterated American ideals.

The nation's chief executive said explicity that his purpose in visit-French, Italian and West German governments was "to support Western unity in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression strength required for our common security."

TO THOSE who might have any idea that the people of the United States are so attached to their comforts and luxuries that they might yield to peace-at-any-price sentiment, the President had a significant answer that might well be pondered in Moscow. He said:

"I think that the strength of America is in its people and I believe that we can put it this way: I do not believe it's necessarily true for each of us that we could get up and, with Patrick Henry, say, 'As for me, give me liberty or give me death.' But I believe that basically this is what you might call our national spirit.

"I believe that the American nation will never surrender its liberties to any kind of outside threat or aggression — rather, they would die."

As a corollary to this expression of steadfastness, the President said he was going to Western Europe to meet with the British, French, Italian and West German leaders in order to have an opportunity "to reiterate jointly that regardless of pressure or inducement we shall never retreat from our ideals or principles or weaken in our resolution to remain secure as we continue our search for peace."

This reassurance would not have been necessary but for the widespread impression that the Khrushchev visit might result in some abandonment of American ideals.

MOST IMPORTANT among the President's comments, however, was his emphasis on the spirit of peoples and their power to determine their own fate. He said in answer to a question asked him about the "captive nations":

"America will never concede that there has been a sound, durable or working peace that could be called global until these nations have had the right to express their own convictions their own opinions and desires about their own fates, and then, as far as the United States was concerned, it would never cease to use every peaceable means — and I have always emphasized that word 'peaceable' to give them such an opportunity."

The President stated the case even more comprehensively when he referred to the self assertion by peoples of underdeveloped countries. He said:

"Two billion people are going to find some way of expressing their convictions that they do not have to live in conditions that are completely unsatisfactory by any minimum standard that we set up for humans and unless the civilized world — not just ourselves, but the civilized world — is willing and ready to share in the burdens of making it possible for these people to achieve progress in this area, this world is going to have tough going."

LAST BUT NOT LEAST, the President showed that he has no objection to the expression of orderly protests at the time of the Khrushchev visit. He said:

"The mere fact that a number of people have opposed this idea publicly and through advertisements — that, to my mind is one of the lessons he (Khrushchev) can learn. We don't resent it. Everybody in this country is able to make his own convictions and his own opinions and he is certainly at liberty to express them. And I think it is one of the fine lessons that he (Khrushchev) can learn and it may have some effect."

This is but another way of saying that maybe, after all, there will be some pluses to the Khrushchev visit — if the Soviet Premier learns that Americans stand unflinchingly for the right of free expression and the right of self determination of all peoples. Without the Krushchev visit, there would never have been such a dramatic opportunity for the kind of debate on freedom and human liberty that the world is to witness in the next few weeks.

Sunlit Beach In Offing?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

As President Eisenhower began slogging through the dismal swamp of international relations today, mankind followed in his steps, hoping that somehow he could lead the way to a sunlit beach.

No one knows better than he the task before him: somehow working out with West Europe's leaders and later with Premier Nikita Khrushchev some solution to what has divided the world into two armed camps, hissing at each other.

It may be an impossible task for him—or anyone else—at this moment in history. No wonder he has tried hard not to raise false hopes about his efforts.

His reception Wednesday in Germany, where once he entered as a conqueror but now as an ally, was perhaps the greatest in his career. It was testimony to the high and warm regard in which Europe and perhaps even the Soviet Union still holds him.

But there was more than regard in the cheers which Eisenhower himself called "overwhelming and magnificent." There was hope that he might produce the key to the icebox in which the cold war has kept the world for 14 years.

To himself Eisenhower was probably saying: "I hope they are right."

He can remember another journey made by another president, Woodrow Wilson, years ago, and the thunderous, almost frenzied, greeting given him when he landed in Europe after World War I.

The Europeans looked to Wilson as the man of good will who would fashion a peace which would let all other men sleep quietly at night for generations.

But it became a dismal peace, hardly more than a breathing spell for regroupings before the next war. He lived long enough to die disillusioned. By then the Europeans were disillusioned, too.

The forces Wilson had to contend with—at home and abroad—were too much for him. He was idealistic. They weren't. If today Europe looks more idealistic, it may be an optical illusion.

The same force at work there today — nationalism — frustrated Wilson. If Europe sounds more willing for peace it is because of the realism forced upon it by the new weapons might mean annihilation in a third war.

The United States is nationalistic, too. So is the Soviet Union. So is Red China. So are the satellies. The world hasn't passed out of its era of nationalism—yet. Eisenhower knows that, too.

So in talking with West Europe's leaders, America's allies, Eisenhower is talking with men who may have a sincere dedication to peace but each of whom is thinking in terms of his own country first.

Eisenhower has to think that way, too. So does Khrushchev.

Europe, and maybe even the U.S.S.R., looks upon Eisenhower as a man of good will.

But there are differences among the Allies, which he will try to bridge over. He must pledge to them he will make no secret deals with Khrushchev.

If he and Khrushchev ever do agree on answers that might melt the cold war, they won't have much meaning unless the allies with whom Eisenhower is talking now can submerge their own nationalism long enough to approve, too.

Quiet: Man Working For Peace

It is strange when you think about it that so many people who talk about peace are complaining because President Eisenhower is willing to work for it.

They almost seem to be afraid he might succeed.

If he did succeed, some of them would be deprived of their only visible excuse for being alive — their gnawing fear and hatred of everything they do not understand.

There are people who spend their lives mistrusting everything, being cynical about everybody's motives and preaching the Golden Misrule: Do unto others what you're pretty darned sure the others are going to do unto you — but do it first.

Dwight Eisehower isn't one of them. He never was, and as he has grown older, he has mellowed. Though a professional soldier, he is not ashamed to say he has dedicated his life to peace. Though a man of the world, he is not afraid to take a chance on working for peace, despite the unfavorable odds.

HE KNOWS how unfavorable the odds are. The late John Foster Dulles told him. Everybody he ever listened to has told him. History has told him.

Newspaper editorialists and electronic commentators are telling him.

An outfit signing itself "Committee Against Summit Entanglements" is telling him over the signatures of some of his hostile fellow Americans who would like to dice him up and eat him for breakfast.

His one - time commander-in-chief, Harry Truman, has been telling him, saying it will hurt the prestige of the presidency to exchange visits with the premier of Russia. This from a man who handled the presidency like a patronage dispensary was especially hard to take.

"I get a little weary about people who just say, 'Well, this would be a terrible blow to presidential prestige," the President snapped at his press conference the day before flying to Europe to soothe some of the anxieties that have broken out abroad. "We are talking about the human race and what's going to happen to it."

We do not plan to demand the beginning of presidential impeachment if Dwight Eisenhower cannot charm Nikita Khrushchev into giving up his ambitions and his tactics. That is not the issue anyway.

No one is going to change Khrushchev's mind about anything. But until someone with enough wit to quit holding the man at arm's length tries to learn what is making him tick, there isn't even an outside chance of reaching the kind of an understanding that would come closer to peace than anything men have dreamed of for centuries.

IT WOULD BE an understanding that international competition and ideological competition, which is pust as real, would be confined in the future to nonmilitary activities for the reason that nuclear destruction has made militarism a barren instrument of policy.

The Soviet Union has been hinting broadly that it is interested in this possibility. The United States is interested. Its allies are interested, and Russia's allies are interested.

Competition is a fixed condition of existence on the earth — a natural law. In many fields of endeavor, competitors are able to agree on the terms of their competitive efforts. Perhaps the United States and Russia can agree to compete without recourse to war.

President Eisenhower is looking for a way to make such an agreement. If Premier Khrushchev is looking for the same thing, peace is possible. The game is worth the candle. The search is worth the possibility of failure.

Ignorance Of Finance Is No Excuse

Robert B. Anderson, secretary of the treasury, is one of the ablest financiers in the United States. Though he has specialized in public finance and government, private financiers have the utmost respect for his opinion. He is a realist with a thorough understanding of the problems of politicians.

Nevertheless, at this moment he is at such serious cross-purposes with Congressional politicians that he would be forced to resign if the United States had a parliamentary government. The politicians will not let him do what he knows to be essential in his job of handling the public debt. He has made every reasonable approach he knows how; the politicians are adamant. President Eisenhower, who appointed him, has asked for cooperation from the politicians.

The question is whether Congress will get rid of a 1918 law forbidding the U.S. Treasury to pay more than 4¼ per cent on securities issued for terms of longer than five years. Without ability to finance the topheavy national debt with more long-term securities, the Treasury will be in trouble. It will have to pay higher interest rates on short-term securities.

President Eisenhower and Secretary Anderson say this is the most important business before Congress. But the Democratic leaders of Congress, fearing a party-splitting battle if they make an issue of it, seem inclined to pigeonhole the matter until some future date. What does Secretary Anderson believe is the reason for their attitude?

His summation, as given to U. S. News World Report, is Congressional ignorance of the working of the money market: "I think there is some misunderstanding that when you take off what is a statutory ceiling of the coupon rate of interest that the government can place on certain securities—there is a feeling that this is legislating interest rates up. This is simply not so. It is simply allowing the government to compete in the market for long-term securities, like every other borrower, because today our long-range securities, in several instances, are yielding more than 4¼ per cent."

Thus, one of the best qualified men in the country is set at nought by some of the least qualified, which is one of the quirks of representative democracy that puzzles even those of us who are confident it has no equal.

When government has access to the best intelligence there is, why should it be at the mercy of some of the worst on how to finance the public debt, which in itself is no monument to political sagacity?

When It Used To Be Hotter

There is a growing minority of Americans, bless their open pores, capable of charging inhumane practice if they are not air-conditioned while they work.

Detroit even has added this boon to automobiles. Everybody who is anybody either is keeping cool or getting hot because his cooler is temporarily out of order.

The time is in sight when no one will need to know that summer has come and gone, except for the leaves on the trees and the sight of bare legs in the stores.

In that respect, no one can deny that it used to be hotter than it is now when it got hot. There were no electric fans, no ventilating systems, no universal refrigeration and, of course, no air-conditioning.

It's hard to believe, but people used to perspire without being classified as social pariahs. They did it without benefit of antiperspirants, dry cleaning and drip-dry clothing.

They fanned themselves with crude fans made of palm leaves. They cooled off by drinking water that had been kept from reaching room temperature. There were no ice cubes, except the ones made by nature and stored for use in the warm season in 150-pound sizes. Ocean-going ships used to haul cargoes of ice halfway around the world; ice was a semi-precious commodity.

It's something to think about in case the air-conditioner goes on the fritz for a few minutes. Suffering is relative. No one today can know how hot it was when keeping cool was only a wishful thought.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

It struck us that screen violence could make dental office suffering seem trivial, so we tried it out. Our dentist put on a "western." (We are always jumpy in a dentist's chair.) As he reached for his instruments, we became a little noisy. "Quiet. Indian country!" he warned.

He started his drilling machine but we were still highly nervous despite the TV. "Don't be frightened" said the doctor. "The U.S. Cavalry is on the way to the rescue."

"You're drilling too deep," we protested.

"If you think you're in a tough spot look at the screen and see those helpless people in the ambushed stagecoach," he said.

"They have scouts and sharpshooters to protect 'em," we replied.

"The last time you were here you didn't complain so much. What did I give you then?" he asked.

"You gave me a 1949 movie and it certainly put me to sleep," we said.

The dentist said he had one patient he put into such a deep slumber by an old movie that he was able to remove uppers and lowers before he knew it. We suggested that he try a jackpot program on us.

"They give me trouble. I had a housewife yesterday who seemed calm enough while contestants lost nothing but percolators but got violent when one lost a mink coat on an easy question," he said.

The dentist added that he once gave a patient a West Point film but that it was a big mistake as the fellow had just had a half hour's drilling job. We were extra jittery by now and found he was working on the wrong tooth anyhow.

"Sorry. Suppose we try a Sherlock Holmes telecast?" he suggested.

SECRETARY MITCHELL'S report in the steel strike boils down to a decision that both the employer and the workers are eating high off the pigiron. It can all be solved by eliminating the human instinct for second helpings.

"Love & Money" is the title of a new book. Why doesn't the author pick a subject in which people are interested?

The woman who swam around Manhattan Island the other day has announced her engagement to marry. (Anything can happen after a girl gets through those Hell Gate waters.)

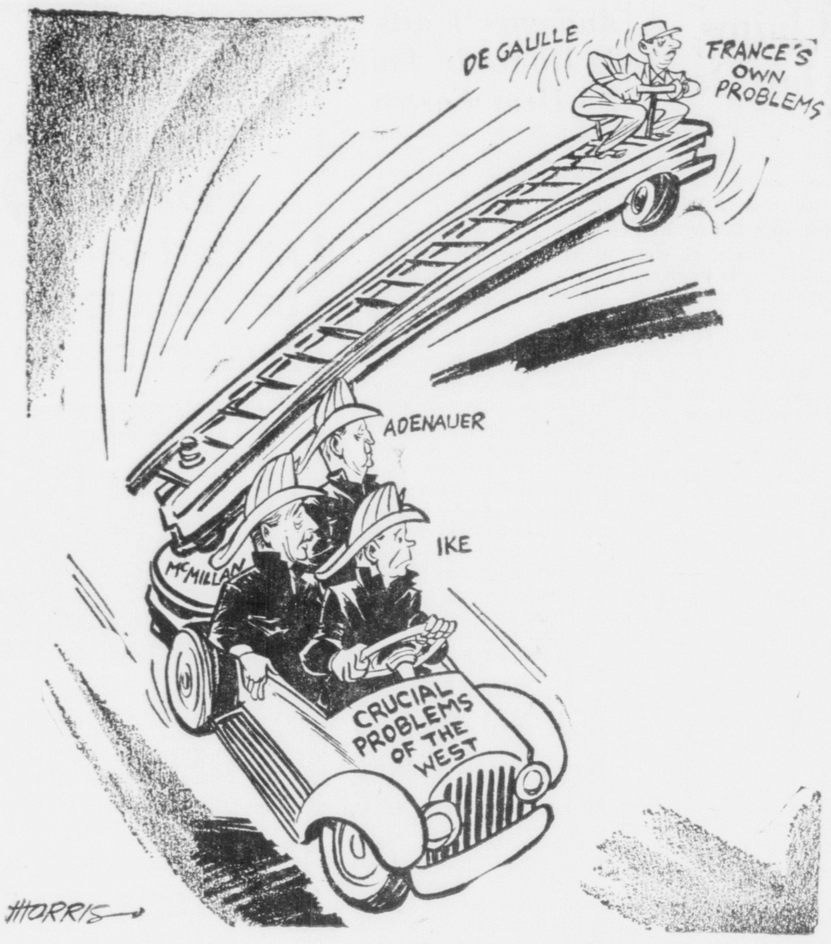
Irrepressible Backseat Driver



The Real Issue Behind Steel Talks

By Victor Riesel

Back is the wanderer, back to the asphalt jungle and two warring tribes of steel who are angry with a witch doctor named Jim Mitchell.

Victor Riesel

It seems that the opposing steel strike believe the medicine man guessed wrong deliberately when he put a plague on both houses for allegedly not working hard enough to settle the billion dollar walkout.

Hard work is not the issue, an investigation reveals. The showdown between American industry and American labor all along the industrial front is the issue.

A steel strike when Khrushchev arrives is not the issue. There may be deadlocked grappling in five or six major basic industries slowing down the entire nation as Mr. K junkets through it.

Few leaders of labor or industry have worked harder and negotiated harder than the men of steel. There have been at least 85 major negotiating sessions at this writing.

THEY'VE NEGOTIATED to soporific fatigue. They've negotiated themselves out. There have been sessions when they just sat and looked at each other silently for as long as a half hour. Just sat.

Other times they talked about their families or the ball season or even the weather to refrain from breaking up the meeting in the hope something would develop.

If Jim Mitchell or the White House believes those sessions will produce more than they have, despite the great and genial efforts of Federal Mediation Chief Joe Finnegan, they're mistaken. This is one-dimensional thinking — like Africans in the jungle who have no dimensional depth because they can't see ahead and have to count on their ears for survival.

Let's tear away some of the asphalt jungle foliage which has sprung up around the steel war headquarters in the Hotel Roosevelt in New York.

Here is the basic issue: For 25 years now, since the Roosevelt days, industry has been signing more and more complex contracts.

In the past, the steel companies and the steel unions would first discuss how much money there could be in increased wages.

Sometimes there's be a strike. But first there would be agreement on money. Then they'd write the contracts from September to December.

THE STEEL INDUSTRY has decided that it wants to revise the complex contracts before it offers any money.

In the past it was economics first and contract language last. Now this is being changed. The companies want it spelled out before they lay it on the line.

Otherwise, the industry charges, the union gets what it wants both ways. The union chiefs say that if they yield on the contract changes, they'll not only lose thousands of jobs as work rules are changed but they'll have to fight for more money, too.

So deep inside the Hotel Roosevelt the teams of industry experts sit with a two-or three-foot sheet. On it, running across the top, is the list of companies. Under each company is each firm's contract clause on some subject — say seniority or walfare insurance.

The industry team tells the union team of specialists this is how the corporations want the clause changed. The union experts listen and tell them they'll see. Each side then goes back to their top leaders for policy talks. Each change is vital. Each change means millions. Each penny increase now means 17 million dollars a year more, the industry claims.

And that's only to discover where they disagree. They may not agree for months. Not only inside steel but inside the copper, aluminum, meat packing and rubber industries and on the railroads and the Eastern waterfront and in the shipbuilding yards and textile plants.

Industry has decided to bend an era. It must be shifted in another direction, businessmen say. They have decided to take unions on all along the line. This has long been the talk at the Department of Commerce's Business Advisory Committee made up of top corporation presidents and board chairmen. It has been labor's era. Industrialists are saying the time has come for a change.

Red Dawn At Aswan

By Charles P. Arnot

CAIRO

The Soviet Union starts construction late this year on a permanent monument to Russian "friendship and cooperation" at the gateway to coveted Africa.

Eighty - three Russian experts and 14 million dollars worth of Soviet equipment will soon begin arriving in Egypt to launch the massive billion dollar Aswan High Dam — 17 times bigger than the famous Pyramids of Giza.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser is scheduled to lay the foundation stone on Dec. 28 for this "dream project" of the seven-year-old Egyptian revolution.

The first four-year phase of the giant irrigation and hydro-electric project 545 miles up the Nile from Cairo will clearly bear the imprint: "Made by the U.S.S.R."

The Kremlin has earmarked 100 million dollars for the biggest economic-aid project at has ever undertaken in this part of the world. The Soviets seem to be counting on getting every penny's worth in propaganda designed for the ears of millions of restive Africans.

EVER SINCE Nasser's recent verbal clash with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev over Communist infiltration of the Arab world, Egyptian enthusiasm for everything Russian has visibly cooled.

Egyptian engineers have emphasized at news conferences that "the door is still open" for other nations — presumably meaning Western — to participate in the project's second or important hydroelectrical phase.

The West Germans have confirmed an offer of 48 million dollars and the Egyptians have reported tentative aid offers from Italy, Japan and East Germany.

Neither Washington nor London has even mentioned the Aswan Dam since they suddenly withdrew their aid offers in 1956 in a squabble with Nasser who then nationalized the Suez Canal. It was this lightning chain of events that set off the whole Suez row and neaarly brought on global war.

Last year Moscow triumphantly announced itself as the West's successor and since then the Russians have given Nasser no chance to back out of any agreement — Communist infiltration or not.

Russia's heavy - handed propaganda directed at the African masses cites the Aswan High Dam as "proof" that Moscow provides economic aid to underdeveloped nations "with no strings attached." That's the kind of monument the Soviets want the Aswan Dam to be — a permanent Colussus demonstrating the glories and engineering magic of Communist Russia.

IT IS ESTIMATED that Nasser needs about 400 million dollars in hard foreign exchange out of the total cost of $1,120,00,000. Egypt provides the rest.

The first stage, scheduled for completion by late 1864, will cost 588 million dollars, including Moscow's promised 100 million. This phase will include blocking off the Nile and reclaiming two million acres of desert through irrigation. Nasser will thus be able to increase his food - producing area by about one-third.

In the second phase — scheduled to begin in 1962 and continue over six years — the irrigation projects will be completed and the dam will begin producing hydroelectric power for Nasser's new industrialization program. It is estimated that the cost of this phase will be 532 million dollars.

As many as 8,000 Egyptians will be employed and Nasser's experts figure that the completed project will increase the national income by nearly one billion dollars a year. The annual Egyptian national income is now estimated at about $2,800,000,000.

The head of Russia's High Dam Mission, Prof. Ivan V. Komzin, claims that Soviet modifications of the original Egyptian design will save 30 million dollars. The original plans were drawn by a British engineering firm in cooperation with the Egyptians and other non-Russian international experts.

The major change suggested by the Russians was the substitution of open canals for seven tunnels each 200 meters long. It was also agreed to proceed with the Russian proposal for reducing the size of the body of the dam itself.

Regardless of the reduction, the Aswan Dam will be one of the biggest single construction projects ever devised by man and will create the largest artificial lake in the world—some 30 miles long, backing about 150 miles into the neighboring Sudan.

On completion, the Aswan Dam will be 250 feet high at its center, stretching for more than three miles across the solid granite walls of the Nile Valley.

Ike Clears The Air

By David Lawrence

President Makes U.S. Purpose Quite Clear

President Eisenhower has put int perspective the purpose of his conferences with the heads of the Allied governments in Europe and also his reasons for the exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

David Lawrence

The President has no illusions about the difficulties that lie ahead but he feels it his duty to try hard to accomplish something for world peace. He recognizes the right of everyone who disagrees to voice his protest.

He insists that there can be no assurance of world peace until the "captive nations" have their freedom and the right to choose their own rulers.

Though well aware of the discouraging record of the past, Mr. Eisenhower is dedicated to the principle of trying by every means at his command to influence the Soviet government toward peace and general disarmament.

The President disclosed his ideas at the press conference he held just before getting ready to fly to Europe. It was a memorable occasion. For in the space of a few minutes Mr. Eisenhower epitomized American purposes and reiterated American ideals.

The nation's chief executive said explicity that his purpose in visit-French, Italian and West German governments was "to support Western unity in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression strength required for our common security."

TO THOSE who might have any idea that the people of the United States are so attached to their comforts and luxuries that they might yield to peace-at-any-price sentiment, the President had a significant answer that might well be pondered in Moscow. He said:

"I think that the strength of America is in its people and I believe that we can put it this way: I do not believe it's necessarily true for each of us that we could get up and, with Patrick Henry, say, 'As for me, give me liberty or give me death.' But I believe that basically this is what you might call our national spirit.

"I believe that the American nation will never surrender its liberties to any kind of outside threat or aggression — rather, they would die."

As a corollary to this expression of steadfastness, the President said he was going to Western Europe to meet with the British, French, Italian and West German leaders in order to have an opportunity "to reiterate jointly that regardless of pressure or inducement we shall never retreat from our ideals or principles or weaken in our resolution to remain secure as we continue our search for peace."

This reassurance would not have been necessary but for the widespread impression that the Khrushchev visit might result in some abandonment of American ideals.

MOST IMPORTANT among the President's comments, however, was his emphasis on the spirit of peoples and their power to determine their own fate. He said in answer to a question asked him about the "captive nations":

"America will never concede that there has been a sound, durable or working peace that could be called global until these nations have had the right to express their own convictions their own opinions and desires about their own fates, and then, as far as the United States was concerned, it would never cease to use every peaceable means — and I have always emphasized that word 'peaceable' to give them such an opportunity."

The President stated the case even more comprehensively when he referred to the self assertion by peoples of underdeveloped countries. He said:

"Two billion people are going to find some way of expressing their convictions that they do not have to live in conditions that are completely unsatisfactory by any minimum standard that we set up for humans and unless the civilized world — not just ourselves, but the civilized world — is willing and ready to share in the burdens of making it possible for these people to achieve progress in this area, this world is going to have tough going."

LAST BUT NOT LEAST, the President showed that he has no objection to the expression of orderly protests at the time of the Khrushchev visit. He said:

"The mere fact that a number of people have opposed this idea publicly and through advertisements — that, to my mind is one of the lessons he (Khrushchev) can learn. We don't resent it. Everybody in this country is able to make his own convictions and his own opinions and he is certainly at liberty to express them. And I think it is one of the fine lessons that he (Khrushchev) can learn and it may have some effect."

This is but another way of saying that maybe, after all, there will be some pluses to the Khrushchev visit — if the Soviet Premier learns that Americans stand unflinchingly for the right of free expression and the right of self determination of all peoples. Without the Krushchev visit, there would never have been such a dramatic opportunity for the kind of debate on freedom and human liberty that the world is to witness in the next few weeks.

Sunlit Beach In Offing?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

As President Eisenhower began slogging through the dismal swamp of international relations today, mankind followed in his steps, hoping that somehow he could lead the way to a sunlit beach.

No one knows better than he the task before him: somehow working out with West Europe's leaders and later with Premier Nikita Khrushchev some solution to what has divided the world into two armed camps, hissing at each other.

It may be an impossible task for him—or anyone else—at this moment in history. No wonder he has tried hard not to raise false hopes about his efforts.

His reception Wednesday in Germany, where once he entered as a conqueror but now as an ally, was perhaps the greatest in his career. It was testimony to the high and warm regard in which Europe and perhaps even the Soviet Union still holds him.

But there was more than regard in the cheers which Eisenhower himself called "overwhelming and magnificent." There was hope that he might produce the key to the icebox in which the cold war has kept the world for 14 years.

To himself Eisenhower was probably saying: "I hope they are right."

He can remember another journey made by another president, Woodrow Wilson, years ago, and the thunderous, almost frenzied, greeting given him when he landed in Europe after World War I.

The Europeans looked to Wilson as the man of good will who would fashion a peace which would let all other men sleep quietly at night for generations.

But it became a dismal peace, hardly more than a breathing spell for regroupings before the next war. He lived long enough to die disillusioned. By then the Europeans were disillusioned, too.

The forces Wilson had to contend with—at home and abroad—were too much for him. He was idealistic. They weren't. If today Europe looks more idealistic, it may be an optical illusion.

The same force at work there today — nationalism — frustrated Wilson. If Europe sounds more willing for peace it is because of the realism forced upon it by the new weapons might mean annihilation in a third war.

The United States is nationalistic, too. So is the Soviet Union. So is Red China. So are the satellies. The world hasn't passed out of its era of nationalism—yet. Eisenhower knows that, too.

So in talking with West Europe's leaders, America's allies, Eisenhower is talking with men who may have a sincere dedication to peace but each of whom is thinking in terms of his own country first.

Eisenhower has to think that way, too. So does Khrushchev.

Europe, and maybe even the U.S.S.R., looks upon Eisenhower as a man of good will.

But there are differences among the Allies, which he will try to bridge over. He must pledge to them he will make no secret deals with Khrushchev.

If he and Khrushchev ever do agree on answers that might melt the cold war, they won't have much meaning unless the allies with whom Eisenhower is talking now can submerge their own nationalism long enough to approve, too.

Rolled Pancake Is 'Out Of This World'

Stumped for an idea? You needn't be if you keep the Rolled Pancake Supper Dish in mind. If you like to get a meal quickly, to know that your family is getting the nourishment it should have, this is for you.

The cottage cheese pancakes are light, tender and delightfully moist when made with instant nonfat dry milk. When rolled around asparagus spears and baked with a chipped beef sauce, the end result is an "out of this world" offering to serve as a family supper dish, your next bridge luncheon or other similar special occasion.

Pancakes

4 eggs
1 cup cottage cheese
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk
1-3 cup sifted flour
2 tablespoons water
1 No. 2 can medium asparagus spears (24 small spears) or fresh cooked asparagus.
Parmesan cheese or buttered bread crumbs.

Chipped Beef Sauce

4 tablespoons (½ stick) butter
4 tablespoons flour
Dash pepper
2-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk
2 cups water.
2 2½ - oz. jars chipped beef

Beat eggs, add sieved cottage cheese, combining thoroughly. Mix in salt, instant nonfat dry milk, flour and water. Drop ¼ cup batter on hot greased griddle for each pancake. Roll each one around 3 stalks of cooked asparagus and place side by side in a flat casserole.

For the chipped beef sauce, melt butter, remove from heat and blend in flour. Mix instant nonfat dry milk, pepper and water and add to flour mixture. Stir until mixed. Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Add chipped beef to sauce, mixing well. Pour over rolled pancakes in casserole and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese or buttered bread crumbs.

2 Youths Held In Auto Theft

Two East Liverpool boys were bound over to the Grand Jury for auto theft at hearings about 1 a. m. today before Mayor Karl Lindner of Salineville.

Placed under $1,000 bond each were Arlan L. Bailey, 18, of 1798 Michigan Ave. and Albert William Dailey, 18, of 1061 Claiborne St.

The two were charged with the theft of a 1952 Pontiac sedan, owned by Ray Randolph of Salineville R. D., while it was parked on Main St. early Tuesday morning. It was found abandoned with a flat tire early yesterday morning by the State Highway Patrol near New Philadelphia.

The boys were arrested about midnight last night as they entered Salineville by Police Chief Cleo Mellott, who had received word from Carrollton authorities that the pair was headed toward Salineville.

Bailey and Dailey were seen driving away in the car and a description was broadcast over the area. They told Mellott they were headed for Columbus when the car had the flat. They then abandoned it and hitchhiked the remainder of the way.

They were taken to the County Jail at Lisbon this morning.

Ex-Fair Manager Says He'll Abide By Jobs Ruling

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Corwin Nixon said Wednesday night that he would abide by a state attorney-general's ruling that he cannot serve as both Warren County commissioner and manager of the county fair.

Attorney General Mark McElroy ruled Monday there is a conflict of interest in the two jobs.

Last March the attorney general held that Nixon could not serve as a commissioner and secretary of the fair. Nixon resigned the secretary's job and immediately was named fair manager.

Nixon said he was under the impression he could not serve as secretary but could hold the manager's job. He added:

"If the attorney general has ruled that I cannot serve as both commissioner and fair manager, I intend to abide by his ruling.

"I'll be glad to donate my services to the Warren County Fair Board as an ex-officio member. I feel I can still serve in that capacity if the board wants my services."

Nixon has been a county commissioner for 10 years. He was secretary of the fair board for 14 years prior to this resignation.

Hancock Pupils To Get Schedule For Buses

Robert Lindsay, assistant superintendent of Hancock County schools, said today all bus schedules will operate the same as last year on the open day Monday but said they will be changed for the second day.

All children will be given a new bus schedule the first day to take home to the parents, he said. Not all the schedules will be changed but an entirely new list will be made for the students.

Horse, Dogs Bite 3 Area Children

Three children bitten by animals were among seven persons treated Wednesday at City Hospital for various injuries.

Randy Seevers, son of Mrs. Robert Seevers of Montana Ave., Chester, suffered lacerations of the right cheek when nipped by a neighbor's dog shortly after noon.

John Varsho, 4, son of John Varsho of Lisbon R. D. 3, received lacerations of the cheek and nose when a dog bit him at home last night.

Khrushchev Isn't Welcome In Russia!

RUSSIA, Ohio (AP)—Khruschev not welcome in Russia?

That's right. Scores of American cities have been flooding the State Department with invitations for the Soviet premier when he visits the United States next month. But the 400 citizens of this west central Ohio community want no part of them.

Seventy-five per cent of the population is of French descent. The founders were veterans of Napoleon's futile invasion of Russia.

Injures Claim Judge

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Judge Maxwell Welch, 44, of Boston, Tex., died Wednesday night in a Little Rock hospital of injuries suffered in an automobile crash Aug. 20. Welch had served on Texas' Fifth District bench since 1952.

one of 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any car in its field

Proof that Chevy delivers the most miles from a gallon comes from an indisputable source: this year's Mobilgas Economy Run. For a pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide walked away with the first two places in their class—got top mileage, in fact, of any full-sized car. Over the Run's long, rugged course, over mountain and desert in the long, long haul from Los Angeles to Kansas City, the winning Chevrolet averaged a whopping 22.38 miles per gallon. That's the kind of economy-engineering that keeps you saving while you drive!

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST BRAKES—In competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR, Chevy outstopped both of the "other two." Naturally—Chevy brakes with bonded linings are far larger, built to lengthen brake life by up to 66%.

BEST TRADE-IN—Look at the record—the used car prices in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise and, just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ROOM—Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this abundantly clear. Chevy front seat hip room, for instance, is as much as 5.9 inches wider than in comparable cars.

BEST RIDE—MOTOR TREND magazine names Chevy ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But this is one Chevy feature you really should discover for yourself, at your Chevrolet dealer's. Stop by soon!

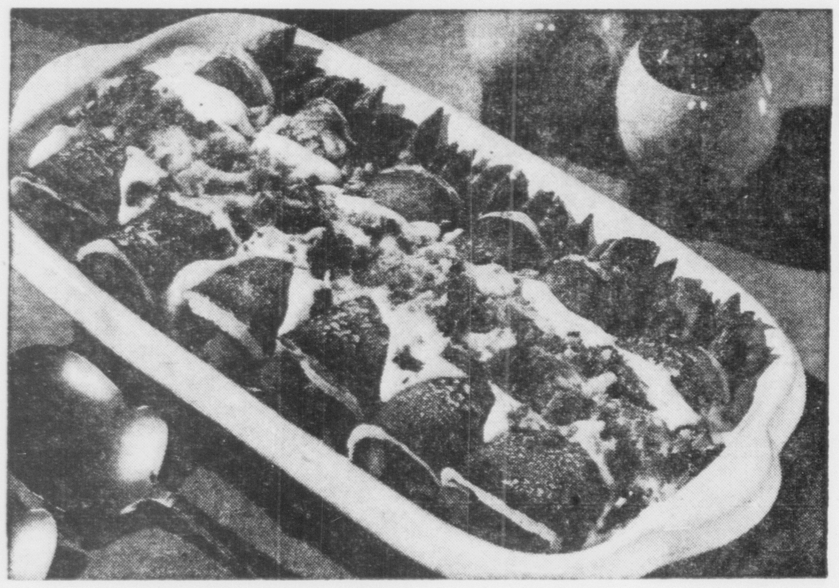
Rolled Pancake Is 'Out Of This World'



Stumped for an idea? You needn't be if you keep the Rolled Pancake Supper Dish in mind. If you like to get a meal quickly, to know that your family is getting the nourishment it should have, this is for you.

The cottage cheese pancakes are light, tender and delightfully moist when made with instant nonfat dry milk. When rolled around asparagus spears and baked with a chipped beef sauce, the end result is an "out of this world" offering to serve as a family supper dish, your next bridge luncheon or other similar special occasion.

Pancakes

4 eggs
1 cup cottage cheese
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk
1-3 cup sifted flour
2 tablespoons water
1 No. 2 can medium asparagus spears (24 small spears) or fresh cooked asparagus.
Parmesan cheese or buttered bread crumbs.

Chipped Beef Sauce

4 tablespoons (½ stick) butter
4 tablespoons flour
Dash pepper
2-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk
2 cups water.
2 2½ - oz. jars chipped beef

Beat eggs, add sieved cottage cheese, combining thoroughly. Mix in salt, instant nonfat dry milk, flour and water. Drop ¼ cup batter on hot greased griddle for each pancake. Roll each one around 3 stalks of cooked asparagus and place side by side in a flat casserole.

For the chipped beef sauce, melt butter, remove from heat and blend in flour. Mix instant nonfat dry milk, pepper and water and add to flour mixture. Stir until mixed. Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Add chipped beef to sauce, mixing well. Pour over rolled pancakes in casserole and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese or buttered bread crumbs.

2 Youths Held In Auto Theft

Two East Liverpool boys were bound over to the Grand Jury for auto theft at hearings about 1 a. m. today before Mayor Karl Lindner of Salineville.

Placed under $1,000 bond each were Arlan L. Bailey, 18, of 1798 Michigan Ave. and Albert William Dailey, 18, of 1061 Claiborne St.

The two were charged with the theft of a 1952 Pontiac sedan, owned by Ray Randolph of Salineville R. D., while it was parked on Main St. early Tuesday morning. It was found abandoned with a flat tire early yesterday morning by the State Highway Patrol near New Philadelphia.

The boys were arrested about midnight last night as they entered Salineville by Police Chief Cleo Mellott, who had received word from Carrollton authorities that the pair was headed toward Salineville.

Bailey and Dailey were seen driving away in the car and a description was broadcast over the area. They told Mellott they were headed for Columbus when the car had the flat. They then abandoned it and hitchhiked the remainder of the way.

They were taken to the County Jail at Lisbon this morning.

Ex-Opera Singer Dies

MONTROSE, Colo. (AP)—Hans Clemens, 74, former Metropolitan Opera singer and voice teacher, died Tuesday at his ranch home. A native of Germany, he sang in many European cities and was with the New York Metropolitan Opera from 1930 to 1938.

Pughtown Girl Entered In State 4-H Program

Miss Betty Brown, a member of the Pioneer 4-H Club of Pughtown, is representing Hancock County in the annual state 4-H roundup which began today at Jacksons Mill, sponsored by the West Virginia University Extension service.

Miss Brown will compete in the style review to be held Friday night.

She is entering a costume that can be made into seven different outfits. The costume includes a basic Navy blue sheath dress, with accessories to match, reversible jacket and two skirts.

Morning activity included a land appreciation school. The state 4-H public speaking contest will be held tonight.

Demonstrations tomorrow will range from clothing and bread making to safety and livestock conservation.

Ex-Fair Manager Says He'll Abide By Jobs Ruling

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Corwin Nixon said Wednesday night that he would abide by a state attorney-general's ruling that he cannot serve as both Warren County commissioner and manager of the county fair.

Attorney General Mark McElroy ruled Monday there is a conflict of interest in the two jobs.

Last March the attorney general held that Nixon could not serve as a commissioner and secretary of the fair. Nixon resigned the secretary's job and immediately was named fair manager.

Nixon said he was under the impression he could not serve as secretary but could hold the manager's job. He added:

"If the attorney general has ruled that I cannot serve as both commissioner and fair manager, I intend to abide by his ruling.

"I'll be glad to donate my services to the Warren County Fair Board as an ex-officio member. I feel I can still serve in that capacity if the board wants my services."

Nixon has been a county commissioner for 10 years. He was secretary of the fair board for 14 years prior to this resignation.

Hancock Pupils To Get Schedule For Buses

Robert Lindsay, assistant superintendent of Hancock County schools, said today all bus schedules will operate the same as last year on the open day Monday but said they will be changed for the second day.

All children will be given a new bus schedule the first day to take home to the parents, he said. Not all the schedules will be changed but an entirely new list will be made for the students.

Champ Steer Sold For $560

Mary Lou's steer was entered in the lightweight class and her brother's in the heavyweight class. Both took first in their respective divisions. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Olen Wallace.

The steer raised by Marion Kitzmiller of Homeworth was third and brought $310.40 when sold to the Salem Suburban Food Liner store and Jerry Ward of Columbiana R. D. received $289.25 for his second-place winner in the lightweight class.

Fifty-one steers of the 4-H Steer Club were auctioned by Huber Amos of Scio last evening for an average of 30.44 cents a pound or an overall total of $14,424.

2:15 pace—purse $500—1st, Miss Shiloh; tied for 2nd, Rita's Ensign, by Earl Caton, and Silver Bees Baby, driven by Clyde Williams Sr.; 3rd, Dundee Dean driven by Gene Brown.

2:20 pace—purse $55050-1st, All The Time, Lester Anderson; 2nd, My Valiant Lady, Clyde Woolman Jr.; 3rd, Minnie Commandant, G. T. Wilson; tie for 4th, Leon Spencer, driven by Robert J. Albaugh Jr., and Riley's Grattan, driven by Clyde Williams Sr.; 5th, Allenko-San, J. Petrkins; 6th, Maybe Red, Pat Skinner.

Trot—3-year-olds — purse $1,200—1st, Joson, Dewey Breckenridge; Physician, Hal Hall; 3rd, Chris Laird, Pat Skinner; 4th, Maple Leaf, Jack Stockman; 5th, Patchen Brewer, G. T. Wilson.

Mrs. Betty Vernon of Salem was the outrider.

Lightweight horse pulling winners were Pete Wisard of Dundee, 5,500 pounds the full distance; 2nd, Lee Patchen of Farmington.

Intermittent rain lowered the expected crowd with only 5,000 paid customers going through the gates. An estimated 3,000 children under 12 were admitted free. Grandstand capacity for the harness races was 40 paid. In the evening, the last showing of the Cherokee Wild West Rodeo had 1,000 paid admissions.

Cattle judging was held this morning, followed by a heavy draft horse pulling contest. Horse racing resumed this afternoon and a balloon ascension was scheduled late this afternoon.

The daily livestock and machinery parade will be held at 7 tonight, followed by the performance of McLean's "Oklahoma" stage show.

Hookstown Fair Opens To Crowd

A record crowd was reported, despite an afternoon of rain, as the 13th annual fair sponsored by the Hookstown Grange was opened Wednesday.

Farm crops, fruits, vegetables, flowers, foods and homecrafts were judged. Live stock and dairy entries were to be judged this morning. A pony pulling contest will be at 7 p. m. tonight and the crowning of the 4-H king and queen will be at 9.

Street Signs Repainted For Opening Of School

The street department is winding up the annual job of repainting crosswalks and speed warning signs on pavements near school buildings, preparing for the start of the 1959-60 term Tuesday.

Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin said the greatest percentage of the work already has been completed. It includes crosswalks in areas near schools plus huge signs that warn "Slow, School" on the approach to a building or a crosswalk. The painting crew was working this morning on W. 8th St. in the vicinity of Westgate School.

Rates Boost Okayed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ashtabula Telephone Co. can increase its rates about 12½ per cent Sept. 1, the Utilities Commission has ruled. The new rates are expected to produce a $122,000 annual increase, or a net yearly return of $217,349.

Klondyke

to hire a contractor to move in for the job.

The sewer runs via Putnam St. to Ohio Ave., crossing the embankment to empty into the Ohio River at a point near the Klondyke School. In the first stage of the job, the cleaning machine will work from Ohio Ave. along Putnam St. toward Harvey Ave., Laughlin said. It uses a series of small buckets mounted on an endless cable that is pulled through the sewer by a motorized winch device. As the buckets emerge from the sewer, they empty into a truck bed.

The Klondyke sewer was installed about 1932, Laughlin recalled. It has been jammed for years, apparently by dirt, ashes and other debris that washed into the intersection of Harvey and Putnam from the steep grade on the unpaved section of Putnam that lies above Harvey.

The street department is winding up work on cleaning out a sanitary sewer that runs down St. Clair Ave. and then via Diamond Alley to Broadway. To show the effectiveness of the machine, Laughlin said it removed a truck load of dirt and debris from one 380-foot section.

The cleaning is expected to give the best flow in years in the sewer, which serves many E. 5th and E. 6th St. business places in its path through Diamond Alley. The cleaning machine is working today in the section of Summit Ln. from Peach Alley to Jackson St.

Cleaning the Klondyke sewer may be such a long-drawn-out process that the machine may have to be moved off the job at intervals if emergencies develop, Laughlin said.

Negley Area Boy Hurt In Hill Plunge Of Car

A Negley area youth is in "satisfactory" condition at the Osteopathic Hospital with injuries received when his car went over an embankment on St. Clair Ave. Ext. near the Casting Club Rd. about 12:10 a. m. today.

Gary Burns, 17, son of John Burns of Negley R. D. 1, suffered abrasions of the left leg, possible fractured ribs and a possible brain concussion, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Officers said Burns apparently lost control of his vehicle. It struck several mailboxes and then went over an embankment into some underbrush which hid it from the highway.

An investigation is continuing.

Car, Station Wagon In Head-On Collision

Some $600 damage resulted to a car and a station wagon involved in a head-on collision Wednesday night at 7:15 on the Hillcrest Farm Rd. off Route 2, according to the Hancock County sheriff's office.

Freeman was charged with hazardous driving and was fined $10 and costs at a hearing last night before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester.

New Assignments Given 3 In Navy Following Leaves

Two men and a girl who recently completed Navy recruit training have orders to report for new assignments after they end current 14-day leaves at home.

WAVE Seaman App. Patricia Louise McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard McClure of Calcutta, completed 9 weeks' training at the Bainbridge (Md.) Naval Training Center. She will report to Great Lakes, Ill., for corps WAVE training. She was in nurses' training at Cleveland City Hospital before enlisting here.

Fireman App. Edwin Bettis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Bettis of Salineville R. D. 1, completed recruit training at Great Lakes. He will report to the Naval Operating Base at Norfolk, Va.

Airman App. Michael S. Chickiris, son of Mrs. Angelo Chickiris, 165 E. Main St., Salineville, also trained at Great Lakes. He will report to the Memphis Naval Training Center for schooling as an aviation electronics technician. Chickiris enlisted in the Navy's high school graduate program, which assured him enrollment in a specialty school of his choice.

Firemen Are Pleased With New Alarm Setup

A new fire alarm system tested by the Liverpool Township West volunteer fire department Wednesday evening was reported to have "worked fine," according to Ed Emmerling, chief of both the West and East stations.

The new system, completed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., can be operated at the fire station or from any one of four homes to which it is connected when a fire is reported.

Firemen may also ring in on the line and learn the location of a fire without going to the fire station, he said.

Ohio Phone Concern Given Buying Rights

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Northern Ohio Telephone Co., with headquarters at Bellevue, Sandusky County, can buy all assets of the Townsend and Van Buren telephone companies, the Utilities Commission says.

Townsend Telephone is located in Collins, Huron County.

Drivers Unhurt In Road Mishaps

An East Liverpool trucker and a Hammondsville motorist escaped injury in separate accidents Wednesday in Jefferson County, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

A coal truck driven by Walter Galloway, 46, of 807 Dewey Ave., overturned on Route 152 about 5 miles north of Richmond at 8:10 a. m. when a rear wheel came off.

Patrolmen said the front axle of the rear tandem broke, allowing the wheel to come loose. The truck, loaded with coal, drifted backwards into a ditch at the side of the highway and upset.

Ronald Todd, 25, of Hammondsville R. D. 1 was cited for going off the right side of the road after overturning his car on Route 52, known as State Lake Rd., three miles northwest of Richmond, at 2:05 a. m..

Officers said Todd missed a curve. His car was damaged heavily.

Granted Extension

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Board of Tax Appeals has granted the Trumbull County treasurer an extension from Sept. 1 to Sept. 11 for collecting real estate taxes.

Champ Steer Sold For $560

Mary Lou's steer was entered in the lightweight class and her brother's in the heavyweight class. Both took first in their respective divisions. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Olen Wallace.

The steer raised by Marion Kitzmiller of Homeworth was third and brought $310.40 when sold to the Salem Suburban Food Liner store and Jerry Ward of Columbiana R. D. received $289.25 for his second-place winner in the lightweight class.

Fifty-one steers of the 4-H Steer Club were auctioned by Huber Amos of Scio last evening for an average of 30.44 cents a pound or an overall total of $14,424.

Stating that he once believed psychiatry had the answer to alcoholism, he said he later discovered, from his record, that he had "not helped a single alcolholic" but found that 40% of them had attained sobriety for two to five or more years through A. A.

Dr. LaVerne attributed the success of A. A. chiefly to its appeal to the alcoholic's latent spiritual resources and its help in showing him how to use them.

Consumer Goods—Pronto!

Industry Concocts Marvels To Fit Production Needs

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Industry concocts new marvels to fit certain production needs. And sooner than you'd think, someone is making consumer goods out of them.

Once factories or military establishments enjoyed inventions for years before they showed up at the corner store. The time lag is shrinking fast now.

Look at what they're cooking up for the new man-made satellites — a really tiny automatic camera, a book-size tape recorder, a powerful electric battery the size of a pack of cards, a pint-sized radio transmitter more dependable than the roomful of apparatus Marconi used for the first wireless message.

Scientists are designing them and manufacturers are making them for nonconsumer uses. At the moment you can't buy them. But it's unlikely to be very long before you can get, at the store, smaller tape recorders, cameras, radios, batteries and so on.

Turning industry's own gadgets into consumer items was a time in coming.

Examples: Circuit breakers were used by industry for 40 years before they found their way into ordinary homes. Electrical refrigeration was used in packing houses long before it became a staple of American kitchens. Power tools, used for many years in industry, hit the home with the do - it - your - self movement after world War II.

Less time was taken for Willis Carrier to move from controlling humidity and temperature in plants into the consumer field with aid conditioners.

Du Pont brought out nylon tire cord in World War II to produce tough tires for heavy bombers. Today it competes with rayon for use in civilian tires. Du Pont's neoprene was compounded solely for corrosion-resistant coatings for tanks, pipe and steel girders. Now it's a roofing material for consumers.

Sun Chemical now produces a heavy-duty caulking compound called Vulcatex for the home handyman but originated it for industrial buildings. Out of a plastic resin used for the transparent nose sections of bombing planes, Philip Carey Manufacturing Co. now makes a binder for a new kind of sidewall shingle for homes.

Republic Steel says the industrial quality galvanized woven wire it originally made for factories caught on with farmers.

Curtiss-Wright is experimenting with a wheel-less vehicle that lifts itself off the ground by creating a cushion of air, using the same means to go forward or backward. It's aimed at such fields as offshore oil prospecting, forest patrolling, mining and farming. But who knows when it might be tried out for consumers?

Veers Off Strip, Over Bank

Charleston Plane Mishap Narrow Escape For 18

CHARLESTON (AP) — A twin-engine Capital Airlines DC-3, easing down onto Runway 23 at 9:20 last night, suddenly veered off the paved strip and bounced nosefirst over a high embankment of the hilltop Kanawha Airport.

The 15 passengers and three crew members, frightened but calm and uninjured, clambered out of the jumbled cabin, climbed the steep embankment and walked to the administration building.

Howard Kinzer, a Road Commission official returning home from Wheeling, said passengers were going out emergency exits when Stewardess Helen Harms of Pittsburgh wrestled open the cabin door.

Miss Harms shrugged off the praise of Kinzer and other passengers for her cool performance. She said:

"It was too fast to get frightened."

Mrs. Gertrude Hitchcock of Chicago, taken to Charles General Hospital, was given a sedative and released. Attendants said she had been shaken up.

The happy ending of last night's mishap contrasted with a similar accident last May 12, in which a Capital Airlines Constellation with 44 aboard crashed in landing. That plane also went over an embankment but it caught fire and two persons lost their lives. Twenty-eight others were injured. The Constellation was landing on Runway No. 32, which was rain-slick at the time.

The weather was relatively clear and the strip dry when the DC-3 nosed onto Runway 23 last night with its headlights beaming. There was no official explanation for the accident, although some passengers said it seemed something happened to the left tire or landing gear.

George D. Kelly, Charleston reservations manager for Capital, said the cause of the accident had not been established.

The plane veered off to the left. Kelly said the ship's captain, M. W. Black of Pittsburgh, was unable to shed much light on the unusual mishap. The first officer, D. C. Walchli, also is a resident of Pittsburgh.

Nine of the 15 passengers boarded the DC-3 at Pittsburgh, where the flight originated, and the remaining six came aboard at Wheeling. The flight terminates in Charleston.

Kelly said the extent of the plane's damage had not been determined. He said it was evident that one wing tip and the landing gear had been damaged.

Titusville, Pa., Celebrates 100th Birthday Of Age Of Oil

TITUSVILLE, Pa (AP) — The second great oil rush was on today in Titusville—only this time the oil ran low and the sentiment high.

This was the 100th birthday of the age of oil. A week-long centennial celebration had swelled this northwestern Pennsylvania city's normal population of 9,000 to nearly 35,000.

A century ago a youngster reportedly ran from a 69-foot deep hole in the ground to Edsin L. Drake, shouting "ile, ile, ile." In the accent and vernacular of the day, this meant "oil, oil, oil."

Drake was the bearded man sent by Connecticut speculators to try for oil near Titusville. He drilled the historic hole that became the world's first commercial oil well and brought on the first great oil rush in Titusville.

The flow of oil in this old field is down to a trickle, but Titusville residents know that the place of their city in the history of oil will always be secure.

The birthday party carries on through Saturday, but this was the big day of speech-making and ceremony.

Scheduled events included burial of a time capsule near Drake's old well, issuance of an oil centennial commemorative postage stamp for the first time and reading of messages from the governors of 33 oil producing states.

Civic Group's Programs Set

Program plans for the coming year were announced today by the South Beaver County Civic Association.

Various county candidates will be heard during meetings in September and October. Mrs. John Dugan said September guests will be candidates for commissioner, treasurer, controller, recorder of deeds and surveyor. The remainder of the candidates will be invited to speak at the October session.

After each candidate is introduced, a question-and-answer period will be held.

Rep. Frank Clark has tentatively accepted an invitation to be guest speaker at the November session.

Carl Lutton, entertainment chairman, said a square dance for members and friends will be held. The time and place will be announced later.

William Littell, president, said a membership drive has opened and a booth is being operated at the Hookstown Fair. Eugene Lombard is membership chairman. Special six - month memberships are being offered to allow residents to familiarize themselves with the organization.

The program plans were reviewed at a meeting of the Board of Directors at the home of Stanley Miller, vice president, of Holt Rd. in Raccoon Township.

Strike Costs Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The steel strike is costing the city of Warren about $3,000 a week in income taxes, reports Mrs. Frances Davis, acting head of the city income tax department. She said Wednesday the full impact of the strike would not be felt until the first week in November, when industries make the third quarter withholding tax return.

Potato Growers To Meet Tuesday

LISBON — The annual twilight meeting of the potato growers of Columbiana and Mahoning counties will be held Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at the test plots at Firestone Farms, east of Columbiana.

Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture, said 56 varieties of potatoes will be observed and a few of each variety will be dug to show characteristics.

The group will then meet in the packing shed for the program to include a talk by J. P. Sleesman, entomologist at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster, who will discuss "The Results of New Insecticides In Growing Potatoes." V. E. Keirns, manager of the Ohio Potato Growers' Association at Columbus, will speak on the "Crop Situation and Market Outlook."

All interested growers are urged to attend. The meeting is sponsored by the Agriculture Extension Service in Co-operation with the Columbiana - Mahoning Potato Growers Association.

NEW TYPE GRANDSTAND SHOW FOR CANFIELD FAIR

The Board of Directors of the CANFIELD FAIR have decided to give the public an entirely new type of GRANDSTAND SHOW for the 3 nights of Saturday, Sunday and Monday, September 5th, 6th and 7th. The Directors feel that most people like to be gay, have fun, and forget their troubles when they go to the Fair—so they have contracted for Ward Beam's Big LAUGH SHOW for the Grandstand entertainment on these three nights. Ward Beam is well known to the residents of the area, he has brought shows to Canfield many times in the past and everyone of them were exceptionally good shows. The Fair Board gave Ward Beam a blanket contract, with instructions that he was to bring the very best Comedy acts and situations to Canfield for you, the Public—and Mr. Beam promises each and every one of the spectators a full hour and a half of one big laugh after the other. It's a Show that's entirely different from anything ever offered at a Fair. It's a show that cannot be seen on T.V. So if you want to have a full hour and a half of One Big Laugh after the other—if you want to be gay—if you want to forget your troubles, you will want to come to the Canfield Fair Grandstand Show on the three nights of September 5th, 6th and 7th.

Consumer Goods—Pronto!

Industry Concocts Marvels To Fit Production Needs

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Industry concocts new marvels to fit certain production needs. And sooner than you'd think, someone is making consumer goods out of them.

Once factories or military establishments enjoyed inventions for years before they showed up at the corner store. The time lag is shrinking fast now.

Scientists are designing them and manufacturers are making them for nonconsumer uses. At the moment you can't buy taem. But it's unlikely to be very long before you can get, at the store, smaller tape recorders, cameras, radios, batteries and so on.

Turning industry's own gadgets into consumer items was a time in coming.

Examples: Circuit breakers were used by industry for 40 years before they found their way into ordinary homes. Electrical refrigeration was used in packing houses long before it became a staple of American kitchens. Power tools, used for many years in industry, hit the home with the do-it-your-self movement after world War II.

Less time was taken for Willis Carrier to move from controlling humidity and temperature in plants into the consumer field with aid conditioners.

Du Pont brought out nylon tire cord in World War II to produce tough tires for heavy bombers. Today it competes with rayon for use in civilian tires. Du Pont's neoprene was compounded solely for corrosion-resistant coatings for tanks, pipe and steel girders. Now it's a roofing material for consumers.

Sun Chemical now produces a heavy-duty caulking compound called Vulcatex for the home handyman but originated it for industrial buildings. Out of a plastic resin used for the transparent nose sections of bombing planes, Philip Carey Manufacturing Co. now makes a binder for a new kind of sidewall shingle for homes.

Republic Steel says the industrial quality galvanized woven wire it originally made for factories caught on with farmers.

Curtiss-Wright is experimenting with a wheel-less vehicle that lifts itself off the ground by creating a cushion of air, using the same means to go forward or backward. It's aimed at such fields as offshore oil prospecting, forest patrolling, mining and farming. But who knows when it might be tried out for consumers?

Veers Off Strip, Over Bank

Charleston Plane Mishap Narrow Escape For 18

CHARLESTON (AP) — A twin-engine Capital Airlines DC-3, easing down onto Runway 23 at 9:20 last night, suddenly veered off the paved strip and bounced nosefirst over a high embankment of the hilltop Kanawha Airport.

The 15 passengers and three crew members, frightened but calm and uninjured, clambered out of the jumbled cabin, climbed the steep embankment and walked to the administration building.

Howard Kinzer, a Road Commission official returning home from Wheeling, said passengers were going out emergency exits when Stewardess Helen Harms of Pittsburgh wrestled open the cabin door.

Miss Harms shrugged off the praise of Kinzer and other passengers for her cool performance. She said:

Mrs. Gertrude Hitchcock of Chicago, taken to Charles General Hospital, was given a sedative and released. Attendants said she had been shaken up.

The happy ending of last night's mishap contrasted with a similar accident last May 12, in which a Capital Airlines Constellation with 44 aboard crashed in landing. That plane also went over an embankment but it caught fire and two persons lost their lives. Twenty-eight others were injured. The Constellation was landing on Runway No. 32, which was rain-slick at the time.

The weather was relatively clear and the strip dry when the DC-3 nosed onto Runway 23 last night with its headlights beaming. There was no official explanation for the accident, although some passengers said it seemed something happened to the left tire or landing gear.

George D. Kelly, Charleston reservations manager for Capital, said the cause of the accident had not been established.

The plane veered off to the left. Kelly said the ship's captain, M. W. Black of Pittsburgh, was unable to shed much light on the unusual mishap. The first officer, D. C. Walchli, also is a resident of Pittsburgh.

Nine of the 15 passengers boarded the DC-3 at Pittsburgh, where the flight originated, and the remaining six came aboard at Wheeling. The flight terminates in Charleston.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

TV's Big Brother Image

When the string of TV criticism approaches the level of agony, the bruished networks usually attempt to allay the carpers by establishing a fund or "workshop" for the care and feeding of new talent.

Marie Torre

This makes the network look like Big Brother, instead of the cold profit-making organization it is and all good Americans revere the image.

It is a matter of record that all talent development programs undertaken by the networks during the past five years fizzled out within periods ranging from six to 18 months.

Plans for the workshops originally were unveiled with a proud flourish of trumpets, but after the announcements, after the prestige values had been extracted, there was a characteristic lack of serious intent.

THE PROJECTS had something else in common. Each of them was set up without "guarantee" to the participants that any of their work, however brilliant, would ever see the light of home screens.

"That "no guarantee" phrase turned up again the other day in connection with the newly established CBS Television Network Drama Workshop who's been saying what about CBS lately?.

"No, we're not guaranteeing that the efforts of workshop members will be shown on television," explained William Dozier, head of the project that offers a laboratory to writers, directors and producers who have yet to find laurels on which to rest.

"But we will put the shows on tape — between 12 and 15 of them before next summer, if we're lucky.

"These could be put to use in various ways. If one of the CBS night time shows should suddenly go sour at some point in the season the tapes could be used as a hold-the-line operation until another show is readied. "Maybe we could also use a whole group of thirteen tapes as a summer replacement show," Dozier added.

It's the "ifs," the uncertainty of purpose, that we find disconcerting. The ill-fated workshops of the past also were without definite course.

IN MAY OF 1955, we remember, NBC launched the Comedy Writers Development Plan.

A nationwide search was conducted to uncover promising new comedy writers, the best of whom were awarded $165 a week and a seven-year contract.

"We were all happy with the project," recalls a young man who attended the workshop, "but after a year and a half, the program was discontinued because NBC felt that the people were sufficiently trained to go off on their own." (When this young man went off on his own, he landed in public relations and he's there still.)

Television also had the Comedy Performers Development Plan and grants-in-aid funds and assorted other projects which offered promising young talents everything but the most important thing — a showcase.

Someday somebody is going to collect a bunch of bright young artists, give them a half-hour program of their own and say to them: "This is YOUR show—create!" This we'd regard as something to shout about!

BPW Club Plans Observance And Tour Of A-Plant

Plans for the observance of Business & Professional Women's Week and a tour at the atomic power plant at Shippingport, were discussed at a meeting of the Executive Board of the BPW Club Tuesday night at the home of the president, Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, of Fisher Ave.

The club will sponsor a public card party Oct. 5 at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall during the observance. Prizes will be awarded to the high scorers. Lunch will be served.

The tour will take place on Oct. 7 and all members are to fill out forms for admission to the plant.

Chairmen of various standing committees gave their reports. Four road signs will be erected in the city and the "Science Fair" will be held the first week of April.

The next club meeting will be Sept. 9 at 6:30 p. m. at the Travelers Hotel and the federation committee will be in charge of the program. The business meeting will be conducted at 8.

Mrs. Dunlop served lunch, assisted by Mrs. Helen Moore.

Blacktopping Contract Let For Midland

Midland Borough Council Wednesday evening awarded a contract for $15,709.50 for blacktopping Woodlane Ave. to the Beaver Asphalt Paving & Construction Co. of New Brighton, low bidder of three.

The Frank Presto Co. of Ambridge asked $17,871.40 and the Interstate Amiesite Corp. of Monaca, $19,223.85. The work was let following tabulation of bids by Robert Masters, borough solicitor, and on a motion by Councilman by Joe D'Alesio.

D'Alesio and others of the service, streets, sewers and lights committee was given for study of the problem of sidewalk installation at residential properties now without them. A home near the 4th St. School, and sections of Midland Ave. near 12th St. were cited in particular.

D'Alesio said there is an ordinance which can require property owners to put in sidewalks or the borough can have the job done and bill the householder. He said the law has not been enforced, particularly during the recent repression. Now that the borough is in the midst of a steel strike it may not be a good time to enforce it, he said. Absence of sidewalks has forced school children to walk in the streets at some points.

Councilman Harvey Spencer reported that beginning Tuesday, when school resumes, the Veterans Memorial Pool will be open from 4 until 9 p. m. or dark. The pool closes Labor Day, Sept. 7.

Councilman William Vinovich conveyed several complaints of residents in the West End about trees which should be removed. He said Council has spent all the money in this year's budget for tree removal and care, and further tree work will have to wait for next year.

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, read a letter from the Pennsylvania State Department of Justice rating Midland's jail as "excellent." The letter remarked on the structure's sanitary condition and cited the police department's efficiency. The state inspection was made Aug. 3.

James Phillips of the Adressograph - Multigraph Corp. of Pittsburgh presented an offer for a set of equipment for efficient billing of the borough and the school district for various taxes and possible payroll and budget accounting. The equipment would cost about $6,800, he said. Council will study the proposal.

Following adjournment of Council, Jack Wilson, a representative of Morris Knowles, Inc., Pittsburgh planning engineers, reported on progress of the borough's comprehensive plan.

He said studies have been completed of land use, housing and population trends, the economic base and studies of thoroughfares, utilities and finances are now being made.

Wilson said a preliminary report will be given Council probably by its meeting Sept. 23. The plan should be completed by November. The previous deadline was set for October.

Governor Returns To Desk Following 11-Day Vacation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Brown as the well-known berry and feeling fit, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle returned to his desk Wednesday after an 11-day vacation, his first since he took office in January.

"I might want to go back there again," he quipped.

"I got a lot of work done," he said. "I collected and sorted out a lot of material—good material—for the speaking tour."

DiSalle referred to a 3½ - week tour which starts Saturday at Dayton and Canton on which he plans to give Ohioans a complete explanation of his program which went through the recent legislative session.

The governor said his first post-vacation news conference is scheduled for late this afternoon.

No Prosecution Due In Rivet Gun Shooting

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County authorities have decided against any prosecution of Robert W. Trimble, 21, in the fatal shooting last Friday of a 16-year-old girl with a rivet gun.

But the youth will remain in custody as a parole violator.

A rivet fired from the gun penetrated a ceiling in an apartment and struck Miss Bella Sergent in the head. Police said Trimble fired it in an apartment above the one in which Miss Sergent was visiting.

Prosecutor C. Watson Hover notified police Wednesday, however, that the shooting would be classified as "accidental homicide."

Sen. Johnson Says U.S. Must Back Ike On Khrushchev Visit

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Americans must—and will—stand behind President Eisenhower in making the visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev serve the nation's best interest, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) told the American Legion National convention today.

"I have no fears that Mr. Khrushchev can contaminate the American people," the Senate majority leader said. "We can take in stride the best brainwashing he can offer. Our problem is to see to it that Khrushchev will have a true picture of our country, a true picture of our people and our purpose."

Johnson spoke as Legion delegates prepared to vote on foreign relations resolutions, some reportedly aimed at condemning the Khrushchev visit and calling for a tougher stand against the Soviets in the cold war.

Legionnaires have remained critical of the Khrushchev tour even after a talk in support of it before the convention Tuesday by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, another speaker, echoed Johnson that Soviet-American problems cannot be dissolved with Khrushchev's visit.

"Americans must judge the Soviet leaders by their policies, their objectives and deeds and not by the sweet words and jovial manners which have been especially planned, I am sure, for Khrushchev's visit," Meany declared in his prepared speech.

3 Attend Area Teacher Event

Three representatives of the East Liverpool Teachers Association attended a four-day conference held by the Ohio Education Association at Camp Muskingum Sunday through Wednesday.

They were Austen Moore, president; Gyla Nicely, corresponding secretary, and Marjorie Birbeck, second vice president.

Highlight of the conference was a talk by Dr. Walter W. Eshelman, National Education Association president, on integration. He said integration of schools is of national concern because it is a process of integrating all people of all states.

He reported the theme of the NEA this year is "A United Profession Enchances Quality of Education." He said the way of life today requires the basic three R's plus the three R's of "reason, responsibility and reverence."

Robert Brown, Marion school superintendent, spoke on "Russian Education Today." He said English is required in Russian schools. "We educate the massses while in Russia, higher education is for a select few," he said.

Reports were given the delegates on national and state programs. The session included discussion and talks on various topics, recreation periods, field trips, workshops and general sessions.

TV's Big Brother Image

When the string of TV criticism approaches the level of agony, the bruished networks usually attempt to allay the carpers by establishing a fund or "workshop" for the care and feeding of new talent.

Marie Torre

This makes the network look like Big Brother, instead of the cold profit-making organization it is and all good Americans revere the image.

It is a matter of record that all talent development programs undertaken by the networks during the past five years fizzled out within periods ranging from six to 18 months.

Plans for the workshops originally were unveiled with a proud flourish of trumpets, but after the announcements, after the prestige values had been extracted, there was a characteristic lack of serious intent.

THE PROJECTS had something else in common. Each of them was set up without "guarantee" to the participants that any of their work, however brilliant, would ever see the light of home screens.

"That "no guarantee" phrase turned up again the other day in connection with the newly established CBS Television Network Drama Workshop who's been saying what about CBS lately?.

"No, we're not guaranteeing that the efforts of workshop members will be shown on television," explained William Dozier, head of the project that offers a laboratory to writers, directors and producers who have yet to find laurels on which to rest.

"But we will put the shows on tape — between 12 and 15 of them before next summer, if we're lucky.

"These could be put to use in various ways. If one of the CBS night time shows should suddenly go sour at some point in the season the tapes could be used as a hold-the-line operation until another show is readied. "Maybe we could also use a whole group of thirteen tapes as a summer replacement show," Dozier added.

It's the "ifs," the uncertainty of purpose, that we find disconcerting. The ill-fated workshops of the past also were without definite course.

IN MAY OF 1955, we remember, NBC launched the Comedy Writers Development Plan.

A nationwide search was conducted to uncover promising new comedy writers, the best of whom were awarded $165 a week and a seven-year contract.

"We were all happy with the project," recalls a young man who attended the workshop, "but after a year and a half, the program was discontinued because NBC felt that the people were sufficiently trained to go off on their own." (When this young man went off on his own, he landed in public relations and he's there still.)

Television also had the Comedy Performers Development Plan and grants-in-aid funds and assorted other projects which offered promising young talents everything but the most important thing — a showcase.

Someday somebody is going to collect a bunch of bright young artists, give them a half-hour program of their own and say to them: "This is YOUR show—create!" This we'd regard as something to shout about!

BPW Club Plans Observance And Tour Of A-Plant

Plans for the observance of Business & Professional Women's Week and a tour at the atomic power plant at Shippingport, were discussed at a meeting of the Executive Board of the BPW Club Tuesday night at the home of the president, Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, of Fisher Ave.

The club will sponsor a public card party Oct. 5 at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall during the observance. Prizes will be awarded to the high scorers. Lunch will be served.

The tour will take place on Oct. 7 and all members are to fill out forms for admission to the plant.

Chairmen of various standing committees gave their reports. Four road signs will be erected in the city and the "Science Fair" will be held the first week of April.

The next club meeting will be Sept. 9 at 6:30 p. m. at the Travelers Hotel and the federation committee will be in charge of the program. The business meeting will be conducted at 8.

Mrs. Dunlop served lunch, assisted by Mrs. Helen Moore.

Blacktopping Contract Let For Midland

Midland Borough Council Wednesday evening awarded a contract for $15,709.50 for blacktopping Woodlane Ave. to the Beaver Asphalt Paving & Construction Co. of New Brighton, low bidder of three.

The Frank Presto Co. of Ambridge asked $17,871.40 and the Interstate Amiesite Corp. of Monaca, $19,223.85. The work was let following tabulation of bids by Robert Masters, borough solicitor, and on a motion by Councilman by Joe D'Alesio.

D'Alesio and others of the service, streets, sewers and lights committee was given for study of the problem of sidewalk installation at residential properties now without them. A home near the 4th St. School, and sections of Midland Ave. near 12th St. were cited in particular.

D'Alesio said there is an ordinance which can require property owners to put in sidewalks or the borough can have the job done and bill the householder. He said the law has not been enforced, particularly during the recent repression. Now that the borough is in the midst of a steel strike it may not be a good time to enforce it, he said. Absence of sidewalks has forced school children to walk in the streets at some points.

Councilman Harvey Spencer reported that beginning Tuesday, when school resumes, the Veterans Memorial Pool will be open from 4 until 9 p. m. or dark. The pool closes Labor Day, Sept. 7.

Councilman William Vinovich conveyed several complaints of residents in the West End about trees which should be removed. He said Council has spent all the money in this year's budget for tree removal and care, and further tree work will have to wait for next year.

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, read a letter from the Pennsylvania State Department of Justice rating Midland's jail as "excellent." The letter remarked on the structure's sanitary condition and cited the police department's efficiency. The state inspection was made Aug. 3.

James Phillips of the Adressograph - Multigraph Corp. of Pittsburgh presented an offer for a set of equipment for efficient billing of the borough and the school district for various taxes and possible payroll and budget accounting. The equipment would cost about $6,800, he said. Council will study the proposal.

Following adjournment of Council, Jack Wilson, a representative of Morris Knowles, Inc., Pittsburgh planning engineers, reported on progress of the borough's comprehensive plan.

He said studies have been completed of land use, housing and population trends, the economic base and studies of thoroughfares, utilities and finances are now being made.

Wilson said a preliminary report will be given Council probably by its meeting Sept. 23. The plan should be completed by November. The previous deadline was set for October.

Sen. Johnson Says U.S. Must Back Ike On Khrushchev Visit

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Americans must—and will—stand behind President Eisenhower in making the visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev serve the nation's best interest, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) told the American Legion National convention today.

"I have no fears that Mr. Khrushchev can contaminate the American people," the Senate majority leader said. "We can take in stride the best brainwashing he can offer. Our problem is to see to it that Khrushchev will have a true picture of our country, a true picture of our people and our purpose."

Johnson spoke as Legion delegates prepared to vote on foreign relations resolutions, some reportedly aimed at condemning the Khrushchev visit and calling for a tougher stand against the Soviets in the cold war.

Legionnaires have remained critical of the Khrushchev tour even after a talk in support of it before the convention Tuesday by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, another speaker, echoed Johnson that Soviet-American problems cannot be dissolved with Khrushchev's visit.

"Americans must judge the Soviet leaders by their policies, their objectives and deeds and not by the sweet words and jovial manners which have been especially planned, I am sure, for Khrushchev's visit," Meany declared in his prepared speech.

3 Attend Area Teacher Event

Three representatives of the East Liverpool Teachers Association attended a four-day conference held by the Ohio Education Association at Camp Muskingum Sunday through Wednesday.

They were Austen Moore, president; Gyla Nicely, corresponding secretary, and Marjorie Birbeck, second vice president.

Highlight of the conference was a talk by Dr. Walter W. Eshelman, National Education Association president, on integration. He said integration of schools is of national concern because it is a process of integrating all people of all states.

He reported the theme of the NEA this year is "A United Profession Enchances Quality of Education." He said the way of life today requires the basic three R's plus the three R's of "reason, responsibility and reverence."

Robert Brown, Marion school superintendent, spoke on "Russian Education Today." He said English is required in Russian schools. "We educate the massses while in Russia, higher education is for a select few," he said.

Reports were given the delegates on national and state programs. The session included discussion and talks on various topics, recreation periods, field trips, workshops and general sessions.

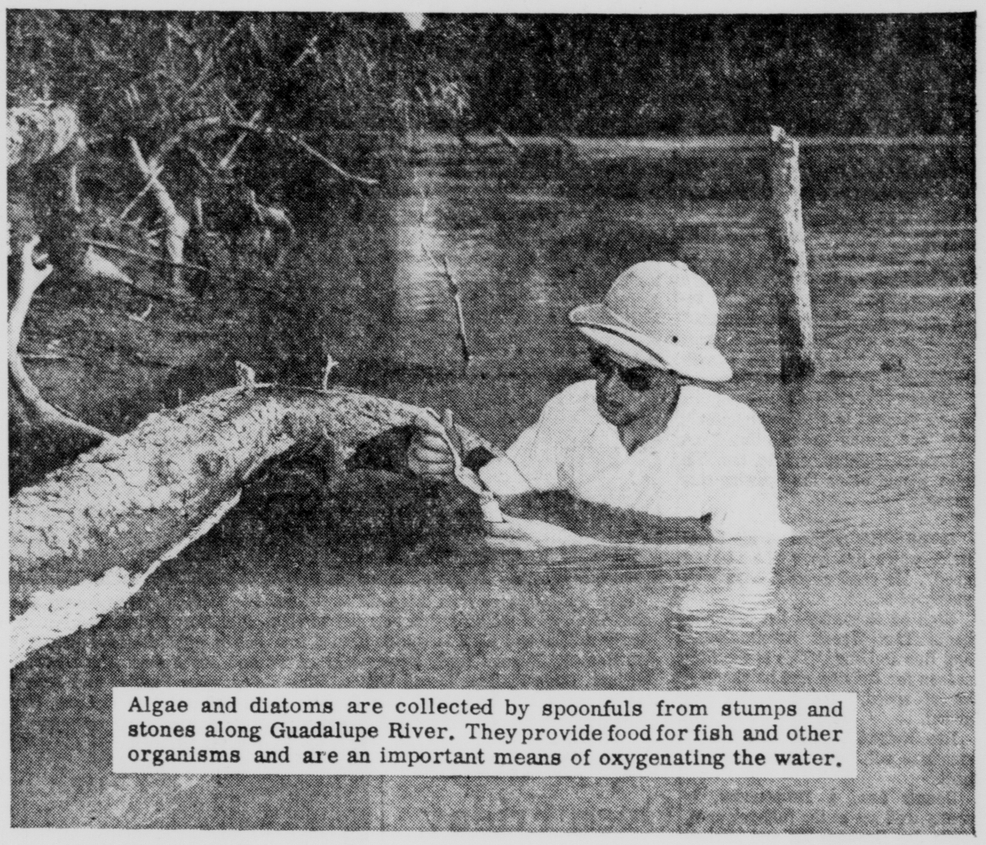
THEY FISH FOR SCIENCE

Scientists cast a fine mesh net to collect fish and small organisms in pollution control study conducted on the Guadalupe River in Texas.



Algae and diatoms are collected by spoonfuls from stumps and stones along Guadalupe River. They provide food for fish and other organisms and are an important means of oxygenating the water.

Fishermen with gear that Izaak Walton would never recognize appear from time to time on streams throughout the country.

They're scientists who are using an array of tweezers, test tubes, microscopes, scrapers, diatometers, chemicals and butterfly nets to make biological studies of rivers on which industrial plants are located.

The studies are designed to insure that proper protective measures are being taken to dispose of the plants' trade waste without destroying the delicate natural balance of the plant and animal life of the river. They also work to prevent pollution from the outset in new plant construction.

The team spends about two weeks at the site collecting data and samples of fish, clams, oysters, mussels, snails, bugs, insects, plants and microscopic organisms that dwell in and along the river. The "catch" is then shipped to the academy's Philadelphia laboratories for evaluation. Analyzed and correlated, it establishes a permanent yardstick and a guide for future operations of the plant.

Mud is collected in dredge, then washed in trays so scientists can study worms and snails living in the bed of the stream. They are important in showing effects of pollution.

Scientists use set of graduated screens to catch worms, clams, insects and other marine species brought up from waters of Wateree River at Camden, S. C.

Water is collected with use of big brass cylinder. It's then analyzed for its oxygen content.

Anatomy and health of fish are checked by protozoologist in Philadelphia laboratory. Fish, while important, represent only about one-tenth of the entire field study.

Things Look Brighter For Newell High's Football Team

16 Lettermen Make Bid For Wells Eleven

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Horoszko said "we will put a team on the field averaging between 155-160 pounds this season," which will give the Newell mentor one of the best balanced squads in several years.

Newell experienced one of its worst seasons in 1958, winning only one and losing seven. But from the early training reports, the Vikings should be on the upswing this season.

HOROSZKO pointed to his backfield, which has been "looking good". He cited several boys with plenty of speed.

High on Horoszko's list are halfbacks Tom Woods, Ronnie Nolan and Bob DeLong. "This is the first season for DeLong and he shows a lot of speed," the Newell coach added.

Dennis Lee, a 155-pounder, is pretty well set at the fullback spot, while Joe Graham 135 and Mickey Staley 160 will be battling for the starting assignment at quarterback.

"If I use Staley at quarterback, Graham will be shifted to halfback," Horoszko said.

Graham is also the No. 1 punter on the team at present and has been getting away kicks of 50 yards or better in practice.

A bright spot in the Newell forward wall is Pearly Adkins, who was a regular as a sophomore, but who sat out his junior year. A senior now, Adkins will be used at end. He is a rugged competitor on defense.

From a squad of 28, Horoszko has 16 lettermen. Some of the other regulars back from last season's wars are Larry Hutton, 165-pounder at center; Ron Dunlevy and George Wiersbicki, two 170-pound tackles; Joe Fuller, 170, and Carl Burligar, 160, at guards.

—:— 8

KENNY ARNOTT, who played regular last season at an end, is getting over sickness and may return later in the season.

Horoszko said Bob Barnett, a 130-pounder, will be seeing a lot of action at end this year, while Jake Geer has been impressive in practice at a tackle post.

The Newell mentor said that only four were lost through graduation. They included backs Steve Norris and Harp McCune, guard Dave Cronin and end Bob Shenton.

Horoszko still has two full weeks to prepare his charges for their opener Sept. 11 at Cameron. The home fans will see the Vikings in action for the first time Sept. 17 when New Cumberland invades Newell Memorial Stadium.

Four other games are slated for the home grounds — Hopedale, Sept. 25; Northwestern, Oct. 8; Irondale, Oct. 23, and Salineville, Oct. 30.

Newell will be on the road Oct. 2 at Wayne, Oct. 16 at Chester and Nov. 6 at Fairfield-Waterford.

Cup Matches Open Friday

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Maybe he was looking for a little psychological edge, but canny Harry Hopman, Australia's Davis Cup captain, today put big Barry MacKay squarely on the spot.

MacKay and Alex Olmedo will play singles for the United States in its defense of the famed trophy Friday at the West Side Tennis Club. Olmedo takes on Neale Fraser in the first test and MacKay goes against Rod Laver in the second match.

"I think we'll win the cup, 3-2," said the sandy-haired Hopman. "Olmedo is the Wimbledon champion, and as such he must be given the edge in his two singles."

So Hopman blithely concedes two singles to the United States, which means that the Aussies must win the other two singles plus the doubles to take the cup down under.

"Yes," he said, "I'm counting on Fraser and Laver to beat MacKay. I haven't announced my doubles combination officially, but of course it will be Fraser and Roy Emerson.

Then it's strictly up to MacKay, the towering Air Force youngster from Dayton, Ohio. As far as Barry is concerned, though, Hopman could be in another world.

"I'm playing the best tennis of my life," he said with a shrug. "I intend to win two singles matches."

After the first two singles, the doubles will be played Saturday and the final two singles Sunday.

Most experts have conceded the doubles to the Aussies. But not U.S. Capt. Perry Jones. He will use Olmedo and 18-year-old Earl Buchholz of St. Louis and, he thundered, he expects them to win.

He also thinks the team that wins the first match will win the cup.

Little League Bowlers Open Season Sept. 9

Little League bowlers will open their season Wednesday, Sept. 9, at the Headpin Alleys in East End, with eight teams participating, Chicken Smith, secretary, announced.

Jockey Receives Protection After Threatening Note

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jockey Buck Thornburg says he isn't concerned about a note threatening his life, but police at Randall Park are taking no chances.

Thornburg has been under constant police guard since he received the penciled note Aug. 15, instructing him to win certain races or be shot. The note also threatened his mother and father, James Thornburg, a horse trainer.

No mention was made of the jockey's wife and two children.

The writer of the note said he had embezzled $1,500 from his employer and lost $1,000 betting on the horses.

Although the letter may have been written by a crank, Roy Finkbein, agent in charge of police at Randall Park where Thornburg currently is racing, said:

Pirates Face IL All-Stars

By The Associated Press

Southpaw Bill Short, Richmond's 16-game winner, likely will start for the International League All-Stars against Pittsburgh and right-hander Bob Porterfield tonight in an exhibition game at Columbus, Ohio.

Clay Bryant, Montreal field boss who'll manage the IL team, hasn't made his pitching choice definite and could switch to Miami's John Anderson (12-9), a righthander.

Rocky Nelson, the International League's triple crown winner last year and now a Pirate, may start at first base, although Manager Danny Murtaugh of the National League club said he would not bring all his regulars for the exhibition.

Heading the IL's attack will be a power - laden crew including home run leader Frank Herrera of Buffalo and teammate Jim Coker, Woody Smith of Miami, Montreal's Sandy Amoros and Charley James of Rochester.

Others in the starting lineup will be Montreal's Curt Roberts, Buffalo's Ruben Amaro and Bobby Del Greco of Buffalo.

Buffalo kept its league lead at 6½ games Wednesday night, apparently responding to manager Kerby Farrell's silent treatment and rapping Montreal 9-2. Farrell didn't say a word to his players Tuesday night after they had lost their third straight to the Royals.

In other games, second-place Havana defeated Miami 10-0 on the five-hit pitching of Raul Sanchez; third-place Columbus nipped Richmond 3-2 on Johnny Jaciuk's two-out bases-loaded single in the ninth, and Rochester beat Toronto 6-5 in 14 innings.

USC Rates Slight Edge On Pacific Coast Teams

By ALAN CLINE
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Far West Five — football's newest big college conference — contains three contenders and two potential trouble makers.

Southern California, California, UCLA and Washington joined after the demise of the Pacific Coast conference and Stanford later came into the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities, legal name of the group.

USC's all-lettermen line smacks of speed and beef with twins Mike and Marlin McKeever, 215 each, tackle Dan Ficca, 235, and George Van Vliet, 195-pound end, providing the muscle.

Willie Wood, hampered by a shoulder injury last year in the Trojan's 4-5-1 season, will be back at quarterback.

Elliott has depth, if nothing else going for him, four lettermen centers returning along with four fullbacks to name two positions.

Coach Jack Curtice at Stanford has a real re-building job in his second season. He lost his entire line from tackle to tackle.

Washington has additional heft up and down the line, along with Don Millich, a halfback who sat out last season. But the Huskies need more over - all offensive punch.

The Huskies have a reputation of being as hard a hitting outfit as there is on the coast. Coach Jim Owens assures this won't change.

Bucs Have Won 12 Of Last 15

Pirates Jolt Giants, 5-4; St. Louis Stops Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pittsburgh's persistent Pirates, still fourth, seven games behind with 26 to play, suddenly have cut themselves in on that National League pennant scrap as the hottest club in the race.

They've won 12 of their last 15. They ran up an 8-3 record against the clubs they have to beat — San Francisco, Los Angeles and Milwaukee by jolting the first-place Giants 5-4 in 10 innings Wednesday night.

Shut out on two hits for eight innings by right-hander Jack Sanford, the Pirates pounded across four runs for a tie in the ninth, then beat reliever Stu Miller in the 10th on singles by Bob Skinner and Bill Mazeroski.

That trimmed the Giants' lead over idle, second-place Los Angeles to three games. St. Louis held Milwaukee in third place, four games back, by beating the Braves 5-2.

Chicago wrested fifth place from Cincinnati, beating the Reds 9-5 in the only other NL game.

In the American League, Cleveland cut Chicago's first place edge to one game, beating New York 5-4 while the White Sox lost 7-6 to Boston. Baltimore beat Kansas City 6-3, and Detroit defeated Washington 3-2.

The Pirates got rid of Sanford, who had a perfect game until the sixth, with singles by Skinner and Dick Groat and a double by Bob Clemente in the ninth. Rocky Nelson then was safe on an error after Miller (7-7) relieved and the Bucs got their tie on a sacrifice fly by Smoky Burgess, a single by Don Haok and Dick Stuart's double.

Ron Kline (9-13), put it away with a one-hit, shutout relief job in the 10th.

The Pirates, winning 17 of their 19 extra-inning games, also have taken three of four games from both Los Angeles and Milwaukee in the spurt. The Giants (7-7) and Dodgers (8-8) have played .500 ball during the Bucs' 12-3 span. Milwaukee is 8-9.

St. Louis junked its loss string at seven while barring the Braves from second place. Larry Jackson (11-12) did it, winning his third in a row from Milwaukee with a seven-hitter and seven strikeouts.

The Cardinals scored twice in the first against Carl Willey (5-7) on Stan Musial's two-out single and an error. Curt Flood hit his fourth homer for the Cards.

With Dave Hiliman (6-9) shutting out the Reds on two hits in a six-inning relief job, the Cubs overhauled a 5-2 Cincinnati lead with three runs in the fifth, two on Irv Noren's double. They beat reliever Brooks Lawrence (7-11) with three in the seventh on doubles by Ernie Banks and Noren and a single by Al Dark. Frank Robinson hit his 32nd homer for the Reds.

Pirates Still In Flag Race

PITTSBURGH (AP) — In the last 11 games against the one-two-three teams in the National League the Pittsburgh Pirates have won eight times and played themselves into pennant contention.

The Pirates whipped league-leading San Francisco 5-4 Wednesday night in a wild 10-inning game that Manager Danny Murtaugh called "a great one to win — a helluva game to win." Pittsburgh is out of first place now by seven games with 26 to play.

In the Giants' quarters Manager Bill Rigney sadly said, "We still have a long way to go to win this pennant."

Then came series victories against Milwaukee, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Rodriguez Beats Stitch, Willing For Another Bout

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Undefeated Luis Rodriguez, who has temporarily smashed Rudell Stitch's welterweight title dreams, says he's willing to fight the Louisville Negro again.

Stitch, two pounds lighter, looked sluggish and was unable to punish Rodriguez effectively.

The victory was the 23rd for Rodriguez and the loss for Stitch was his sixth.

EL Outscores Campbell Eleven In Scrimmage

East Liverpool outscored Campbell Memorial 2-1 in the first scrimmage for the Potters Wednesday at Campbell.

Coach Lou Venditti was satisfied with the performance of the Blue and White and called it "an even scrimmage."

The Potters required only eight plays to tally their first touchdown climaxed when quarterback Bob Mackall scored from on an option play from only a few yards out.

Campbell tied the score on a long pass play, but the Potters went ahead again on a 60-yard pass going from Mackall to end Tim Archer.

Venditti praised the work of Mackall. Both his running and passing were good, the Potter mentor said.

He also singled out the defensive work of ends Ron Prince and Archer and said they did a "real good job."

Venditti was impressed with the running of Henry Roach and the defensive game of guard Jim Bise.

Sheridan Battestelli, Potter halfback, was carried from the field after suffering a knee injury and may be out for a week, Venditti said.

The Potters have a return scrimmage with Campbell Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m. under the lights at Patterson Field.

'Picture Day' Is Set For Friday At ELHS

East Liverpool Coach Lou Venditti said today that "press day" will be held Friday between 5 and 6 p. m. and fans or parents may take pictures of the Potter players at this time. The Potters will be dressed in their game uniforms.

Things Look Brighter For Newell High's Football Team

16 Lettermen Make Bid For Wells Eleven

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Horoszko said "we will put a team on the field averaging between 155-160 pounds this season," which will give the Newell mentor one of the best balanced squads in several years.

Newell experienced one of its worst seasons in 1958, winning only one and losing seven. But from the early training reports, the Vikings should be on the upswing this season.

HOROSZKO pointed to his backfield, which has been "looking good". He cited several boys with plenty of speed.

High on Horoszko's list are halfbacks Tom Woods, Ronnie Nolan and Bob DeLong. "This is the first season for DeLong and he shows a lot of speed," the Newell coach added.

Ron Noland, a pint-sized speedster also will be available at halfback.

Dennis Lee, a 155-pounder, is pretty well set at the fullback spot, while Joe Graham 135 and Mickey Staley 160 will be battling for the starting assignment at quarterback.

"If I use Staley at quarterback, Graham will be shifted to halfback," Horoszko said.

Graham is also the No. 1 punter on the team at present and has been getting away kicks of 50 yards or better in practice.

A bright spot in the Newell forward wall is Pearly Adkins, who was a regular as a sophomore, but who sat out his junior year. A senior now, Adkins will be used at end. He is a rugged competitor on defense.

From a squad of 28, Horoszko has 16 lettermen. Some of the other regulars back from last season's wars are Larry Hutton, 165-pounder at center; Ron Dunlevy and George Wiersbicki, two 170-pound tackles; Joe Fuller, 170, and Carl Burligar, 160, at guards.

Denzil Wilson, 140, and Eugene Hart, 130, who saw considerable varsity action at the terminal spots last year will be back in the lineup along with Gary Evans, 160, who can spell Hutton at center.

—:— 8

KENNY ARNOTT, who played regular last season at an end, is getting over sickness and may return later in the season.

Horoszko said Bob Barnett, a 130-pounder, will be seeing a lot of action at end this year, while Jake Geer has been impressive in practice at a tackle post.

The Newell mentor said that only four were lost through graduation. They included backs Steve Norris and Harp McCune, guard Dave Cronin and end Bob Shenton.

Horoszko still has two full weeks to prepare his charges for their opener Sept. 11 at Cameron. The home fans will see the Vikings in action for the first time Sept. 17 when New Cumberland invades Newell Memorial Stadium.

Four other games are slated for the home grounds — Hopedale, Sept. 25; Northwestern, Oct. 8; Irondale, Oct. 23, and Salineville, Oct. 30.

Newell will be on the road Oct. 2 at Wayne, Oct. 16 at Chester and Nov. 6 at Fairfield-Waterford.

Cup Matches Open Friday

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Maybe he was looking for a little psychological edge, but canny Harry Hopman, Australia's Davis Cup captain, today put big Barry MacKay squarely on the spot.

MacKay and Alex Olmedo will play singles for the United States in its defense of the famed trophy Friday at the West Side Tennis Club. Olmedo takes on Neale Fraser in the first test and MacKay goes against Rod Laver in the second match.

"I think we'll win the cup, 3-2," said the sandy-haired Hopman. "Olmedo is the Wimbledon champion, and as such he must be given the edge in his two singles."

So Hopman blithely concedes two singles to the United States, which means that the Aussies must win the other two singles plus the doubles to take the cup down under.

"Yes," he said, "I'm counting on Fraser and Laver to beat MacKay. I haven't announced my doubles combination officially, but of course it will be Fraser and Roy Emerson.

Then it's strictly up to MacKay, the towering Air Force youngster from Dayton, Ohio. As far as Barry is concerned, though, Hopman could be in another world.

"I'm playing the best tennis of my life," he said with a shrug. "I intend to win two singles matches."

After the first two singles, the doubles will be played Saturday and the final two singles Sunday.

Most experts have conceded the doubles to the Aussies. But not U.S. Capt. Perry Jones. He will use Olmedo and 18-year-old Earl Buchholz of St. Louis and, he thundered, he expects them to win.

He also thinks the team that wins the first match will win the cup.

Jockey Receives Protection After Threatening Note

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jockey Buck Thornburg says he isn't concerned about a note threatening his life, but police at Randall Park are taking no chances.

Thornburg has been under constant police guard since he received the penciled note Aug. 15, instructing him to win certain races or be shot. The note also threatened his mother and father, James Thornburg, a horse trainer.

No mention was made of the jockey's wife and two children.

The writer of the note said he had embezzled $1,500 from his employer and lost $1,000 betting on the horses.

Although the letter may have been written by a crank, Roy Finkbein, agent in charge of police at Randall Park where Thornburg currently is racing, said:

Pirates Face IL All-Stars

By The Associated Press

Southpaw Bill Short, Richmond's 16-game winner, likely will start for the International League All-Stars against Pittsburgh and right-hander Bob Porterfield tonight in an exhibition game at Columbus, Ohio.

Clay Bryant, Montreal field boss who'll manage the IL team, hasn't made his pitching choice definite and could switch to Miami's John Anderson (12-9), a righthander.

Rocky Nelson, the International League's triple crown winner last year and now a Pirate, may start at first base, although Manager Danny Murtaugh of the National League club said he would not bring all his regulars for the exhibition.

Heading the IL's attack will be a power - laden crew including home run leader Frank Herrera of Buffalo and teammate Jim Coker, Woody Smith of Miami, Montreal's Sandy Amoros and Charley James of Rochester.

Others in the starting lineup will be Montreal's Curt Roberts, Buffalo's Ruben Amaro and Bobby Del Greco of Buffalo.

Buffalo kept its league lead at 6½ games Wednesday night, apparently responding to manager Kerby Farrell's silent treatment and rapping Montreal 9-2. Farrell didn't say a word to his players Tuesday night after they had lost their third straight to the Royals.

In other games, second-place Havana defeated Miami 10-0 on the five-hit pitching of Raul Sanchez; third-place Columbus nipped Richmond 3-2 on Johnny Jaciuk's two-out bases-loaded single in the ninth, and Rochester beat Toronto 6-5 in 14 innings.

USC Rates Slight Edge On Pacific Coast Teams

By ALAN CLINE
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Far West Five — football's newest big college conference — contains three contenders and two potential trouble makers.

Southern California, California, UCLA and Washington joined after the demise of the Pacific Coast conference and Stanford later came into the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities, legal name of the group.

USC's all-lettermen line smacks of speed and beef with twins Mike and Marlin McKeever, 215 each, tackle Dan Ficca, 235, and George Van Vliet, 195-pound end, providing the muscle.

Willie Wood, hampered by a shoulder injury last year in the Trojan's 4-5-1 season, will be back at quarterback.

Elliott has depth, if nothing else going for him, four lettermen centers returning along with four fullbacks to name two positions.

Coach Jack Curtice at Stanford has a real re-building job in his second season. He lost his entire line from tackle to tackle.

Washington has additional heft up and down the line, along with Don Millich, a halfback who sat out last season. But the Huskies need more over - all offensive punch.

The Huskies have a reputation of being as hard a hitting outfit as there is on the coast. Coach Jim Owens assures this won't change.

Bucs Have Won 12 Of Last 15

Pirates Jolt Giants, 5-4; St. Louis Stops Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pittsburgh's persistent Pirates, still fourth, seven games behind with 26 to play, suddenly have cut themselves in on that National League pennant scrap as the hottest club in the race.

They've won 12 of their last 15. They ran up an 8-3 record against the clubs they have to beat — San Francisco, Los Angeles and Milwaukee by jolting the first-place Giants 5-4 in 10 innings Wednesday night.

Shut out on two hits for eight innings by right-hander Jack Sanford, the Pirates pounded across four runs for a tie in the ninth, then beat reliever Stu Miller in the 10th on singles by Bob Skinner and Bill Mazeroski.

That trimmed the Giants' lead over idle, second-place Los Angeles to three games. St. Louis held Milwaukee in third place, four games back, by beating the Braves 5-2.

Chicago wrested fifth place from Cincinnati, beating the Reds 9-5 in the only other NL game.

In the American League, Cleveland cut Chicago's first place edge to one game, beating New York 5-4 while the White Sox lost 7-6 to Boston. Baltimore beat Kansas City 6-3, and Detroit defeated Washington 3-2.

The Pirates got rid of Sanford, who had a perfect game until the sixth, with singles by Skinner and Dick Groat and a double by Bob Clemente in the ninth. Rocky Nelson then was safe on an error after Miller (7-7) relieved and the Bucs got their tie on a sacrifice fly by Smoky Burgess, a single by Don Haok and Dick Stuart's double.

Ron Kline (9-13), put it away with a one-hit, shutout relief job in the 10th.

The Pirates, winning 17 of their 19 extra-inning games, also have taken three of four games from both Los Angeles and Milwaukee in the spurt. The Giants (7-7) and Dodgers (8-8) have played .500 ball during the Bucs' 12-3 span. Milwaukee is 8-9.

St. Louis junked its loss string at seven while barring the Braves from second place. Larry Jackson (11-12) did it, winning his third in a row from Milwaukee with a seven-hitter and seven strikeouts.

The Cardinals scored twice in the first against Carl Willey (5-7) on Stan Musial's two-out single and an error. Curt Flood hit his fourth homer for the Cards.

With Dave Hillman (6-9) shutting out the Reds on two hits in a six-inning relief job, the Cubs overhauled a 5-2 Cincinnati lead with three runs in the fifth, two on Irv Noren's double. They beat reliever Brooks Lawrence (7-11) with three in the seventh on doubles by Ernie Banks and Noren and a single by Al Dark. Frank Robinson hit his 32nd homer for the Reds.

Pirates Still In Flag Race

PITTSBURGH (AP) — In the last 11 games against the one-two-three teams in the National League the Pittsburgh Pirates have won eight times and played themselves into pennant contention.

The Pirates whipped league-leading San Francisco 5-4 Wednesday night in a wild 10-inning game that Manager Danny Murtaugh called "a great one to win — a helluva game to win." Pittsburgh is out of first place now by seven games with 26 to play.

In the Giants' quarters Manager Bill Rigney sadly said, "We still have a long way to go to win this pennant."

Then came series victories against Milwaukee, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Rodriguez Beats Stitch, Willing For Another Bout

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Undefeated Luis Rodriguez, who has temporarily smashed Rudell Stitch's welterweight title dreams, says he's willing to fight the Louisville Negro again.

Stitch, two pounds lighter, looked sluggish and was unable to punish Rodriguez effectively.

The victory was the 23rd for Rodriguez and the loss for Stitch was his sixth.

EL Outscores Campbell Eleven In Scrimmage

East Liverpool outscored Campbell Memorial 2-1 in the first scrimmage for the Potters Wednesday at Campbell.

Coach Lou Venditti was satisfied with the performance of the Blue and White and called it "an even scrimmage."

The Potters required only eight plays to tally their first touchdown climaxed when quarterback Bob Mackall scored from on an option play from only a few yards out.

Campbell tied the score on a long pass play, but the Potters went ahead again on a 60-yard pass going from Mackall to end Tim Archer.

Venditti praised the work of Mackall. Both his running and passing were good, the Potter mentor said.

He also singled out the defensive work of ends Ron Prince and Archer and said they did a "real good job."

Venditti was impressed with the running of Henry Roach and the defensive game of guard Jim Bise.

Sheridan Battestelli, Potter halfback, was carried from the field after suffering a knee injury and may be out for a week, Venditti said.

The Potters have a return scrimmage with Campbell Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m. under the lights at Patterson Field.

'Picture Day' Is Set For Friday At ELHS

East Liverpool Coach Lou Venditti said today that "press day" will be held Friday between 5 and 6 p. m. and fans or parents may take pictures of the Potter players at this time. The Potters will be dressed in their game uniforms.

Colavito's HR Provides Indians With 5-4 Win Over Yanks

Chicago's Lead Cut To One After 7-6 Loss To Boston

Tribe Boosts Winning Streak To Eight In Row

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Colavito, major league home run leader, says Ted Williams taught him how to hit a fast ball.

The advice from Boston's great hitter paid off Wednesday night when the Bronx-born slugger slammed his 38th homer off fireballer Ryne Duren. It broke an eighth inning tie and swept Cleveland to its eighth straight triumph, a 5-4 victory over New York.

"It was a hit I probably wouldn't have connected with a couple of years ago," said Rocky modestly. "Duren is so fast that it takes a shorter, quick swing.

"I had that big looping swing and was striking out on fast balls. Then Ted Williams and I had a long talk on batting one night last season and I gradually began to make the switch.

"That talk with Ted was real important for me. You know how much I think of him as a person and a hitter."

The Indians shaved Chicago's American League lead to one game as the White Sox lost 7-6 to Boston. The White Sox come here Friday night for a four-game payoff series.

Colavito also beat the Yanks the night before with a pair of home runs and now has connected with nine round trippers this season against the New Yorkers, a team he idolized as a kid growing up in the Bronx.

The teams matched run for run before Colavito's 400-foot smash sent the 31,800 fans into frenzied applause.

The Yanks scored first on Mickey Mantle's 440-foot - plus first-inning homer, his 25th. The Indians tied it in the first as Vic Power and Tito Francona singled and Power raced home from first when right fielder Hank Bauer bobbled Francona's hit.

Elston Howard's 17th home run in the second inning made it 2-1. But the lead didn't last long. Woodie Held walked, but was forced by Ed Fitz Gerald. The catcher scored from first on pitcher Gary Bell's long double to right-center.

Cleveland went ahead in the seventh on infield singles by Held and Bell, pitcher Duke Maas' wild throw—one of three yankee errors—and Power's single.

The 4-2 Cleveland lead didn't hold either. The Yanks bounced back with two runs on a single by Tony Kubek, a walk to Mantle and Howard's double. That finished Bell and brought on Perry. He retired Hector Lopez to end the inning and set down the lame-duck world champions in the ninth after Rocky rocked 'em with his clutch homer.

Jack Harshman (5-9), but 3-0 with Cleveland since being acquired July 30, draws the big opening assignment against the White Sox Friday night. His mound opponent probably will be Bob Shaw.

Soldier Field Is Scene For Event

Opening Day Ceremonies Touch Off Pan-Am Games

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The largest international sports spectacle in United States' history starts today as the third Pan-American Games are touched off with breath-taking pageantry in mammoth Soldier Field.

The opening day ceremonies, beginning at 2:30 p.m. EDT, officially start the games which, as a sort of junior Olympic Games, follow up similar shows at Buenos Aires in 1951 and at Mexico City in 1955.

This is a widespread athletic carnival in which the United States is expected to make a runaway of most major events in the 20-sport competition.

A continuing heat wave, with 90 degree temperatures, was predicted for the opening ceremonies in which 2,152 athletes from 24 nations will parade before 70,000 in the Stadium on Chicago's Lake Michigan front.

The actual competition begins Friday in track and field, baseball, basketball, fencing, soccer football, tennis, volleyball, weightlifting, and yachting.

The opening highlights include a 24-gun salute to the visiting athletes; a welcoming speech by Dr. Milton Eisenhower; Mayor Daley's proclamation opening the games; and the arrival of the Pan-American torch and release of 5,000 doves, symbolizing peace and friendship among Pan-American nations.

Mexico, the 1955 host, was to lead the parade of athletes with 191 men and 34 women.

Following in alphabetical order were to be: Argentina (111-3); Bahamas (9); Bermuda (10); Brazil (184-40); British Guiana (19); Canada (135-40); Chile (79-16); Costa Rica (43); Cuba (125-15); Dominican Republic (46); Ecuador (28-1); El Salvador (25-5); Guatemala (29); Haiti (37); Mexico (191-34); Netherlands Antilles (14-2); Niccaragua (21); Panama (17-6); Peru (51-25); Puerto Rico (138-16); Uruguay (67-2); Veneuzuela (118-9); West Indies Federation (47-1); and USA (323-83).

Following Mayor Daley's speech proclaiming the games officially open, Ronald Rodriguez, 16-year-old Explorer Scout from Chicago was to trot onto the Soldier Field track, bearing the Pan-Am torch.

The 5,000 doves then will be released and huge Pan - American and Olympic banners will be strung up.

George Worth of New York City, a championship fencer, will step from the ranks and take the Pan-American oath. He replaces Jack Kelly, the sculling champion brother of Princess Grace of Monaco, unable to make the opening day in time.

The United States colors, during this ceremony, will be carried by Ray Norton, sprint star from San Jose State College.

Early Wynn Is Loser Of 2nd Straight Start

Cleveland's big guy is up, Chicago's big guys are down—and the Indians have trimmed the White Sox' American league lead to one game.

With Rocky Colavito back to blasting home runs, the Injuns have chopped 3½ games off Chicago's lead by winning eight in a row, their longest streak since 1956.

The White Sox have barely played .500 ball, hurting from the loss of injured Billy Pierce and the ineffectivee work of ailing Dick Donovan. That has piled too big a pitching load on Early Wynn, their right-handed ace at 39.

Colavito edged the Indians closer to the lead by socking a tie-breaking homer in the eighth inning Wednesday night for a 5-4 victory over the New York Yankees. It was Rocko's third in two games and his 38th of the year—tops in the majors.

The White Sox were beaten 7-6 by Boston as Wynn, starting with only two days' rest, lost his second in a row.

Baltimore jumped into third place—14 games behind with a 6-3 victory at Kansas City. Detroit tied New York for fourth by beating Washington 3-2.

In the National League, Pittsburgh's suddenly persistent Pirates beat San Francisco 5-4 in the 10th, cutting the Giants' lead over idle Los Angeles to three games. St. Louis held Milwaukee in third by beating the Braves 5 2. Chicago whipped Cincinnati 9-5.

Cleveland, making up four games on Chicago in the loss column with the streak, twice battled back for ties in the first two innings after solo homers by Yankees Mickey Mantle (25) and Elston Howard (17), blew a 4-2 lead on Howard's two-out, two-run double in the eighth.

Colavito, who has homered for his only three hits in his last 17 at bats, then clobbered Ryne Duren (2-6) for the clincher. Duren has been tagged for five home runs in his last seven innings.

Wynn (16-9) had allowed only two hits and led 2-1 until the Red Sox put across four runs, two unearned, in the seventh. A pinch double by Gene Stephens started it. An error and walk chased Wynn and reliever Gerry Staley then gave up a two-run single by Gary Geiger, an RBI single by Pete Runnels and a sacrifice fly by Frank Malzone.

Two runs in the eighth, both unearned on an error and squeeze bunt by relief pitcher Nels Chittum, put it away against Turk Lown, giving the Red Sox just enough cushion to beat off Chicago's final bid on Jim Rivera's three-run double in the eighth. Bill Monbouqueett (5-5) won it.

The Orioles beat lefty Bud Daley (15-9) for the first time in six decisions behind homers by Bob Nieman (15), Brooks Robinson (2) and Willie Tasby (11). Daley was handed an automatic $50 bean-ball fine by umpire Frank Umont when he nicked Nieman.

A leadoff home run by Eddie Yost (16) and two runs in the fifth on Al Kaline's double and a bases-loaded walk won it for the Tigers and Jim Bunning (13-10), who had a one-hit shutout before needing relief help in the eighth.

Cards' Owner Snubbed $6 Million For Club

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Globe-Democrat said today it had learned that President August A. Busch Jr. turned down within the last eight months a six-million dollar offer for his St. Louis Cardinals.

The newspaper said Jimmy Conzelman, a member of the board of directors of the Cardinals, quoted Bush as saying "The club definitely is not for sale."

Conzelman wouldn't say where the syndicate that made the offer is located.

Redlegs Slip To Sixth Place

CINCINNATI (AP)—Unless the situation changes quickly the Cincinnati Reds' chances of getting one of those small-sized cuts of 1959 World Series money are mighty dim.

The top four finishers in the league share in the World Series money—and a 9-5 beating the Reds took from Chicago Wednesday night not only dropped them into sixth place but knocked them 4½ games behind fourth place Pittsburgh.

Just as on the night before, it was the pitching that failed Cincinnati again Wednesday. The Cubs are seventh in the league in team batting but they like the Cincinnati brand of hurling.

The Reds figure to bring up Claude Osteen and other young hurlers when the minor league seasons end. Maybe they can take up the slack but the Pirates—and Cubs—have to do some faltering before the Reds could land fourth place.

The Reds blew a 5-2 lead in losing Wednesday night. They spotted the Cubs a pair of runs in the opening inning on a double and four singles but came right back to get four in their half.

Those were on singles by Johnny Temple and Vada Pinson, a wild pitch, a hit batsman, a walk and a base-clearing double by Jerry Lynch.

Frank Robinson homered in the third off starter Glen Hobbie but that was the end of the road for Cincinnati. Dave Hillman came on in the fourth and allowed only two hits over the last six innings.

The Cubs got rid of starter Hook with a threat in the third. Then they teed off on Pena in the fifth for three runs that tied the score.

Tony Taylor, who had four hits for the night, doubled. After an infield out, Jim Marshall singled Taylor home. A single by Art Schult and a double by Irv Noren drove in two more.

Lawrence was the victim when the Cubs locked it up in the seventh with three more runs.

A walk was followed by Banks' run-scoring double. Another double by Noren and a single by Al Dark sent two more runs across.

Favorite Is Upset In Women's Amateur Golf Championship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Philadelphia veterans who weren't supposed to do any such thing have shouldered their way into the quarter-finals of the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

While Mrs. Mark Porter and Mrs. Paul Klinefelter were surprise arrivals in the round of eight today JoAnne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash., was absent just as unexpectedly.

Mrs. Klinefelter, 31-year-old Philadelphia housewife, shut the door on 20-year-old Miss Gunderson Wednesday, 1 up.

Defending champion Anne Quast, 21, of Marysville, Wash., headed the younger set, which advanced with the oldtimers on the Congressional Country Club's 6,457-yard, par 37-37—74 course.

JoAnne Goodwin, runner-up in three major tournaments this year, was the only one to shoot par golf through the first four rounds. She's right on the beam for 62 holes, including a thrilling 19-hole triumph Wednesday over Diana Hoke of Pittsburgh.

Miss Quast is 2 over for 56 holes. She's been no farther than the 15th green in any match.

Mrs. Klinefelter, mother of three, hadn't played any serious tournament golf since 1948.

Mrs. Porter has been in four Nationals since winning in 1949 but never has gone beyond the third round. She entered the quarters on a 4 and 3 victory over Sandra Clifford, 21, of Mexico City, amateur champion of Mexico, Spain and Germany.

Casey Will Be Manager In 1960, Wife Says

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Want to know who is going to manage the New York Yankees next year?

Mrs. Edna Stengel can tell you—Casey Stengel's the name. He's her husband.

"I don't want him to quit," Mrs. Stengel told an interviewer Wednesday as she came home for a quick visit while the Yankees are on the road.

"He'll be around baseball as long as he has the health to walk out there on the diamond."

Colavito's HR Provides Indians With 5-4 Win Over Yanks

Chicago's Lead Cut To One After 7-6 Loss To Boston

Tribe Boosts Winning Streak To Eight In Row

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Colavito, major league home run leader, says Ted Williams taught him how to hit a fast ball.

The advice from Boston's great hitter paid off Wednesday night when the Bronx-born slugger slammed his 38th homer off fireballer Ryne Duren. It broke an eighth inning tie and swept Cleveland to its eighth straight triumph, a 5-4 victory over New York.

"It was a hit I probably wouldn't have connected with a couple of years ago," said Rocky modestly. "Duren is so fast that it takes a shorter, quick swing.

"I had that big looping swing and was striking out on fast balls. Then Ted Williams and I had a long talk on batting one night last season and I gradually began to make the switch.

"That talk with Ted was real important for me. You know how much I think of him as a person and a hitter."

The Indians shaved Chicago's American League lead to one game as the White Sox lost 7-6 to Boston. The White Sox come here Friday night for a four-game payoff series.

Colavito also beat the Yanks the night before with a pair of home runs and now has connected with nine round trippers this season against the New Yorkers, a team he idolized as a kid growing up in the Bronx.

The teams matched run for run before Colavito's 400-foot smash sent the 31,800 fans into frenzied applause.

The Yanks scored first on Mickey Mantle's 440-foot - plus first-inning homer, his 25th. The Indians tied it in the first as Vic Power and Tito Francona singled and Power raced home from first when right fielder Hank Bauer bobbled Francona's hit.

Elston Howard's 17th home run in the second inning made it 2-1. But the lead didn't last long. Woodie Held walked, but was forced by Ed Fitz Gerald. The catcher scored from first on pitcher Gary Bell's long double to right-center.

Cleveland went ahead in the seventh on infield singles by Held and Bell, pitcher Duke Maas' wild throw—one of three yankee errors—and Power's single.

The 4-2 Cleveland lead didn't hold either. The Yanks bounced back with two runs on a single by Tony Kubek, a walk to Mantle and Howard's double. That finished Bell and brought on Perry. He retired Hector Lopez to end the inning and set down the lame-duck world champions in the ninth after Rocky rocked 'em with his clutch homer.

Jack Harshman (5-9), but 3-0 with Cleveland since being acquired July 30, draws the big opening assignment against the White Sox Friday night. His mound opponent probably will be Bob Shaw.

Favorite Is Upset In Women's Amateur Golf Championship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Philadelphia veterans who weren't supposed to do any such thing have shouldered their way into the quarter-finals of the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

While Mrs. Mark Porter and Mrs. Paul Klinefelter were surprise arrivals in the round of eight today JoAnne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash., was absent just as unexpectedly.

Mrs. Klinefelter, 31-year-old Philadelphia housewife, shut the door on 20-year-old Miss Gunderson Wednesday, 1 up.

Defending champion Anne Quast, 21, of Marysville, Wash., headed the younger set, which advanced with the oldtimers on the Congressional Country Club's 6,457-yard, par 37-37—74 course.

JoAnne Goodwin, runner-up in three major tournaments this year, was the only one to shoot par golf through the first four rounds. She's right on the beam for 62 holes, including a thrilling 19-hole triumph Wednesday over Diana Hoke of Pittsburgh.

Miss Quast is 2 over for 56 holes. She's been no farther than the 15th green in any match.

Mrs. Klinefelter, mother of three, hadn't played any serious tournament golf since 1948.

Mrs. Porter has been in four Nationals since winning in 1949 but never has gone beyond the third round. She entered the quarters on a 4 and 3 victory over Sandra Clifford, 21, of Mexico City, amateur champion of Mexico, Spain and Germany.

Casey Will Be Manager In 1960, Wife Says

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Want to know who is going to manage the New York Yankees next year?

Mrs. Edna Stengel can tell you—Casey Stengel's the name. He's her husband.

"I don't want him to quit," Mrs. Stengel told an interviewer Wednesday as she came home for a quick visit while the Yankees are on the road.

"He'll be around baseball as long as he has the health to walk out there on the diamond."

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Rocky Colavito, Indians, moved Cleveland within one game of first place with an eighth-inning, tie-breaking home run that beat the Yankees 5-4.

Pitching — Dave Hillman, Cubs, shut out the Reds over the last six innings with a two-hit relief performance for a 9-5 victory.

Mack Garner, a candidate this year for the National Jockeys Hall of Fame, died Oct. 28, 1936, of a heart attack after riding four races at River Downs, Ohio.

72-Year-Old To Try Again

Lack Of Hot Air Curtails Balloonist's Rise At Fair

"Almost—but not quite" was the outcome of an attempted balloon ascension by John Oliver at twilight Wednesday at the 114th Columbiana County Fair in Lisbon.

The 72-year-old Lisbon aerialist, using a propane gas system to heat his huge muslin balloon, finally left the earth almost three hours past his scheduled ascent but the ride lasted only a few seconds—much to the dismay of several thousand onlookers.

Three special burners rigged with the advice of a California technician burned over 3 million BTU's of propane to fill the huge cloth bag with heated air but apparently most leaked out and Oliver's parachute jump from the balloon was re-scheduled for today.

He explained later the new cloth leaked the hot gasses and he will try to coat the inside of the bag before his jump this evening.

A large crowd gathered in the infield and main grandstand as early as 4 p. m. and many still were at the scene when a loudspeaker announced about 8 p. m. that the jump would have to be postponed.

However, last-ditch manipulating of the balloon sewed this summer by two Leetonia women, somehow preserved sufficient heat to expand it enough so that Oliver ordered the go-ahead for the ascension.

At 8:04, the tow ropes holding the white bag over a wooden chimney, in which a hot gas flame was burning, were cast free and Oliver swung into the air in his parachute contraption as the balloon began soaring into the atmosphere.

But shouts of "there he goes" soon turned to groans of dismay as the balloon and Oliver rose only about 100 feet then drifted slowly earthward near the launching site.

Many bystanders ventured that the balloon was new and could not hold enough heat without first being "coated" with smoke from burning wood or rubber. It was sewn in about a month by Mrs. Vera Oliver and Mrs. Edna Steckner, who used nearly 1,000 yards of muslin, piecing the panels together with an electric sewing machine.

Ted Pfeifer, owner of the Ever-Ready Gas Co., of Columbiana, who supplied the butane fuel, said he got the idea from a technician in California and that gas-heating of a balloon was never tried anywhere in the world before. The technician, who furnished data for erecting three special burners capable of each burning a million BTU's of propane gas, is the technical director of the Butane-Propane News, a gas company publication.

Pfeifer said he believes "there is definitely a possibility of raising the balloon with the gas heating system and it probably will be tried again."

Oliver made four parachute jumps from the balloon used last year after successful ascensions. Deputies from the county sheriff's office in Lisbon were spread out around the area in patrol cars and were to rush to the spot where Oliver had expected to land in his parachute.

72-Year-Old To Try Again

Lack Of Hot Air Curtails Balloonist's Rise At Fair

"Almost—but not quite" was the outcome of an attempted balloon ascension by John Oliver at twilight Wednesday at the 114th Columbiana County Fair in Lisbon.

The 72-year-old Lisbon aerialist, using a propane gas system to heat his huge muslin balloon, finally left the earth almost three hours past his scheduled ascent but the ride lasted only a few seconds—much to the dismay of several thousand onlookers.

Three special burners rigged with the advice of a California technician burned over 3 million BTU's of propane to fill the huge cloth bag with heated air but apparently most leaked out and Oliver's parachute jump from the balloon was re-scheduled for today.

He explained later the new cloth leaked the hot gasses and he will try to coat the inside of the bag before his jump this evening.

A large crowd gathered in the infield and main grandstand as early as 4 p. m. and many still were at the scene when a loudspeaker announced about 8 p. m. that the jump would have to be postponed.

However, last-ditch manipulating of the balloon sewed this summer by two Leetonia women, somehow preserved sufficient heat to expand it enough so that Oliver ordered the go-ahead for the ascension.

At 8:04, the tow ropes holding the white bag over a wooden chimney, in which a hot gas flame was burning, were cast free and Oliver swung into the air in his parachute contraption as the balloon began soaring into the atmosphere.

But shouts of "there he goes" soon turned to groans of dismay as the balloon and Oliver rose only about 100 feet then drifted slowly earthward near the launching site.

Many bystanders ventured that the balloon was new and could not hold enough heat without first being "coated" with smoke from burning wood or rubber. It was sewn in about a month by Mrs. Vera Oliver and Mrs. Edna Steckner, who used nearly 1,000 yards of muslin, piecing the panels together with an electric sewing machine.

Ted Pfeifer, owner of the Ever-Ready Gas Co., of Columbiana, who supplied the butane fuel, said he got the idea from a technician in California and that gas-heating of a balloon was never tried anywhere in the world before. The technician, who furnished data for erecting three special burners capable of each burning a million BTU's of propane gas, is the technical director of the Butane-Propane News, a gas company publication.

Pfeifer said he believes "there is definitely a possibility of raising the balloon with the gas heating system and it probably will be tried again."

Oliver made four parachute jumps from the balloon used last year after successful ascensions. Deputies from the county sheriff's office in Lisbon were spread out around the area in patrol cars and were to rush to the spot where Oliver had expected to land in his parachute.

2 Hospital Employes Aid Woman In Crucial Surgery

An East Liverpool woman who underwent delicate heart surgery in Cleveland may owe her life to two employes of Fairview Park Hospital who donated critically needed blood on the spur of the moment during the operation.

Mrs. Betty Fisher of Ephriam St. was aided by a beautiful young girl who works at a desk in the blood bank and a technician who operates the pump on the heart-lung machine in open heart surgery.

Mrs. Fisher, wife of Herbert Fisher, a taxi driver here, undrewent the delicate operation on Aug. 14. It was open heart surgery on the mitral valve, between the upper and lower left chambers of the heart. The valve had narrowed as a result of rheumatic fever she suffered as a child, physicians said.

In an unprecedented emergency in this kind of surgery, the operating team required more B-negative blood for Mrs. Fisher.

They had used all the blood given that morning by many volunteers. Blood for open heart surgery has to be fresh, taken just before the operation. Bank blood will not do.

There was no time to hunt up outsiders who might have B-negative blood. The need was imperative.

Miss Mary Ann Berenes of Lakewood, on duty in the Blood Bank, heard about the crisis.

"I have B-negative blood", she said. "You can use mine."

John Galajda of North Ridgeville, the technician operating the pump of the heart-lung machine during the operation, said: "So do I. I'll give her a pint."

So a pint was quickly drawn from Miss Bertenes. And as soon as the pump no longer was needed to carry Mrs. Fisher, Galajda rolled up his sleeve to give his pint. The pump carried her for 38 minutes.

Today, Mrs. Fisher is walking about the halls of Fairview, ready to go home in a few days. She lived in Cleveland until two years ago.

Most of the blood volunteers came from Ford Motor Co. at its nearby plant. They usually give only for the Ford family. Mrs. Fisher has a distant relative working for Ford but the need was so great that 24 employes went over that morning on their own time to help out.

NEW LIEUTENANT TAKES OATH. Thomas A. Walker, left, officially became a police lieutenant Wednesday afternoon after taking the oath of office from Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw. He was appointed yesterday from the top of a Civil Service list to succeed Lt. George B. Kidd, who resigned because of an injury to his neck resulting from a collision between an auto and a cruiser. Lt. Walker will continue to head the 4 p. m.-to-midnight shift, Safety-Service Director Joseph Ross said.

Coroner Expresses Concern Over Growing Highway Toll

LISBON — Accidental deaths are steadily increasing, according to a report compiled by Dr. William A. Kolozsi, Columbiana County coroner.

Of the total number reported to his office each year, about one third is the result of sudden violence. The remainder are from natural cause, self destruction or homicide.

There is a progressive increase in accidental deaths other than those caused by automobile accidents. Four years ago this figure totaled 40 per cent. Today, it approaches 50 per cent. These deaths are result of falls, crush injuries, drowning, high voltage shock and exposure to harmful gases.

"The sad thing about them is that most could be prevented with proper safeguards. Principles of safety learned at school and from the National Safety Council should be carefully put into practice," he said.

Death from highway and auto accidents fluctuates. The apparent peak of 30 per year was reached in 1955. But 1957 evidently was the safest year with 19. To July 31, there had been 18 in this county.

Suddenly, 4 more were added on Aug. 8 due to one mass mishap followed by two more within a week. Thus, the present figure is 24. "If this continues Columbiana County could well have its saddest and most shameful year in 1959," he pointed out.

"The public should be aware of the harm innocently caused by taking sedatives, some common cold remedies, or nerve pills. The warning label on the medicine bottle should be checked carefully. The advice of a doctor should be sought. The standard question should be 'is it safe to take this medicine before I drive or will it make me sleepy?' "

"Common sense could prevent most of the highway accidents. The best possible advice is not to drive unless the car, person driving and the road conditions are all in top or ideal condition. The loss of a loved one, whether wage earner or not, cannot be measured in dollars and cents. Permanent physical impairment resulting from any accident marks a man and makes him less valuable to himself, his family, his employer and society at large.

"Please be always on the alert and extremely careful," the coroner pleaded.

Waiter Hit By Cohen Wins $4,000 Damages

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A waiter roughed up by Mickey Cohen in a Hollywood restaurant last Jan. 28 has been awarded $4,000 in damages.

Superior Court Judge Joseph L. Call, in awarding damages Wednesday, said there is "abundant testimony by Black that he was unable to procure work as a waiter because restaurant owners feared reprisal from Cohen."

Michigan State has played 103 different football teams since the Spartans started in the sport in 1896.

Southern Local Expects 1,100 Opening Day

This will be less than last year's enrollment but Fairview School at Hillcrest has been transferred to Wellsville.

The students will attend a full-day schedule, according to Jack Baker, executive head. Teachers' meetings will be held Monday at the Salineville cafeteria. In the afternoon teachers will go to their buildings to check books.

The cafeterias at Highlandtown, No. 16, Wayne and Salineville will operate the first day. It was first announced they would not open until the second day.

The school schedules will operate primarily the same as last year and all buses will travel the same routes. The schools will remain on Daylight Saving Time through September, reverting to Standard Time Oct. 5.

Baker said the bus inspections will be held at Highlandtown Tuesday and Wednesday at 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. each day. The inspections were originally set for West Point.

Twelve Southern Local buses and two from Franklin Local will be inspected.

Bake also said a new outside basketball court has been constructed at Highlandtown and new playground equipment installed at No. 16. Both projects were done with the co-operation of the Parent - Teacher Associations, he said.

A questionnaire will be sent home with all students the first day regarding polio immunization but no polio shots will be given until the compulsory state law is clarified.

Farm Women Air Organization Problems

Community and organization problems were discussed at the meeting of the Hancock County Home Demonstration Council Wednesday afternoon at the Swaney Library at New Cumberland. Miss Helen Petrakis, county 4-H agent, was in charge.

In determinating the problems, interest check sheets and factual information sheets were used. The farm women previously checked information at their club meetings during July and August, which were sent to the county office.

Miss Petrakis announced that a state meeting will be held Sept. 14 at Jacksons Mill when state problems will be determined.

The state meeting will be followed by a county meeting by the farm women to decide on methods to solve some of the problems. The date will be announced.

Banking Institute Sets Steubenville Classes

A "kickoff dinner" was held Wednesday at Steubenville with Fred W. Brush, assistant vice president of the Central National Bank in Cleveland and member of the AIB executive committee, as guest speaker.

Coroner Expresses Concern Over Growing Highway Toll

LISBON — Accidental deaths are steadily increasing, according to a report compiled by Dr. William A. Kolozsi, Columbiana County coroner.

Of the total number reported to his office each year, about one third is the result of sudden violence. The remainder are from natural cause, self destruction or homicide.

There is a progressive increase in accidental deaths other than those caused by automobile accidents. Four years ago this figure totaled 40 per cent. Today, it approaches 50 per cent. These deaths are result of falls, crush injuries, drowning, high voltage shock and exposure to harmful gases.

"The sad thing about them is that most could be prevented with proper safeguards. Principles of safety learned at school and from the National Safety Council should be carefully put into practice," he said.

Death from highway and auto accidents fluctuates. The apparent peak of 30 per year was reached in 1955. But 1957 evidently was the safest year with 19. To July 31, there had been 18 in this county.

Suddenly, 4 more were added on Aug. 8 due to one mass mishap followed by two more within a week. Thus, the present figure is 24. "If this continues Columbiana County could well have its saddest and most shameful year in 1959," he pointed out.

"The public should be aware of the harm innocently caused by taking sedatives, some common cold remedies, or nerve pills. The warning label on the medicine bottle should be checked carefully. The advice of a doctor should be sought. The standard question should be 'is it safe to take this medicine before I drive or will it make me sleepy?' "

"Common sense could prevent most of the highway accidents. The best possible advice is not to drive unless the car, person driving and the road conditions are all in top or ideal condition. The loss of a loved one, whether wage earner or not, cannot be measured in dollars and cents. Permanent physical impairment resulting from any accident marks a man and makes him less valuable to himself, his family, his employer and society at large.

"Please be always on the alert and extremely careful," the coroner pleaded.

Waiter Hit By Cohen Wins $4,000 Damages

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A waiter roughed up by Mickey Cohen in a Hollywood restaurant last Jan. 28 has been awarded $4,000 in damages.

Arthur M. Black, 30, said the ex-gambler struck him without warning during a crowded reception.

Superior Court Judge Joseph L. Call, in awarding damages Wednesday, said there is "abundant testimony by Black that he was unable to procure work as a waiter because restaurant owners feared reprisal from Cohen."

Michigan State has played 103 different football teams since the Spartans started in the sport in 1896.

Southern Local Expects 1,100 Opening Day

Some 1,100 pupils are expected to report for classes at the start of the fall term Tuesday at Southern Local District's five schools.

This will be less than last year's enrollment but Fairview School at Hillcrest has been transferred to Wellsville.

The students will attend a full-day schedule, according to Jack Baker, executive head. Teachers' meetings will be held Monday at the Salineville cafeteria. In the afternoon teachers will go to their buildings to check books.

The cafeterias at Highlandtown, No. 16, Wayne and Salineville will operate the first day. It was first announced they would not open until the second day.

The school schedules will operate primarily the same as last year and all buses will travel the same routes. The schools will remain on Daylight Saving Time through September, reverting to Standard Time Oct. 5.

Baker said the bus inspections will be held at Highlandtown Tuesday and Wednesday at 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. each day. The inspections were originally set for West Point.

Twelve Southern Local buses and two from Franklin Local will be inspected.

Bake also said a new outside basketball court has been constructed at Highlandtown and new playground equipment installed at No. 16. Both projects were done with the co-operation of the Parent - Teacher Associations, he said.

A questionnaire will be sent home with all students the first day regarding polio immunization but no polio shots will be given until the compulsory state law is clarified.

All first graders will receive immunization shots for whooping cough, diphtheria and small pox Sept. 8.

The morning milk program will be continued this year.

Farm Women Air Organization Problems

Community and organization problems were discussed at the meeting of the Hancock County Home Demonstration Council Wednesday afternoon at the Swaney Library at New Cumberland. Miss Helen Petrakis, county 4-H agent, was in charge.

In determinating the problems, interest check sheets and factual information sheets were used. The farm women previously checked information at their club meetings during July and August, which were sent to the county office.

Miss Petrakis announced that a state meeting will be held Sept. 14 at Jacksons Mill when state problems will be determined.

The state meeting will be followed by a county meeting by the farm women to decide on methods to solve some of the problems. The date will be announced.

Banking Institute Sets Steubenville Classes

The American Institute of Banking will offer a course in "Fundamentals of Banking" when classes begin Wednesday at the Ohio Power Co. in Steubenville.

A "kickoff dinner" was held Wednesday at Steubenville with Fred W. Brush, assistant vice president of the Central National Bank in Cleveland and member of the AIB executive committee, as guest speaker.

Austen Moore of Lisbon St., fund campaign chairman for Columbiana County, will give a report at a "Roundup, Get Acquainted Meeting" to be held next Thursday at Wheeling by the Ohio Valley College, a proposed liberal arts junior college to be built at Parkersburg.

A 126-acre tract has been purchased in Parkersburg and plans call for construction of buildings to begin this fall. Exley Rice is the drive chairman in Jefferson County. Moore is president of the East Liverpool Teachers Association and the local high school driver training instructor.

Timken Sets $5 Million To Double Its Output

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Timken Roller Bearing Co. said Wednesday it will spend $5,250,000 to double the output of its Columbus, Ohio, railroad bearing plant.

The expansion will require 150 more employes and will have an annual capacity of 20,000 sets of all-purpose bearings for freight cars.

Must Wear Robes In California

It's Unlawful For Judge To Hear Suit In A Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Starting next month, it will be against the law for a California judge to hear a suit in a suit.

In fact, this costume will be required for all trials, because a new state law says: "Every judge of a court of record shall in open court during presentation of causes before him wear a judicial robe which he shall furnish at his own expense."

Superior Court Judge LeRoy Dawson, for example, calls the law "the most stupid piece of legislation I have ever heard of."

"I am waiting with bated breath," he said, "to see what kind of uniform the legislators order for themselves."

"Another effort to augment the principles of conformity that have been evident during the past 25 years in this country," grumbled Superior Court Judge Joseph L. Call.

Judge Call said he will conform. But he pointed to the state constitution, which says judges must swear to support and defend the state and federal constitutions — "and no other oath, declaration or test shall be required."

Superior Court Judge Arthur Crum, who has never owned a robe during his 28 years on the bench, commented: "I don't think you can make a judge out of a man simply by making him a clothes rack."

"The Judgment Day will weigh their worth by canon 67:
"Those who refuse a robe on earth will get no robe in heaven."

New Principal Awaits Start Of Midland Parochial School

Sister Ermeline, novice mistress, has been appointed principal of the Midland's Presentation Parochial school by the Mt. Alvernia motherhouse at Millvale, Pa. The school will open Sept. 3. She succeeds Sister Margaretta who returned to the motherhouse in July for reassignment.

About 460 pupils are expected, about the same number as last term. Fr. Francis E. Paul, pastor, said. Teachers include seven sisters, six of whom are new, and three lay teachers including one newcomer.

Returning are Sister Florine and Joseph Martini and Miss Elizabeth Smelko.

Painting was completed last week on the exterior of the school and the rectory.

He said work is about to begin on two fire exits for the school and an additional exit to the boiler room. The work will be done by the Modany Brothers of Midland.

Work of clearing adjacent land for a new church and convent began last week by members of the parish, directed by George Cindrich and the Gengarella Brothers, who donated their time.

The convent house has been torn down and some 16 trees removed from behind the rectory and church and the land leveled. Two houses were on Ohio Ave. near the church torn down Monday.

The temporary convent house is at 801 Beaver Ave.

A model of the proposed church will be made by Joseph Bontempo, Rochester architect, to be displayed at the church.

Girl Bitten By Cat

LISBON—The Columbiana County Health Department is awaiting a report from the state laboratories on whether a cat was rabid when it bit Debra McCullough, 10, of Summitville Sunday. The girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McCollough and she was treated by a Salineville physician. The health department forwarded the pet's head for the examination after it was brought in by Constable Forrest Young.

Pupils To Use Church Room

There will be full-day classes Wednesday for all grades except first and second of the Western Beaver County School District, Frank A. Meredith, supervising principal, said.

He said arrangements have been completed with the Four-Mile United Presbyterian Church to rent three classrooms for Grades 3, 4 and 5.

The church will be used until the new Ray W. Snyder School is completed about Jan. 1, Meredith said.

First and second grades at Fairview School and Logan School will again be on half-day sessions. Fairview's schedule will be the same as last year. Grade 1 at Logan will report from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and Grade 2 will report from 12:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Most students will report at 8:30 a. m. The Fairview cafeteria will be open the first day. Prices will be the same as last year, 30 cents a day or $1.50 per week. Milk will be sold to children on half-day sessions at last year's price, 4 cents a day or 20 cents a week.

Tuition cards for high school students may be secured from Mrs. Evelyn Perine, Board of Education secretary, at the Fairview School any day except Saturday or Sunday between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. All students going to Midland Lincoln High School must have a card before they can be enrolled, Meredith said.

Bus schedules will be the same as last year.

The government estimates that about two billion dollars is spent on angling in the United States each year.

Weirton Steel Fills Metallurgical Position

Plesa succeeds Harold Leuthke, who was named chief metallurgist at Midwest Steel Corp., the new plant. The National Steel Corp. is building at Portage, Ind.

A native of Blaine, Plesa is a graduate of Weir High School and West Virginia University, where he received a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering. He began working at Weirton Steel in June 1941.

College Backers Set Meeting At Wheeling

Austen Moore of Lisbon St., fund campaign chairman for Columbiana County, will give a report at a "Roundup, Get Acquainted Meeting" to be held next Thursday at Wheeling by the Ohio Valley College, a proposed liberal arts junior college to be built at Parkersburg.

A 126-acre tract has been purchased in Parkersburg and plans call for construction of buildings to begin this fall. Exley Rice is the drive chairman in Jefferson County. Moore is president of the East Liverpool Teachers Association and the local high school driver training instructor.

Timken Sets $5 Million To Double Its Output

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Timken Roller Bearing Co. said Wednesday it will spend $5,250,000 to double the output of its Columbus, Ohio, railroad bearing plant.

The present bearing production line at Columbus has been going at full capacity since last December, Bergstrom said.

The expansion will require 150 more employes and will have an annual capacity of 20,000 sets of all-purpose bearings for freight cars.

17 Dead After Rains

TOKYO (AP)—At least 17 Japanese were reported dead and another 84 missing today after torrential rains in northern and central Honshu.

Must Wear Robes In California

It's Unlawful For Judge To Hear Suit In A Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Starting next month, it will be against the law for a California judge to hear a suit in a suit.

In fact, this costume will be required for all trials, because a new state law says: "Every judge of a court of record shall in open court during presentation of causes before him wear a judicial robe which he shall furnish at his own expense."

Some judges have been wearing robes on their own, but others think very little of such fancy getup.

Superior Court Judge LeRoy Dawson, for example, calls the law "the most stupid piece of legislation I have ever heard of."

"I am waiting with bated breath," he said, "to see what kind of uniform the legislators order for themselves."

"Another effort to augment the principles of conformity that have been evident during the past 25 years in this country," grumbled Superior Court Judge Joseph L. Call.

Judge Call said he will conform. But he pointed to the state constitution, which says judges must swear to support and defend the state and federal constitutions — "and no other oath, declaration or test shall be required."

Superior Court Judge Arthur Crum, who has never owned a robe during his 28 years on the bench, commented: "I don't think you can make a judge out of a man simply by making him a clothes rack."

"Of such apostasy, take care — it blackens their reports.

"The Judgment Day will weigh their worth by canon 67:

New Principal Awaits Start Of Midland Parochial School

Sister Ermeline, novice mistress, has been appointed principal of the Midland's Presentation Parochial school by the Mt. Alvernia motherhouse at Millvale, Pa. The school will open Sept. 3. She succeeds Sister Margaretta who returned to the motherhouse in July for reassignment.

About 460 pupils are expected, about the same number as last term. Fr. Francis E. Paul, pastor, said. Teachers include seven sisters, six of whom are new, and three lay teachers including one newcomer.

Returning are Sister Florine and Joseph Martini and Miss Elizabeth Smelko.

Painting was completed last week on the exterior of the school and the rectory.

He said work is about to begin on two fire exits for the school and an additional exit to the boiler room. The work will be done by the Modany Brothers of Midland.

Work of clearing adjacent land for a new church and convent began last week by members of the parish, directed by George Cindrich and the Gengarella Brothers, who donated their time.

The convent house has been torn down and some 16 trees removed from behind the rectory and church and the land leveled. Two houses were on Ohio Ave. near the church torn down Monday.

The temporary convent house is at 801 Beaver Ave.

A model of the proposed church will be made by Joseph Bontempo, Rochester architect, to be displayed at the church.

Girl Bitten By Cat

LISBON—The Columbiana County Health Department is awaiting a report from the state laboratories on whether a cat was rabid when it bit Debra McCullough, 10, of Summitville Sunday. The girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McCollough and she was treated by a Salineville physician. The health department forwarded the pet's head for the examination after it was brought in by Constable Forrest Young.

Pupils To Use Church Room

There will be full-day classes Wednesday for all grades except first and second of the Western Beaver County School District, Frank A. Meredith, supervising principal, said.

He said arrangements have been completed with the Four-Mile United Presbyterian Church to rent three classrooms for Grades 3, 4 and 5.

The church will be used until the new Ray W. Snyder School is completed about Jan. 1, Meredith said.

First and second grades at Fairview School and Logan School will again be on half-day sessions. Fairview's schedule will be the same as last year. Grade 1 at Logan will report from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and Grade 2 will report from 12:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Most students will report at 8:30 a. m. The Fairview cafeteria will be open the first day. Prices will be the same as last year, 30 cents a day or $1.50 per week. Milk will be sold to children on half-day sessions at last year's price, 4 cents a day or 20 cents a week.

Tuition cards for high school students may be secured from Mrs. Evelyn Perine, Board of Education secretary, at the Fairview School any day except Saturday or Sunday between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. All students going to Midland Lincoln High School must have a card before they can be enrolled, Meredith said.

Bus schedules will be the same as last year.

The government estimates that about two billion dollars is spent on angling in the United States each year.

To Speed Highway Program

Lawrence Urges Public's Support On Gas Tax Boost

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Gov. David Lawrence urged the public Wednesday night to support his plan to hike the gasoline tax from five to six cents.

Such a tax boost is vitally needed to speed up the state's highway building program, Lawrence told a meeting of the Erie - Pittsburth - West Virginia Freeway Assn.

Robert S. Bates of Meadville, president of the association which is backing plans for building a 102-mile highway from Erie to Pittsburgh, indicated his group would give full support to the proposed gasoline tax increase.

Lawrence said his administration is fully aware of the importance of building the Erie-Pittsburgh highway and that it will be constructed as soon as possible.

Commenting on the highways department's progress on the highway, Lawrence said:

"North from Pittsburgh to Mercer, the department's consultants are in the preliminary engineering phase. This, of course, is the most difficult of the three steps in highway design — location, preliminary design and final design.

"When that second stage is completed the department will be able to call public hearings and proceed with the construction drawings."

A hearing is scheduled for Sept. 9 on the Zelienople bypass section. North of Mercer to Erie the department's consultant is working on location studies.

He also said major work proposed for the western tier area includes an "enormous project" to construct a Beaver Valley Expressway. It would link the Greater Pittsburgh Airport with the turnpike interchange north of Beaver Falls and latter possibly to Mercer, he added.

Air Force Crew Helps Army Launch Jupiter

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —An Air Force crew helped launch the Army's Jupiter missile on a 300-mile test flight Wednesday night.

The 60-foot Jupiter previously recorded 17 successes in 18 launchings over the maximum intermediate missile range of 1,500 miles. Wednesday night's shot was the first attempt to fly the missile at the minimum range.

Girard Strike Ends

NILES, Ohio (AP)—Some 180 workers at Hill-Hubbell Co. in nearby Girard returned to their jobs Wednesday after a two-day strike, pending negotiation of their grievance by the company and United Steelworkers Local 3793. A spokesman for the workers said the walkout was caused by a machine which allegedly produced excessive amounts of dust.

Bliss Offer Accepted To Acquire Concern

NEW YORK (AP)—Directors of E. W. Bliss Co. of Canton, Ohio, and the Gamewell Co. of Newton Upper Falls, Mass., have accepted Bliss' offer to acquire Gamewell, the firms announced Wednesday.

Bliss, makers of metalworking presses and rolling mills, already owns 30.56 per cent of Gamewell common outstanding.

To Speed Highway Program

Lawrence Urges Public's Support On Gas Tax Boost

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Gov. David Lawrence urged the public Wednesday night to support his plan to hike the gasoline tax from five to six cents.

Such a tax boost is vitally needed to speed up the state's highway building program, Lawrence told a meeting of the Erie - Pittsburth - West Virginia Freeway Assn.

Robert S. Bates of Meadville, president of the association which is backing plans for building a 102-mile highway from Erie to Pittsburgh, indicated his group would give full support to the proposed gasoline tax increase.

Lawrence said his administration is fully aware of the importance of building the Erie-Pittsburgh highway and that it will be constructed as soon as possible.

Commenting on the highways department's progress on the highway, Lawrence said:

"North from Pittsburgh to Mercer, the department's consultants are in the preliminary engineering phase. This, of course, is the most difficult of the three steps in highway design — location, preliminary design and final design.

"When that second stage is completed the department will be able to call public hearings and proceed with the construction drawings."

A hearing is scheduled for Sept. 9 on the Zelienople bypass section. North of Mercer to Erie the department's consultant is working on location studies.

"Preliminary engineering is under way for the Washington to Warrendale connection," Lawrence said.

He also said major work proposed for the western tier area includes an "enormous project" to construct a Beaver Valley Expressway. It would link the Greater Pittsburgh Airport with the turnpike interchange north of Beaver Falls and latter possibly to Mercer, he added.

Hancock PTA Plans 'School'

The Hancock County Council of Parent - Teacher Associations will hold its annual "School of Instruction" for officers, committee chairmen and delegates Monday at 7 p. m. in the Weirton Elementary School.

Mrs. Herman Bartlett of Wheeling, director of Region D of the West Virginia PTA Congress, will be in charge. The meeting will not duplicate the instruction given at three district workshops held in July.

Those attending are to receive information, instruction and an outline of the year's activities.

This year's theme is "Strengthening County Unity Through Understanding." The first phase will be a bus tour of the county schools by representatives from each unit.

This is to promote and encourage familiarity with the county system, Mrs. Matthew Javersak of Weirton, president, commented. Mrs. Emil Lawton is president of the host unit for the initial meeting. Mrs. Andrew Reese is hospitality chairman, according to Mrs. Charles Wagner of Chester, publicity chairman for the northern part of the county.

'Ministering Spirits' To Be Pastor's Theme

"Ministering Spirits" will be the subject of Pastor Elmon H. Roy at the 11:30 a. m. worship Saturday at the Seventh - day Adventist Church. The Young People's Choir will sing.

An offering will be received for Oakwood College, Adventist, co-educational institution near Huntsville, Ala. Funds will be used in the school's "million-dollar expansion program."

Sabbath School will convene at 10 a. m.

Saturday night, the Young People's Society will attend a singspiration in Cleveland. The special service, attended by youth from over Northeastern Ohio, will begin at 6:30. Representing East Liverpool will be Karen Bowers, who will play a piano solo, and Adelbert and Brigette Kober and Edith Schmidt, vocal trio.

2 New Cases Of TB Reported For County

LISBON — A report of the Board of Trustees of the Columbiana County Tuberculosis Control Clinic showed two new cases listed with the State Health Department during July.

Mrs. Geneva Brown, technician, took 160 chest X-rays and Dr. Francis Kravec, clinic director, held 21 consulations with patients. One patient was admitted to a sanatorium, two were discharged and one died.

Staff nurses made 232 home visits to patients. Funds for operating the clinic in the Courthouse come from the TB levy, which has been renewed every five years.

Wittenberg Awards $702,251 In Contracts

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Contracts totaling $702,251 for the first two units of a seminary center have been awarded by Wittenberg College.

A dormitory and a classroom section will be started Sept. 17 when the college attains university status. A third section, to be built in about two years, will contain a teaching chapel and refectory. They will be part of the Hamma Divinity School.

Rogers Construction Co. of Springfield was awarded the contract.

HE'S REAL FAIR FAN. One of the few persons who can boast of never having missed any of Columbiana County's Fairs in his lifetime is Clyde Lodge, 72, pictured at the fairgrounds in Lisbon, where the 114th fair is under way. Lodge, a retired oil and gas driller residing near Lisbon, predicted that the 1959 edition will be "the best in 20 years." He cited "better horses, better transportation and a better Fair Board." Lodge said he was brought to his first fair in 1887 while only a few months old and has managed to attend each since. Apparently in perfect health, the old-timer declared that he would wrestle anyone his own age for $50 in front of the main grandstand providing his opponent had no professional experience. Any challengers???

Danny Kaye's Wife Gifted

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Everybody has a desire to know the future," said Sylvia Fine.

"Most people read their astrological charts in the morning. I wait and read mine in the evening—to find out what kind of day I had."

Sylvia, wife of Danny Kaye, is a woman of brilliant wit and talent and unconventional ways. She is a gifted composer who has written a hundred songs, and the music for eleven films.

"I write to order mostly," she said. "And I can write anywhere, anytime."

Sylvia, daughter of a dentist, and Danny, son of an immigrant tailor, were both born in Brooklyn and grew up there only a few blocks apart. But they never met until 1939. They were married the next year, and climbed the heights of show business together.

"A lot of people are under the impression that I handle the business, and do most of Danny's thinking for him," she says.

"That's not true. He has one of the quickest, brightest, most instinctively intelligent minds I've ever met."

"I believe in inspiration, of course," she said. "But inspiration is merely the difference between a creative and a noncreative mind."

One thing Sylvia doesn't share with her husband—his hobby.

"Danny has many doctor friends and on his days off likes to watch them perform operations," she said.

"I'm interested in medicine—there were five doctors in our family—but I'm not an operation-watcher."

"It is enormously important to do everything the best you can," she says. "Never consciously give less than your best in anything, in human relations as well as your work.

"It is important, too, to remember that every day is a new day, and to make the best of it and enjoy it. The happiest people I know do that.

$17 Million Part Of Interstate Highway Opened

HEBRON, Ohio (AP)—A 17-million-dollar segment of Interstate Highway 70 was opened in Licking County Wednesday.

The new road runs parallel to and south of the familiar U.S. 40 which now becomes Ohio 440. The new highway will be designated both U.S. 40 and Interstate 70.

There are no filling stations, motels or other businesses on the new road, which is accessible only from interchanges south of by-passed villages.

The super road replaces a section of the historic National Road first built in 1828-33 at a cost of $5,000 a mile. The superhighway cost about $772,000 a mile.

Ticket Devices Seen Unlikely For Turnpike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Although the New Jersey Turnpike authority is experimenting with self-service toll ticket machines, Ohio's Turnpike chief says he would "hesitate to remove the human element" from turnpike gates.

The machines dole out turnpike toll tickets automatically. James W. Shocknessy, chairman of Ohio's toll road, said, however, an attendant can provide travel information and other assistance the machines can't.

Biggest Gas Producer

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—A 3,136-foot well six miles south of here is being described as the biggest natural gas producer in Ashtabula County history. The well, brought in Tuesday, is producing 20,520,000 cubic feet a day, the Felmont Gas & Oil Co. of Bradford, Pa. reported Wednesday.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

3 CARD OF THANKS

WE wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the death of our beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mollie Myers. Special thanks to Rev. Gleaton, pallbearers and Mr. Arner of Arner Funeral Home and all who assisted in any way.
Mrs. Ora Wright, Herlie Myers, and grandchildren.

WE wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages and words of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from our kind friends, relatives and neighbors and their helpfulness during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved sister and aunt. We especially thank the Rev. Emanuel Emanuel, members of Rebekah Lodge and Dawson funeral service. — The Deringer Family.

Danny Kaye's Wife Gifted

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Everybody has a desire to know the future," said Sylvia Fine.

"Most people read their astrological charts in the morning. I wait and read mine in the evening—to find out what kind of day I had."

Sylvia, wife of Danny Kaye, is a woman of brilliant wit and talent and unconventional ways. She is a gifted composer who has written a hundred songs, and the music for eleven films.

She isn't the kind of artist who finds her inspiration in an atmosphere of moonlight and roses.

"I write to order mostly," she said. "And I can write anywhere, anytime."

Sylvia, daughter of a dentist, and Danny, son of an immigrant tailor, were both born in Brooklyn and grew up there only a few blocks apart. But they never met until 1939. They were married the next year, and climbed the heights of show business together.

"A lot of people are under the impression that I handle the business, and do most of Danny's thinking for him," she says.

"That's not true. He has one of the quickest, brightest, most instinctively intelligent minds I've ever met."

"I believe in inspiration, of course," she said. "But inspiration is merely the difference between a creative and a noncreative mind."

One thing Sylvia doesn't share with her husband—his hobby.

"Danny has many doctor friends and on his days off likes to watch them perform operations," she said.

"I'm interested in medicine—there were five doctors in our family—but I'm not an operation-watcher."

"It is enormously important to do everything the best you can," she says. "Never consciously give less than your best in anything, in human relations as well as your work.

"It is important, too, to remember that every day is a new day, and to make the best of it and enjoy it. The happiest people I know do that.

$17 Million Part Of Interstate Highway Opened

HEBRON, Ohio (AP)—A 17-million-dollar segment of Interstate Highway 70 was opened in Licking County Wednesday.

The new road runs parallel to and south of the familiar U.S. 40 which now becomes Ohio 440. The new highway will be designated both U.S. 40 and Interstate 70.

There are no filling stations, motels or other businesses on the new road, which is accessible only from interchanges south of bypassed villages.

Ticket Devices Seen Unlikely For Turnpike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Although the New Jersey Turnpike authority is experimenting with self-service toll ticket machines, Ohio's Turnpike chief says he would "hesitate to remove the human element" from turnpike gates.

The machines dole out turnpike toll tickets automatically. James W. Shocknessy, chairman of Ohio's toll road, said, however, an attendant can provide travel information and other assistance the machines can't.

Biggest Gas Producer

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—A 3,136-foot well six miles south of here is being described as the biggest natural gas producer in Ashtabula County history. The well, brought in Tuesday, is producing 20,520,000 cubic feet a day, the Felmont Gas & Oil Co. of Bradford, Pa. reported Wednesday.

NOTICE OF ELECTION ON TAX LEVY IN EXCESS OF THE TEN MILL LIMITATION
Rev. Code, Secs. 345.03; 3501.11(G); 5705.191, 5705.25

NOTICE is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Board of Education of the Southern Local School District, Columbiana County, Ohio, passed on the 17th day of June, 1959, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said Southern Local School District at a GENERAL ELECTION to be held in the Southern Local School District, Columbiana County, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 1959, the question of levying a tax, in excess of the ten mill limitation, for the benefit of the Southern Local School District for the purpose of providing an adequate amount for current expenses in said school district.

Said tax being a renewal of two existing levies of three (3) mills and two (2) mills to constitute a tax of five (5) mills to run for five (5) years at a rate not exceeding five (5) mills for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to fifty cents ($0.50) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for each of the tax years 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962 and 1963, including a levy upon the tax duplicate of the current year.

The Polls for said Election will be open at 6:30 o'clock A. M. and remain open until 6:30 o'clock P. M. Eastern Standard Time of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections, of Columbiana County, Ohio.
C. L. Stacey, chairman
Frank R. O'Hanlon, Clerk
Dated June 17, 1959.

3 CARD OF THANKS

WE wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the death of our beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mollie Myers. Special thanks to Rev. Gleaton, pallbearers and Mr. Arner of Arner Funeral Home and all who assisted in any way.
Mrs. Ora Wright, Herlie Myers, and grandchildren.

WE wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages and words of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from our kind friends, relatives and neighbors and their helpfulness during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved sister and aunt. We especially thank the Rev. Emanuel Emanuel, members of Rebekah Lodge and Dawson funeral service. — The Dertinger Family.

AMAZING NEW PURITRON®
HAILED BY DOCTORS
FOR RELIEF OF
HAY FEVER, ASTHMA, SINUS, ALLERGIES

A remarkable new "Puritron" has been developed by electronic scientists. It is being acclaimed by doctors after they buy it and see it work in their own homes, for their own families—and for their patients in their offices and operating rooms.

PURITRON clears any room of irritating dust, odors, pollen and smoke. It's better than a kitchen exhaust fan.

READ WHAT DOCTORS AND USERS SAY ABOUT PURITRON!

"Surpassed all expectations. Performs miracles for a dust allergy patient" (Pennsylvania doctor) . . . "For the first time I woke up without sinus trouble" New Jersey MD) . . . "Controlled a stubborn form of respiratory allergy in my daughter, age 5" (Southern physician)

"First time in 13 years my son has slept with his mouth closed . . . not fighting to breathe. No sore throat, no cracked lips. To the inventor and manufacturer, my thanks." ● "Tried so far only one day and found it gave marvelous relief. Thanks!" ● "I get asthma with hay fever and that's why I bought Puritron. Believe me it is wonderful. Makes me breathe easier . . . and sleep.

AMAZING NEW PURITRON®
HAILED BY DOCTORS
FOR RELIEF OF
HAY FEVER, ASTHMA, SINUS, ALLERGIES

Just plug in; it's portable!

A remarkable new "Puritron" has been developed by electronic scientists. It is being acclaimed by doctors after they buy it and see it work in their own homes, for their own families—and for their patients in their offices and operating rooms.

PURITRON clears any room of irritating dust, odors, pollen and smoke. It's better than a kitchen exhaust fan.

READ WHAT DOCTORS AND USERS SAY ABOUT PURITRON!

"Surpassed all expectations. Performs miracles for a dust allergy patient" (Pennsylvania doctor) . . . "For the first time I woke up without sinus trouble" New Jersey MD) . . . "Controlled a stubborn form of respiratory allergy in my daughter, age 5" (Southern physician)

"First time in 13 years my son has slept with his mouth closed . . . not fighting to breathe. No sore throat, no cracked lips. To the inventor and manufacturer, my thanks." ● "Tried so far only one day and found it gave marvelous relief. Thanks!" ● "I get asthma with hay fever and that's why I bought Puritron. Believe me it is wonderful. Makes me breathe easier . . . and sleep.

We're Sure

DOWNTOWN—Cheerful three bedroom home with slate roof, good siding, two porches, downstairs newly carpeted, modern bath, basement and new gas furnace. Fenced back yard—big enough, but not too big. $8,500

SHERWOOD—One story modern, four rooms and bath with basement garage. This one is only 5 years old and doesn't need a thing inside or outside. Of course it has gas furnace, modern kitchen and bath, hardwood floors, automatic water heater and all the nice features. Only $13,000

LA CROFT, NEAR 7TH AVE. BUS STOP—Four rooms and bath, with garage, excellent patios with plenty of shade trees. The living room is carpeted with the finest sculptured wall to wall carpet and both bedrooms are carpeted wall to wall too. It's plastered and paneled, and their high fuel bill was under $20.00 for the coldest month last winter. Enough said until you see it at $11,000

these are worth the money

DOWNTOWN—Cheerful three bedroom home with slate roof, good siding, two porches, downstairs newly carpeted, modern bath, basement and new gas furnace. Fenced back yard—big enough, but not too big. $8,500

SHERWOOD—One story modern, four rooms and bath with basement garage. This one is only 5 years old and doesn't need a thing inside or outside. Of course it has gas furnace, modern kitchen and bath, hardwood floors, automatic water heater and all the nice features. Only $13,000

LA CROFT, NEAR 7TH AVE. BUS STOP—Four rooms and bath, with garage, excellent patios with plenty of shade trees. The living room is carpeted with the finest sculptured wall to wall carpet and both bedrooms are carpeted wall to wall too. It's plastered and paneled, and their high fuel bill was under $20.00 for the coldest month last winter. Enough said until you see it at $11,000

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Something happened which dates back to your column on ironing bed sheets. Now I have a problem.

My husband wrote me a note this morning. It said, "Unless you are sick, dying or dead, I expect my shorts to be ironed and in my bureau drawer when I come home. Love, Lou."

I've never ironed Lou's shorts in the 12 years we've been married and he never complained—until now. I decided I wasn't going to spoil him at this late date so I did not iron his shorts. I cleaned out his closet instead.

Tonight when he came home he kissed me affectionately and headed right for the bedroom to check on the shorts. They were in his bureau drawer, folded neatly but NOT IRONED!

He said nothing but I could see he was disappointed. You've put me in a bad spot, Ann. Please give me your frank opinion. Should a wife who has never ironed her husband's shorts start after 12 years?—KATHLEEN.

Dear Kathleen: Well—here we go again! There are all kinds of husbands in this world. Some couldn't care less whether their shorts are ironed or not. Others complain if their handkerchiefs aren't lined up just so.

In my opinion it is not unreasonable for a man to want his shorts ironed. If your husband has decided after 12 years that he'd like ironed shorts—then iron 'em.

You'll burn up less energy ironing seven pairs of shorts a week than arguing about it. I promise, Kathleen, if you begin to iron Lou's shorts he'll stand on his head to please you.

'Go Away Closer'

Dear Ann: A certain boy has made such a pest of himself that I need advice on how to shake him.

He phones almost every night and I can't shut him off. He comes over during supper when he knows I'll be home. When I see him through the window I hide in the closet and ask my folks to tell him I just left. He has bought me some expensive presents (the last one was a wrist watch). It's embarrassing.

How can I get it through his head once and for all that I'm not interested and I wish he'd leave me alone?—DI.

Dear Di: You can't shake this guy because you've been giving him the "away closer" routine. You enjoy having him run after you.

Your family should not participate in this cheap conspiracy. If they really want to be helpful they should help wrap and return the gifts and assist you in composing a couple of farewell sentences.

One-Time Loser

Dear Ann: Please tell "Just John" to beg his wife to join AA before it's too late. Tell her she shouldn't worry about it not being "dignified enough." I never had as much dignity as I now have, since I am a sober woman.

My drinking cost me plenty. I lost a perfectly wonderful husband. My family looked on me with pity, then disgust. My teenage daughters were ashamed to have me meet their friends.

Tell John he must give his wife extra love and understanding. He must explain to her that she has a disease. Alcoholism is a disease just like heart trouble or diabetes. She may be defensive at first but this is a symptom of alcoholism. Inwardly she hates herself and is filled with remorse and guilt.

I had sunk as low as a woman could but I came back through AA. And so can your wife, John—IF she wants to.—LOOZIANNA.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

About Union Leader's Actions

Rackets Probers Squabble In Testimony On Ohioan

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats and Republicans on the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee are fighting over the significance of testimony concerning activities of an Ohio union leader.

Democrats such as Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts are inclined to scoff. Republican such as Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota profess to be shocked at the findings.

The argument is over the ethics of some of the activities attributed to Gosser and his aides by a former international representative who once worked for Gosser.

This man, Jess F. Motsinger of Detroit, testified, among other things, that he had to give $5 a week to a Gosser "flower fund." This was described as a fund for financing union political fights.

It amounts, he said, to saying: "Look chum, you have to kick in on my bank account or flower fund to hold that job."

Kennedy doesn't look at it that way at all. He saw nothing wrong with it so long as Motsinger knew before taking the job that the payment was understood to be a condition of employment.

In a dispute with Mundt at a committee session last week, Kennedy put it this way:

"I do not see anything wrong with the UAW asking him to contribute to a political fund which would be used by the leadership group in the UAW.

"What I would consider wrong would be if the members, the working people in the plant, were required to contribute, as a condition of maintaining their union membership, dues to the flower fund."

Some of the Democrats accuse the GOP of trying to make the investigation help the re-election campaigns of two committee members: Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) and Mundt.

Much of the investigation traces back to an intra - union fight against Gosser in Toledo in 1950. Democratic members of the committee staff looked into this more than a year ago and decided it was not worth pursuing.

Now the Republicans, using their own staff employes, have revived the whole thing.

Immunization Clinics Are Set For Hancock

The Hancock County Health Department at New Cumberland today announced the September schedule for immunization clinics for Chester, Newell, New Cumberland and Weirton residents.

Dates are: Chester — Tuesday and Sept. 15; Newell — Sept. 8 and 22; New Cumberland — Wednesday and Sept. 16; Weirton — Sept. 3, 10, 17 and 24.

Chester clinics will be from 10 a. m. to noon in the Hancock County Federal Savings & Loan Association building. In Newell, clinics are held in the Aaron Building. The Health Department building serves New Cumberland residents, and shots are given to Weirton residents in the Christian Center.

Salvation Army Picnic Will Be Held Friday

The Salvation Army will hold its annual Sunday School picnic Friday at Tomlinson Run State Park near Pughtown.

Transportation will be available from the citadel at 11 a. m. The outing will be held at the Hilltop pavilion and will be marked by a red shield and traditional flags.

Each family is to bring a picnic basket for lunch and supper. The corps will furnish refreshments.

There will be devotional periods at 1 and 6 p. m. and recreational activities will include swimming, boating, playground and novelty races.

Ice Cream Vendor Held Up By Youths

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Ice cream vender Edward Taylor said three youths stepped toward his small truck from a car Wednesday, demanded some 10-cent ice cream items and refused to pay.

Taylor objected, he said, until one of them drew what looked like a pistol and snarled, "How about it now?" Taylor said he stopped protesting and gave them 50 cents.

County Answered On Food Proposal

LISBON — Replies have been received by Columbiana County commissioners in connection with their request for a greater variety of surplus foods for the needy.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays' office replied that at Washington he is absent but it will be brought to his attention upon his return. He is in Russia. Frank Lausche advised that this has already been called to the attention of the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and he is awaiting a reply of the two agencies as to whether additional assistance can be provided under the existing laws.

Sen. Stephen M. Young said he is in complete agreement with the commissions and has already cosponsored a bill in the Senate to transfer the administration of the program for distribution of surplus commodities to needy persons and he hopes that early action will be taken on this or similar legislation.

At present, the only surplus foods the county receives are dried eggs, milk, flour and rice and commissioners complained the cost of so few articles makes the program "very expensive."

Canton Man Fined

LISBON — Otis R. Radford, 52, of Canton was fined $35 and costs Wednesday by Mayor John Todd for failing to yield the right - of-way. Janice Lee Smith, 19, of Hanoverton R. D. forfeited $10 for driving left of center. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.
